Fire Board Heats Up by Evan Kramer

The Port Orford Rural Fire Board met in their regular session on Tuesday evening, December 14. One of the Board's five elected members, Doyle Greene, had recently been killed in a tragic automobile accident. The Board was faced with the decision of appointing someone to take Doyle's place.

Being on the board I made a motion to nominate Bill McMullen to fill the position with a second by Brice Wagner. When the vote was called for Wagner and I voted for McMullen. Board members Bill Foster and Lou Cobb supported the appointment of Frank Barrows. The Board remained deadlocked with 2 in favor of McMullen and 2 supporting Barrows despite much discussion on the merits of the two men. An offer to make a decision by flipping a coin was turned down.

It takes a majority vote of the Board to appoint a member. Based on Oregon Regulatory Statue section 195 regarding succession on special taxing district boards the decision was sent to the Curry County Board of Commissioners. At their Monday, January 3, meeting they chose to meet on the Rural Fire Board appointment on Monday morning, January 10, at 11:30am in Gold Beach at the Courthouse Annex. The meeting is open to the public.

So what's it all about? The Port Orford Rural Fire District is a special taxing district that exists for the purpose of providing fire protection to the residents within its boundaries. The district does not include the City of Port Orford. It does take in the urban growth boundaries north of the city including properties along the south and western sides of Elk River up to the state owned fish hatchery. The southern boundary includes Hubbard Creek, China Mountain and Fir Road.

The Fire District owns a fire station located on Elk River Road. The land was donated by the Marsh family who have just recently donated an adjoining parcel. This will enable the District to build a new building and more than double it's capacity. The District's 1993-94 budget included $30,000 for construction of the new fire station.

The District owns several pieces of fire fighting equipment including one KW tanker, one Desert Storm air force tanker (capacity 5,000 gallons), one very old Diamond T fire truck which you get to see every Fourth Of July, and several other vehicles.

The District doesn't have a fire department. Instead, it contracts out to the City of Port Orford for fire protection. It pays $12,000 a year to the city for this service. For that $12,000 we the taxpayers get quite a lot. Dial 911 if there's a fire and you live within the district and you'll get all the needed resources of the city and rural district at your door as soon as possible.

The District has been collecting more taxes than it needs to pay for equipment, maintenance, and the city contract. It has been saving to buy a fire truck to replace the 1953 Diamond T truck. It has accumulated over $200,000. Seems like a lot but brand spanking new fire trucks can cost that much and more.

An alternative to purchasing a new fire truck built to district specifications is purchase of a used truck. There are plenty of them for sale. Many departments don't keep their equipment as long as we do here. The City of Portland rotates their equipment on a five year basis. Recently the North Bay fire district had a gas powered fully equipped fire truck for sale in the neighborhood of $45,000. We missed a chance to see that one, but other good deals do come up.

The Board's goal has been the purchase of a new truck but it's not written on stone tablets delivered from on high. "Thou shalt buy a new fire truck. Thou shalt not covet thy neighboring district's used fire truck." The reason for the Board's inability to reach a majority decision on selecting a replacement for Doyle Greene is the struggle for control. McMullen leans toward purchase of a used piece of fire fighting equipment. The savings could be used to build an

Letter to the Editor

Dear Evan:

Thank you for listening during the many times I've ranted and raved about our sick, weak elected representatives.

Please allow me to give you a couple of instances which, in my opinion, indicate we have a diffident, ineffective Congress.

Spending Our Money

Recently, the House of Representatives argued for over two weeks over the issue of whether or not to provide 57 million dollars to the victims of Mississippi river flood.

This same group of idiots voted on foreign aid to the tune of billions of dollars. For example, Israel is given aid every year, the amount for 1992 was 4,746 million. Nearly every county on the face of the earth receives gifts from the United States every year. The figure for foreign aid worldwide was 14,784 million in 1992. So you see, the U.S. Congress provides our tax money to the world, while they demonstrate reluctance to take care of their own citizens.

N.A.F.T.A. Trade Agreements

History will, I am sure, prove N.A.F.T.A. to be detrimental to the workers of the United States. Many people are convinced that products made in Mexico will be cheaper in the U.S. due to the 59¢ per hour minimum wage in Mexico. As proof that that theory is false, one only has to look at the Nike shoe fiasco. Nike shoes are made in East Asia, where workers are paid 38¢ per hour, yet our citizens pay in excess of $100 per pair.

Incidentally, of the seven elected representatives from Oregon, only two voted against N.A.F.T.A. (DeFazio and Furse)

So the within are only two examples that give rise to my ranting and writing.

Sincerely,

Leonard Foster

BLANCO MIDDLE SCHOOL

Here's what is happening in Science at Blanco Middle School:

The proposed "Blanco Middle School Outdoor Classroom", or Land Lab, will provide a vital experience in an outdoor school setting and allow for (1) the revegetation of a watershed area and (2) increased student understandings of important interrelationships between environmental resources and human needs. The project will provide an appropriate, continuously renewing, hands-on learning environment for students.

The project aims to create an outdoor classroom on a sixteen-acre plot located directly behind the school. Seven clearcut acres provide the opportunity to develop a reforestation project which will also deal with real problems of erosion, watershed concerns, and a range of environmental issues.

The goals of the project are to integrate the environmental sciences into the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade curriculums as students study forestry techniques and forestry management procedures, life science, and soil and water conservation.

Students will exhibit improved understandings and attitudes toward issues of natural resources and human needs and the necessity for responsible decision making.

Here's what is happening in Math at Blanco Middle School:

Caller ID

The phone company has made a new service available to telephone subscribers effective January 4th - Caller ID. This feature allows you to see the name and number of the person calling you, so you know to whom you are talking.

Now if you are being bothered by nuisance calls, you at least know who is calling and can call back to complain! Unfortunately, the phone company also offers a blocking service to prevent a number from being displayed. Still, this should be a big step forward in cleaning up all the phone solicitors and others who annoy people with unwanted calls!

Gold Beach Receives Two Grants

The Gold Beach Promotion committee was notified last week that it was the recipient of two separate matching fund grants for which they had submitted. The City of Gold Beach, Oregon requests were approved by both the Oregon Tourism Division's Matching Grant Program (lottery dollars) and the Cycle Oregon 1994 Grant Program.

Thursday brought the news that the Oregon Tourism Division had awarded $4,000 to the City of Gold Beach for the purpose of further promoting the area. The grant is targeted to update a "Day trip" brochure that gives tourists a guide to things to do in the area during their visit. The brochure will highlight local activities along with interesting things to do along the Southern Oregon coast. The grant will also help fund re-editing of the 1985 Gold Beach video to sell and to use as a promotional tool with members the tourism industry.

On Friday the good news continued, when the city was notified that the $5,000 Cycle Oregon grant had also been approved. The grant also is designed to fund the purchase of the necessary start gate and lights required for Gold Beach to conduct sanctioned BMX racing.

The combination of both grants, equaling a sum of $9,000 will be matched by funds or "in-kind" services from the City of Gold Beach, the Gold Beach Chamber of Commerce, The Curry County Reporter, Curry County Fairgrounds and local merchants.
