Arts Festival This Weekend By Evan Kramer

The annual Port Orford Arts Festival takes place this weekend, August 9, 10 & 11. The event which usually takes place the second weekend in May has moved into a summertime slot on the calendar and we welcome this change. One other difference this year is there will not be a student art show since school is not in session.

There are plenty of events to attend and galleries to visit including pottery throwing demonstrations all three days by Paul Bodtke at Port Orford Pottery. While you're there watching the pots get thrown mention anything about fishing to Paul and you'll hear a few stories. Paul, his son Jessie and I took a kayaking trip down the Elk River starting at the fish hatchery several weeks back. I was expected to live up to my reputation for capsizing the kayak and ending up all wet which I did in record time. I stayed dry for at least the first 50 feet downriver of the hatchery before the kayak turned sideways, rolled over and sunk. Nothing artistic about that performance. Next time we go kayaking I'll just jump in the river and get the soaking over with right off the bat. Paul also lived up to his reputation and caught several fish.

Meanwhile back on dry land some other things not to miss during the Arts Festival are the Red Fox Memorial Junk Art Contest at the Port Orford Community Building. This is an excellent way to create a unique piece of artwork and clean out some of your household or business debris. This show takes place on Saturday during the day and up to 8:00pm. That show is followed in the Community Building by the big dance concert featuring the Jazz Beaux. The seven piece band plays the toe tapping type of music that will have you and your partner up and cutting the rug for hours. Admission to this show is $5 for adults and children are admitted free.

Also at the Community Building, you can take a look at what the younger generation of artists has created at the young artist's reception at 7:00pm. Other things going on that day at the Community Building are a demonstration of didjeridoo music by John Arntz from 2:00 -3:00pm. The didjeridoo is an Australian wind instrument although it sounds like a distant relative of a kangaroo.

Arts Festival long sleeve T-shirts and sweatshirts and some hooded sweatshirts are available this year and feature a design by Donna Roselius. You can pick up one of the shirts at the Rick Cook Gallery, Grantland Mayfield Gallery, 'Neath the Wind Basket Studio and Rain Coast Arts in Langlois. They have three flavors or colors this year. The t-shirts are $15, sweatshirts are $20 and hooded sweatshirts are $25. The Arts Council uses the profits from their shirt sales to finance some of their other events like summer arts programs, storytellers and musicians including the upcoming Tom Paxton concert at the Community Building on Wednesday, October 16.

Sheep Dog Trials

One of the more popular annual events is the sheep dog trials at the Sixes River Hotel next weekend. This year the fourth annual trials are on Saturday and Sunday, August 17 and 18. Marilyn Oberbeck, co-owner of the Hotel told me there would be around 20 dogs participating this year. They include blue heelers, border collies and Australian sheep dogs. She said Rick McKenzie will be the judge for the event as well as provide the sheep. The Sixes River Hotel is located in a meadow overlooking the Sixes River at Highway 101.

Senior News By Mary Yoder

Well, first of all the birthday party - pretty good turn out - Peigi Stahl, Henry Kron and Clair Stahl did the work. I'm angry with Henry, he gave me strawberry instead of chocolate ice cream. I'll probably get over it in time.

The volunteers on August 1st were: Greta Carrier, Kay Neal, Lorainne Hass, Marge Kyle, Leo Welch, Clair Stahl. Now on August 16 there is a play - The King and I at Bandon. The tickets are $7. This should be paid for at the center to Clair Stahl by August 12. If you want to ride there will be car pooling. You must be at the center and you don't have to be a member of the center - all can go. Now here is what I like - August 17 at 2pm there will be an ice cream social for kids, moms, pops, grandma's all are welcome. This is for kids - cookies too. So tell the other kids.

Almost forgot no van August 13th and 14th.

And next the volunteers for the rummage sale said there will only be sales on luncheon days., birthday and breakfast - no more Friday sales - OK?

We now have two new board members: Glorene Godfrey and Bessie Laursen. They are called members at large.

The pinochle club played cards Monday August 5th. Ladies High: Venita Marstal, low Judy Peacock Kline. Men's High: E. David Kline, Men's Low Mickey Harper.

Saturday, August 10th luncheon 11:30am also Rummage Sale from 8am to 1:30pm.

Sunday, August 11 will be the breakfast from 8am to 1:30pm and a Rummage Sale at the same time.

Don't forget that August 20 is hearing aid and blood pressure day from 9:30am to 12 noon.

1996 Arts Festival

Aug. 9, 10, 11 are the dates for the Port Orford Arts Festival. "This is our 8th year. Visitors come from all around to enjoy Port Orford's stunning beaches and join in the fun," says Tobe Porter, Langlois librarian and Arts Council member.

"The 1996 Arts Festival promises to be a lively occasion with something for everyone," reports Viola Cuatt, president of the Point Orford Heritage Society. "This is our first year," Cuatt points out, referring to the Heritage Society's open house and silent art auction scheduled for all three days at the former Coast Guard Lifesaving Station at Port Orford Heads State Park. "With festivities on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the Arts Festival makes a dandy destination for weekend travelers on the south coast," Cuatt concludes.

Joining the Historic Hughes House and Blanco Lighthouse, the Lifesaving Station on Port Orford's Coast Guard Hill adds another historical site open to the public. "History buffs and lighthouse lovers are discovering the south coast," says Martha Weaver-Britell, Heritage Society treasurer and city council member. "Visitors to Coos Bay, Bandon, Gold Beach and even Brookings find their way to Port Orford. It's a beautiful drive from all directions."

