Humor

Don't Leave Home Without It! by Evan Kramer

I wish I had thought of the catchy little phrase "Humor, Don't Leave Home Without It!". Fortunately Gayle Wilcox at Sea Breeze Florist did and instead of advertising the next holiday on her outdoor sign she had that statement on it. I most certainly did a double take as I drove toward Battle Rock Park past her store and sign. Especially coming off the heavy feelings generated by the spring political primary election it seemed like a pleasant reminder of what's been missing. What's that old saying, smile and the world smiles with you, laugh and the world laughs with you, slip and fall on a banana peel and the world laughs at you.

This weekend the nation observes Memorial Day. Banks, schools, post offices, government offices and even some private businesses will close on Monday honoring those who gave their lives for this country in military service. Following Memorial Day by a couple of weeks is the end of the school year and graduation day for our high school seniors on June 16.

There are several new business in Port Orford that have recently started up, or will start up soon. Nancy Nickless has started Nancy's Gifts By The Sea and her store is but a few hundred feet from Battle Rock. Her store is located next to the Lichtig Law Office and across the street from the Crazy Norwegians. After renting the storefront, she and her husband Michael went in and did a lot of work. You won't recognize the place from its previous incarnations. Nancy has a nice line of T-shirts and sweatshirts (including ones especially for whale watchers,) cards, post cards and many other gift items including Indian jewelry. She also stocks a selection of musical boxes, palm leaf baskets and stained glass and a variety of other gift items. Her store is open seven days a week.

Next to us here at the Fun Zone there is a new store where Sister's Natural Grocery/ Elephant Rock Farms used to be. It's called Second Wind and is owned by Corro Dyanne. The store features quality used books, gently seasoned clothing and jewelry. Corro just opened for business last Friday and already quite a few people have come by to look her store over. So far the store is open three days a week on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Sister's Natural Grocery/ Elephant Rock Farms moved out of their old location and one door over into what used to be Cecil's New To You clothing store. Now here's a group of people who needed more space! They've got a whole lot more room and are filling it up fast. The store's owners include Debby Lohry, Kelly Vahradian, Melvin Sutton, Natasha Boucher, John and Sybelle Rossetti. They are already serving coffee, home made pastries and smoothies. Their store has an excellent selection of vitamins, organic vegetables, breads, pasta and many other items to fill your needs.

The Basey family has reopened "The Dock" at the Port of Port Orford. I visited their store and seafood market last Sunday afternoon and they had a nice selection of fresh crab, ling cod, red snapper and shrimp. All the fish except for the shrimp were caught by Jack Basey fishing out of our local port. The fish market and tackle shop is open seven days a week through summer.

Sharon Lagace is opening her Rising Sun whole food store on or around June 1. The store is located on 12th street immediately in back of the Chevron station. She will be carrying the melaleuca cleaning products and "whey" products.

Looking in the window at what used to be Lura's Place/The Galley restaurant I spotted a sign advertising Donna's Paradise Cafe "opening soon". I don't know much about it yet, but I sure like the name.

Looking northward toward Langlois they have what sounds like a real treat in store for all of us backyard gardeners. There's a new nursery on Floras Lake Loop Rd. Called Sweet Annie's Nursery. They have a large selection of herb plants and old roses.

Further north past Langlois the 2 Mills Cafe has reopened under new ownership. Dec Churchill and Gigi McFarland

Western Pond Turtles

The western pond turtle is one of two turtle species native to Oregon, and the one most likely to be found on the south coast. It grows to a shell length of about eight inches, and from a distance looks uniformly dark green or dark brown. Because of its brown coloring it is sometimes known as a "mud turtle".

Now is the time of year when turtles are most likely to be sighted. This is their nesting season and females have been known to travel up to one-half kilometer

Dan Van Dyke, a biologist with the Oregon Department of Fish and Game will present a slide show and talk on pond turtles Friday, May 27 in Port Orford. The talk will be held in the Port Orford City Council Chambers at 7:00 PM. It is sponsored by Kalmiopsis Audubon Society and is free to the public. For more information call 3332-9775.

Roaring Sea Arts Open House

The Roaring Sea Arts Studio & Gallery will have an open house on Sunday, May 29 featuring three artists and two guest musicians. Patricia Finch will exhibit some of her new oil paintings; Joe Bush paints on sea charts, and Bob Krauss will have some wood vessels.

Besides the usual musical group we will have the fun of hearing Bach and Beethoven played by Violinist Ellie Malzahn and accompanied by Crystal Janducci

Everyone is welcome - the open house is from 2 to 5. Refreshments are served, as well as pot-luck snacks.

Chamber Approves Budget

The Port Orford Chamber of Commerce held a board meeting on Monday morning, May 16. The members were presented with a proposed budget for 1994-95 by budget committee chairperson Norma Anderson.

