April showers bring May flowers!

Corrections by Evan Kramer

We really did it this time. In last week's front page article we ended with a statement that the next meeting of the Port Orford Watershed Council was on Wednesday, April 3. We were wrong. The meeting is on April 13, the second Wednesday in April. Meetings for this council are held the second and fourth Thursday's of the month at 7:00pm in the Port Orford city hall council chambers are open to public attendance and input. The Elk River Watershed council holds its first meeting on Thursday, April 14, at 7:00pm, at the Sixes Grange Hall.

The next meeting of the Port Orford City Council is scheduled for Monday evening, April 11, at 7:00pm in the council chambers. This will be the council's first meeting since the council fired city manager Dean Madison who was given a two month notice of termination, effective May 27.

Frank Hilton, the lawyer hired by the city to file an injunction on its behalf, will attend the city council meeting. At this point Mr. Hilton has not filed the injunction. He did go to court on March 10 where a deal was worked out between the city and Mr. Busaman's lawyer. When Dean Madison came back to the city council meeting and explained this deal it met with general hostility and the council again made a motion to file an injunction against Busamann. Maybe

Mr. Hilton can provide more insight into the problems with filing this injunction.

Port Orford heads towards its first big public event of the year in one month. The Port Orford Arts Festival is set for the weekend of Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 6-8. The Festival long-sleeve T-shirts and sweatshirts are now on sale. You can find them for sale at three places around town: Port Orford Pharmacy, Rick Cook Gallery and the Grantland Mayfield Gallery. T-shirts are $15.00 while the sweatshirts sell for $20.00. The winning design which graces the front of the shirts this year was done by local artist Donna Roselius. It has proven to be quite a hit with the public.

The Arts Festival schedule is now complete and ready to print. It will be available at the end of this week. The flyer includes two maps, one of the Arts Festival events within Port Orford and another giving you directions to the events outside of Port Orford. Altogether there are 17 places holding some kind of show or demonstration ranging from the Roaring Sea Gallery hosting creative egg painting, silk dyeing, art and weaving demonstrations to the second annual "My Other Life" art show at the Lichtig Law Office to the 12th Annual Countywide Student Art Show at Driftwood Elementary School. Ernie Malasky told me they need volunteers to help hang the art work on the walls at the school the evening before the show begins. Tawanda Center for Art and Earth Studies has a new location this year. They've moved from the Steelblue Chameleon Lodge to their new place next to Driftwood Elementary School. Arts Festival will give people a chance to visit the historic Hughes House which will hold an open house from 10:00am - 5:00pm all three days.

The flyers will soon be all over town in many businesses and will be reprinted in this paper in the May 5 edition.

Speaking of flyers and promotion the Coastal Rivers Scenic Loop booklet is now available. This 50 page spiral bound book covers a scenic loop from Bandon to Port Orford to Gold Beach to Agness to Powers to Coquille to Bandon. Some of the local people who contributed work, including writing and photos, to this effort are Karen Biondo, city councilor Carl Eakelson, John Houtrow and Mike Hewitt. The booklet contains some natural history of the areas, information about the rivers and forests, some history of the Native American tribes, and lots of other good stuff. The booklet is available at the Chamber of Commerce visitor's center and, if you're like me and write to people outside the area, it makes a nice addition to a letter.

Happy Birthday to my father who would have been 84 on April 6. He died 7 1/2 years ago. I'm not sure if you get to keep counting in a situation like this but it gives me a day to focus my attention on him. We sure do miss him and his great sense of humor.

The Garden Column
By Tord Augland
Trondheim, Norway
Today's Topic: Slugs

If you are into gardening at all, you have experienced what a nuisance slugs can be. They brutally attack the vegetables you so enthusiastically planted.

Luckily, there are solutions to this problem! Fighting slugs is relatively easy, for two reasons:

- 1) Slugs are slow,
- 2) Slugs like moisture.

Reason number 1 makes it easy to locate slugs. Makes sure they are heading for your vegetables before you decide whether to kill them or divert them.

If you do not want to kill the beast (due to soft heartedness, Gastropodafobia or fear of local Animal Rights activists), you can lead them in another direction.

Elk River Watershed Council Meeting

Thursday, April 14, is the date set for the first meeting of the Elk River Watershed Council. The meeting will begin at 7:00pm at the Sixes Grange. Perhaps the most important item to be discussed will be whether to have a joint council with Sixes River. Among other items to discuss will be how many people on the council, how to set goals and how often to meet. All interested parties are invited to attend.

The Port Orford Chamber of Commerce needs your help for the Fourth of July Dingy races held offshore at Battle Rock Park. They need 2 safety boats for this event which is part of the Fourth of July Jubilee celebration. Contact Ernie Malasky at 332-3281 if you can provide a safety boat.

This can be done with food. Find out what your slugs favorite plant is and persuade your neighbor to grow it. You need to be patient and convincing to succeed. Make holes in the fence big enough for the slugs to crawl through and fill them in as soon as you see the last slug disappear.