For the first time ever, the Point Orford Heritage Society will participate in this exciting event. Between 1 and 4pm each day during the Arts Festival Heritage Society members will host tours of the former Coast Guard Lifesaving Station. "Buy a bunch of raffle tickets for a gorgeous quilt donated by Dottie Barnes of the Quilter's Corner and make a bid on artwork in the Buy-A-New-Boiler Silent Art Auction," urges Viola Cuatt. "It's for a very good cause."

For the silent auction, Marion Johnson and Viola Cuatt have collected works of art from local artists. Donna Roselius contributed a piece of her unique glass jewelry. Paul Bodtke graciously gave some pottery. There's a Jerry Stoope's carving, a wall hanging from Quilter's Corner, and donations from the Wooden Nickel and Grantland Mayfield Gallery.

Also, check out Julie Hawthorne's dramatic ceramics, Sharon Leahy's one-of-a-kind jewelry, a silk scarf hand-painted by Georganne White, and more. All proceeds from the silent auction will go toward a working heating system in the former Coast Guard Station where Heritage Society plans a museum.

However, the Heritage Society's open house is just one of many Arts Festival events. All weekend long, watch artists at work at the Historic Hughes House and galleries in Port Orford and Langlois. Expect to see glass blowing, quilting, weaving, spinning and basket-making demonstrations. Don't miss the Red Fox Memorial Junk Art Sculpture Contest!

On the program is a Children's Art Show at Langlois Public Library and a reception for young artists featuring the work of students enrolled in the Summer Arts Program. All local galleries from Langlois to Port Orford will be open and offering many items that make great gifts. Art is a wonderful thing to own.

On Saturday, there will be dancing to the big band sounds of Jazz Beaux. Under the leadership of tenor sax player Leonard P. Dixon, this 7-piece band will take you on a nostalgic journey of fun and enjoyment. At the Port Orford Community Center on Aug. 10 from 8-11pm. Adult tickets are $5. Children are admitted free. All other Arts Festival events are free. For more info, contact Tobe Porter (541) 332-4340.

Innominata Garden Club

Kicking off an exciting year, the Innominata Garden Club of Gold Beach will take a quiet, unobtrusive walk through the wetlands of Hunter Creek Bog. This will be accomplished by viewing slides to be presented by Bruce Rittenhouse, botanist for BLM. He will meet with the club on August 22nd at 11:30 a.m., at the 4H Extension Room at the Fairgrounds.

An early in the season meeting has been called so members can pick up their membership books and hold the 2nd in a series of meetings emphasizing their theme for the year "Rare, endangered and unique native flora and (the management of) Areas of Critical Environmental Concern".

Interested community members and guests are invited to attend this fascinating look at nature's wildness here in Curry County. The club's vice president, Joan Cooper, will preside.

Understanding Government

Feudalism: You have two cows. Your lord takes some of the milk.

Pure Socialism: You have two cows. The government takes them and puts them in a barn with everyone else's cows. You have to take care of all the cows. The government gives you as much milk as you need.

Bureaucratic Socialism: You have two cows. The government takes them and puts them in a barn with everyone else's cows. They are cared for by ex-chicken farmers. You have to take care of the chickens the government took from the chicken farmers. The government gives you as much milk and eggs as the regulations say you should need.

Fascism: You have two cows. The government takes both, hires you to take care of them, and sells you the milk.

Pure Communism: You have two cows. Your neighbors help you take care of them, and you all share the milk.

Russian Communism: You have two cows. You have to take care of them, but the government takes all the milk.

Cambodian Communism: You have two cows. The government takes both and shoots you.

Dictatorship: You have two cows. The government takes both and drafts you.

Pure Democracy: You have two cows. Your neighbors decide who gets the milk.

Representative Democracy: You have two cows. Your neighbors pick someone to tell you who gets the milk.

Bureaucracy: You have two cows. At first the government regulates what you can feed them and when you can milk them. Then it pays you not to milk them. Then it takes both, shoots one, milks the other and pours the milk down the drain. Then it requires you to fill out forms accounting for the missing cows

Pure Anarchy: You have two cows. Either you sell the milk at a fair price or your neighbors try to take the cows and kill you.

Libertarian / Anarcho-Capitalism: You have two cows. You sell one and buy a bull.

Surrealism: You have two giraffes. The government requires you to take harmonica lessons.

Why do people who know the least know it the loudest?

Mammograms

Low-income women can get funding for free mammograms through the Texas-based Susan G. Komen Foundation when Curry General Hospital's mobile mammography unit makes its monthly visit to Curry Family Medical clinic, Wednesday, Aug. 14. The unit comes to the Port Orford clinic every second Wednesday.

All women needing early detection breast cancer screening through mammography or clinical breast exams can schedule appointments with the clinic. The hospital has discounted its prices about 20% on regular screening mammograms to encourage more women to take advantage of the potentially life-saving screening services, says Bets Byrtus, coordinator of the Curry Breast Health Network. Those wishing to apply for a Komen free mammogram can check with the clinic staff.

Curry County women, 60 and older, should be especially aware of the importance of early detection because they are at increased risk for developing breast cancer, Byrtus adds.

The American Cancer Society recommends a first-time mammogram for most women by age 40. Mammograms are recommended every one to two years for women 40-49, and annually for women 50 and older.

Besides scheduling visits in Port Orford, patients can schedule mammograms throughout the month at Curry General Hospital in Gold Beach.

Also, as part of the Curry Breast Health Network's mission to "protect and educate Curry County women," groups and organizations can request a speaker on topics such as breast cancer detection, up-to-date methods of finding tiny tumors, and alternatives to surgical biopsies. Herself a breast cancer survivor,