The Board members by a unanimous vote of those present approved the $10,089. The biggest change from previous year's budgets is the funding of a volunteer coordinator for the chamber office/visitor center at Battle Rock Park. The board accepted the recommendation of the chamber employment committee and hired Jackie Bright as its volunteer coordinator.

Bill Roberts

"It is hard to express just how much has been learned through this exhausting campaign for sheriff!" is Bill Roberts reaction to the recent election. "I've seen how frightening the system can be, if misused. I've seen how little the people of this county are aware of the critical law enforcement needs of this area. I've seen how frightened those in the system are of any change" says Roberts. "And, I have been very pleased and grateful for the fine people in this county who have worked hard wanting to improve things."

Roberts finished second to the current sheriff, Chuck Denney, in Tuesday's election. Is it over? According to Roberts all he wants is for some relief from the 16 hour days of the last several months. "I'm exhilarated but exhausted" said Roberts, "what I want right now is a break for me and my family from the screaming pace of the last few months."

When asked about speculation of a write-in campaign Roberts responds "No comment". Roberts acknowledged that he has received nearly 100 calls concerning the November election and that many have encouraged such a move. "All I will say is that those who are aware of some of the inner workings of the department are anxious for reform. They aren't impressed with ads pressuring deputies to show loyalty to their employer. They don't want to give up".

I've been corresponding with Douglas Robinson via Compuserv's electronic mail system. After I had described Port Orford to him, I received a message back which made me look at our scenic surroundings with new eyes. Doug lives in the Southeast and has never visited the west coast. He has graciously allowed me to share his response with you...

"I wonder what it's like to look out over the Pacific and know that stretching before you for nearly half the distance around the globe is only that awesome expanse of sea, and were you to finally reach the shore on the other side, the culture there would be so different from yours as to be totally unrecognizable were you not somehow prepared to greet it.

The next time you have a look, have a look for me."

I surely will. Let's all take a good look for Doug and to refresh the spirit within ourselves. Thanks Doug, for renewing my vision.

Thank You Voters

Thank you voters for your overwhelming support of my reelection last Tuesday! I will do everything I can to live up to your expectations.

The battle has been won, the war still continues, but now on another front. As you probably know, the Curry County Board of Commissioners voted May 16th to place the future of your Port Orford Justice Court in the hands of the District's voters September 20th. At that time we will be asked to pass a five year serial levy to fund the Court's continued operations for six years. If the levy fails, the Commissioners will act on the tabled motion to terminate your court's operations December 31, 1994, and close the Court.

It would be judicially improper for me to take a position one way or the other on the proposed serial levy. This must be a decision of the voters. I will be available to answer questions regarding the court's operations but will not engage in any debate on whether your court should remain open or be closed.

Again, thank you for honoring me with another six year term as your Justice of the Peace.

Respectfully submitted

Why I Love Fishing
by x

There is something going on here in Port Orford right now that has reminded me why I loved fishing all those years.

Black cod season is open right now, unfortunately to only a limited number of boats because of the pressure of too many fishermen and politics. The good part of it is that the spirit and energy have returned to the dock.

There are so many people involved in fishing black cod. There are the captains and crews and all the people needed to bait the thousands of hooks that go out every night, people unloading the boats and pecking the fish. It's really exciting. Everybody is busy but not too busy to help each other. This is what I loved about fishing - the high energy, the sharing, people being able to really get down and fish and feel productive instead of having our hands tied by the government.

The best part is seeing everyone working together and letting go of all the attitudes that go on when fishing is depressed for so long.

An inspiring example of this came about after a tragic accident on Saturday night. The Jacob D, one of the classic Port Orford boats fell off the hoist due to the deterioration of it's lifting straps. The deckhand, J.D. Cormany was thrown into the water but luckily only hurt his leg and is OK. The boat was ruined by the fall but was retrieved with all the long lines in a huge jumbled mess.

What looked like a total loss was recovered when 20 or 30 members of Tom Keeler's family and friends showed up Sunday morning and miraculously untangled all the hooks, lines and floats and got all the fishing gear back together so that Tom who has had an outstanding season so far, can continue on another boat to finish out the season. It was really inspiring to see all those people stop what they were doing and pitch in for the many hours it took to recover Tom's gear.

This energy is what made me love fishing - everyone really together. Good luck, Tom and everyone.

Tarno Wins

The write in votes for State Legislative District #48 have been counted and Veral Tarno is the overwhelming winner. Tarno, a Republican, is the one term incumbent in District 48. No one filed to run against him in the Democratic primary for the seat he currently holds. A write in campaign developed for both Tarno and Democrat Dave Tilton.