Liquidation of the intruders might be an option, if you are the more rugged type of a gardener. I won't go into much detail, but a rifle should do the trick. Or you could try a heavy steam roller on a hard base support. Dynamite is quite effective, but remember to use enough of it!

Reason number 2 calls for prevention strategies.

Make sure no water enters your garden! Stop watering, put up the umbrellas, etc. No slug thrives in a desert. Another idea is to sprinkle some bonemeal on the ground, just enough to keep the slugs busy building their houses. If you put out some beautiful shells, the homeless slugs might rush to them and completely forget about your vegetables!

Finally, there is the solution of letting nature do the work. Moles and ducks are cheap and likeable. Hedgehogs can also be used, but not in combination with the steam roller.

Next week: "We've got moles in our yard, what shall we do?"

Letter to the Editor:

After reading the response letter in which Mr. Jeff Loan stated, that he held residence in two places at one time, I am perplexed, it is my understanding that a person is only allowed to have one official residence. The residence is used on your driver's license (which by law must be changed within one month of establishing a new residence), and you may only register to vote in the county of your official residence.

Perhaps Mr. Loan will give us the dates when these changes were recorded with the DMV and the voter registration board.

Oregon Symphony

Tickets go on sale this week for the May 26 performance of the Oregon Symphony at the Coquille Community Building. As part of its annual Regional Touring Program supported by a National Endowment for the Arts Challenge Grant, the tour will include stops in Coquille, Newport, and Tillamook during the last week in May. Their local performance is a joint sponsorship by the City of Coquille, the Coquille Performing Arts Council, and Carbon Energy International.

The symphony will present a Boston Pops repertoire, led by Associate Conductor Norman Leyden. A dedicated musician, Leyden finds time in his busy schedule to practice the clarinet every day and often adds extra sizzle to his pops and big band programs by performing with the orchestra. A San Jose newspaper describes him as a "triple threat on the podium: conductor, arranger, and one of those marvelous jazz clarinetists who can bend backward into a perfect C while hitting a few good licks." He was chief arranger for the Glenn Miller Orchestra from 946-49, as well as working with Mitch Miller, Frank Sinatra, Tony Bennett and Sarah Vaughan. He was musical director for Arthur Godfrey from 1956-59. To date he has conducted more than 30 leading American symphonies including the Boston Pops and the San Francisco Symphony.

Tickets for the event are on sale at all Security Bank locations in the county. Prices are $6.50 for under 18 and $9.00 for adults in advance and $7.50 and $10.00 the day of the performance. A special family ticket price which will admit five family members is $30 in advance or $35 at the door. For more information, call Coquille City Promotions at 396-5131.

COMPUTERS

by Colin Stevens

A computer is a very strange thing;
It's always making beeps and rings.
But it's nice to have one around the house;
You can do your homework and print it out.

One day as I turned our computer on (it was getting old and tattered),
It literally shattered.
I'm sure, I'm positive it wasn't me;
I didn't even touch it--honestly.

Horse Show Highlights

A windless day dawned cool and clear to greet exhibitors at the recent Cedar Grove Farm sponsored spring schooling show held at Buffington Park arena. Thirty four riders displayed their exceptional showmanship and equestrian skills at the day long show.

The opening flag ceremony lent an air of pageantry to the days events.

Performance classes included both english and western events. Three age groups as well as green horse, green rider and ponies competed for awards. In the Amaze! Your Horse Trail course the horses were truly amazed.

High scoring rider in the junior division, on her speeding black pony "Sparky", was Melissa Weinblatt of Port Orford.

Linda Edger, of Klamath, California, received the reserve high point adult award. Lisa Holm of Gold Beach, showed her exemplary riding abilities by taking home the high point ribbon in adult.

In the senior division, Bonnie Bacon of Crescent City, was awarded a high point ribbon and presented with a spring bouquet of flowers.

Four gymnkhana (game) events were also offered in open class. High scoring speed eventer was Melissa Barnes of Port Orford.

This is an appeal for volunteers to man the Port Orford Chamber of Commerce office-visitor's building at Battle Rock Park.

Tourists are very important to our community. Perhaps some of our citizens resent the extra traffic or other impact that tourism has on our community. But, think about the income derived from our visitors! Many of our citizens depend on jobs both seasonal and full time based upon tourist trade.

Some of our volunteers have given out literature that encouraged visitors to spend the night in Port Orford. This resulted in bed tax funds. Our bed tax supplies funds for many community projects, which not only benefit the tourists but also benefit our town all year.

The Chamber hopes to be able to hire a part time manager, should funds become available. Meanwhile, we have been fortunate that few very faithful volunteers have staffed the visitor's center as much as their time has allowed.

We desperately need more individuals that will volunteer four hours per week, month or any time at all. Weekends are particularly hard to staff. Please help keep our center open.

Should you be willing to volunteer, please call the temporary volunteer coordinator, Jim Grantland, at 332-6610.

The next meeting of the Port Orford Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for noon, April 11, at the Wheelhouse Restaurant. It is a board meeting but is open to all. The next general membership meeting of the Chamber is scheduled for noon, April 25, at the Port and Starboard Restaurant.