The results are as follows:

	Coos Co.	Curry Co.	Total
Veral Tarno	731	347	1078
Dave Tilton	324	111	435

The Curry County elections department explained to this paper that people who had registered as independents did not get to vote in the partisan contests. Some independents contacted this paper and couldn't understand why when they went to their polling place they didn't receive either a Republican or Democratic ballot but only a ballot with non partisan offices and ballot measures. Two years ago the Republican party allowed independents to vote in their primary but this year neither major political party allowed participation by independents. Your vote counts.

Patrick E. Masterson

Memorial services will be held for Patrick E. Masterson on Thursday, May 26, at 10:00am at the Port Orford Community Building.

Pat died at the Veteran's Hospital in Roseburg on Wednesday morning, May 18. He had been driven there on Monday by his friend Frank Smith after his health, which had been bad, continued to worsen.

Masterson was a member of the Hughes family on his father, John's, side. He was extremely interested in history and particularly that of this area. Pat had been working on a book about Port Orford for many years. He just missed seeing the book being printed. Titled "Port Orford, A History" by Patrick Masterson it is scheduled to be printed and released on July 1 of this year. Already over 1,000 people have signed up to buy copies of this eagerly awaited history of our local area.

Several local people shared memories of Pat in the last few days. Gayle Wilcox remembered him as a very intelligent man with a great sense of "dry" humor. Ernie Malasky talked about the S.W.O.C.C. class he took on the history of Port Orford taught by Pat. Ernie was impressed then, and now, with the amount of knowledge Pat had of this area. Viola Cuatt, one of Pat's good friends, said she regretted not tape recording some of the conversations she'd had with Pat about Port Orford and its people and history. Viola shared with Pat a keen interest in the history of the area. Eirwin Morgan, a volunteer at the chamber of commerce visitor center, took Pat's death hard. When I saw her at the visitor center on Thursday morning I felt she'd really lost a good friend. They had worked together when Pat was involved with the Chamber.

Pat called us once in a while at Port Orford Today to correct or add to a story he'd read in the paper. He wasn't trying to outsmart us, but to help set the record straight from his huge storehouse of knowledge. I visited him and Clara Miller at their home on Deady street a few times. I genuinely regret not knowing him better now that it's too late.

Kindergarten Roundup

Driftwood School will hold a Kindergarten Roundup in June. Parents of next year's kindergartners are encouraged to register for the 1994-95 school year. Registration will be Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, June 1, 2, and 3 and Monday and Tuesday, June 6 and 7. Hours will be 9:00 - 11:00 AM and 1:00 - 3:00 PM

Parents may come to the school during these hours to register their child. Children must be 5 years old on or before September 1, 1994. Parents need to bring their child's proof of birth and immunization record.

There will also be 3 special Open House sessions. During these sessions children will visit the kindergarten classroom while parents are given an opportunity to fill out registration forms, tour the school and receive school information. The 3 special sessions are set for:

Wednesday, June 1st, 10:00 - 10:45

Thursday, June 2nd, 1:30 - 2:15

Tuesday, June 7th, 6:30 - 7:30

All children registered during the Roundup will receive a Kindergarten Skills poster and a small box of crayons.

now own and operate the popular roadside diner. Valerie and I were there opening morning along with several other Port Orfordians all enjoying breakfast. Right now they're open for breakfast and lunch but plan to add dinner real soon.

Good luck to all these new businesses. I know it'll be a lot of hard work but well worth the effort.

Pacific Takes Eight To State by Rebekah Disbrow

The 1A and 2A State Track meet was held on May 20 and 21 at Western Oregon State College in Monmouth. Zoe Bradbury went in the Long Jump and the Mile Relay. Amber Smith went in the 300m Low Hurdles, the 400m Relay and the 1600m Relay. Julie Young went in the Triple Jump, the 400m Relay and the 1600m relay. Amy Hall went in the 400m Relay. Heidi Hall went in the Javelin. Rebekah Disbrow went in the 100m dash, the 200m dash, the 400m relay and the 1600 relay. Danny Haffner went in the 3000m run. Daniel Notman went in the Triple Jump, the 200m dash and the 400m dash.

As always, the competition at State was very stiff, so places were generally worse than usual. Most people didn't even make it to Finals. Zoe placed eighth, though, in the Long Jump with 15 feet 10.5 inches. Julie placed seventh in the Triple Jump in 32 feet 7.5 inches. Although first through eighth places score points, only first through sixth places receive medals. The highlight of the weekend was when the girls 1600m Relay team of Rebekah, Julie, Amber and Zoe placed third in their Prelims heat on Friday (breaking the school record by nearly two seconds). On Saturday, they were ranked fifth, but moved ahead of two teams to place second. In addition to each receiving medals, they broke their new record. So the new school record for the girls 1600m relay is 1:13.8, down from 1:17.1 set in 1984. It was quite an honor to stand up on the awards stand to receive our medals. We hope to get first next year!
