Water Emergency Is OVER!

Port Advisory Committee OK By Evan Kramer

The Port of Port Orford Commission met on Tuesday, October 23 at the city hall council chambers. Commissioners Dave Knapp, Jeff Miles, Tom Hall and Gifford Barnes were present and commissioner David Darnell was absent, with public interest in the Port waning.

The council considered two letters from the public including one from Jane Cramer and one from Mike Ashdown. Cramer wrote the commission and told them she declined the opportunity offered by David Darnell at last month's meeting to head up a public fishing dock committee because she does not have the time and it was the request of only one commissioner. Cramer came up with a suggested plan to designate three areas for the public to go fishing and crabbing until the public fishing dock is built. Ashdown's letter was directed to the problem with two of the product hoists (Premium Pacific Seafood and Cal Shell) being so close together on the dock. Ashdown in his letter said two boats could not offload and load at the same time. He asked that something be done before winter and asked for help from the Port commission. Dave Knapp said the commission would study the situation and put it on their November agenda. Port manager Kathy Sherbourne said a meeting would be set up with the fish buyers and Dave Knapp.

Kathy Sherbourne said she had met with Laskey/Clifton foreman Tom Wright on October 5 and the company had agreed to repair the electrical building and parts of the two new cranes and patch the concrete. Sherbourne said the fuel system people were scheduled for Monday, October 29 and would be on the dock through November 9 to retrofit the fuel system. Commissioner Jeff Miles said when coming in from fishing he had noticed a big rust spot on the sheet piling and they needed to make Tom Wright aware of the problem.

The commission agreed to hold a workshop on Thursday, October 25, to discuss the self-assessment checklist.

The commission adjourned the regular session and went into an executive session called under ORS 192.660(1)(e) Real Estate and ORS 192.660(1)(h) Pending Litigation.

They came back into regular session under new business and decided to wait until November to deal with a new ground lease at the Port.

Commissioner Tom Hall made a motion for the commission to open a savings account for money owed PN & D (the firm which engineered the new dock) on the advice of their attorney as the first step in litigation and with all commissioners signing the bankcard. The motion passed 4-0.

Ed Dowdy spoke to the commission and told them he thought there were things discussed at the September 18 Port meeting that were to be on this month's agenda. Dowdy spoke about the citizen advisory committee. Dave Knapp said he was all in favor of a citizen advisory board. Tom Hall said he didn't see the need to have an advisory board. Ed Dowdy said it was better to have a team to work on issues. He said the committee could work on the public fishing dock issue and write articles for the newspapers. Dave Knapp said it was input the commission could use and that it was just a committee. Knapp said "we're crazy not take advantage of input." Commissioner Gifford Barnes said the commission was supposed to take input. Ed Dowdy said in excess of 20 people were interested in serving on the committee and reminded the commission it would not be a legal committee. Gifford Barnes

Gun Club News
By Bill Oleson

A family reunion and a business trip to Alaska to assist a former client and veteran interrupted reporting of trap shooting for October. The Bandon meeting resulted in great scores for Scott Wurster, 50/50 to take the A 16 yard Singles; Marcia Patridge won the B Singles 49/50 and Jerry Dawkins won the Handicap 47/50.

The Cape Blanco meeting, October 14 featured Corky Brewer, Brookings winning the Singles 49/50. Al Enyeart, Coquille and Scott Wurster were runner-up 47/50. George Millen, Coos Bay and Scott Wurster tied for Handicap honors with no shoot-off. Afraid of each other.

This last Sunday we combined the 2001 annual challenge match between Myrtle Point and Cape Blanco with our Fourth Annual Club championship. One hundred targets had been previously shot from the 16-yard line at Myrtle Point. Sunday we shot 50 targets from 16 yards and 50 targets from our Handicap marks. Cape Blanco's winning team, Scott Wurster 189/2000, Frank Barrows 189/200, Bill Oleson 183/200, Jim Patridge 181/200 and Marcia Patridge 177/200 edged Myrtle Point 919 to 915.

The Fourth Annual club championship had many winners starting with George Millen, high overall 97/100, AA singles 49/50 and long yardage handicap 48/50. Frank Barrows, Dale Fults and Darrell Evans, Coquille were runner-up with 96/100 scores. Fults won the shoot off for A honors. Barrows took B honors in the 16 yard Singles and Senior Veteran in the Handicap. Marcia Patridge won the Ladies' trophy in the Handicap and Alice Evans followed winning the Veteran's trophy also in the Handicap. Darrell Evans won the C trophy in the Singles and also short yardage Handicap honors. Bill Oleson won the new category of

"Elder" in the Handicap 45/50. Elder is a new P.I.T.A. level indicating that one has lived way past Senior Veteran and must be 76 years or older. He is. The Sunday shoot was a success because everyone pitched in to supplement the barbecue hosted by Jim Bussman, Scott Wurster and Frank Barrows. Mary Puhl and Mike Sullivan took care of the complex statistics. Custers were won by "Elder" Ed Pillette, Coos Bay and Scott Wurster.

Everyone don't forget the Turkey Shoot on Nov. 11. There will be no losers.

50 Years of Memories

History catches up to the future this weekend when Curry General Hospital hosts "50 Years of Memories," a two-day gala of exhibits, dining, dancing, and story-telling, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 3 and 4, in Gold Beach.

The celebration marks the 50th anniversary of the 24-bed, acute care hospital. Curry General Hospital has served the communities of Curry County since it opened in the autumn of 1951.

The anniversary celebration will kick off with a dinner-dance and reunion party, Saturday in Docia Sweet Hall, at the Event Center On-The-Beach, announced Meryl Boice, chair of the event planning committee.

Doors will open at 4 p.m. for visiting and exhibit viewing. A catered buffet dinner will begin at 5:30 p.m. Dancing to 1940s and 50s tunes by the "Jazz Beaux" will continue throughout the evening. The Gold Beach Soroptimists will serve wine and beer. Organizers will give away more than 60 door prizes during the night, as well.

"For most of the newcomers to our area, it will be a fun night of dancing and prizes," Boice says. But for the many former hospital employees and medical staffers expected to attend, it also will be a fun evening of reunion and stories."

The celebration will be followed Sunday, Nov. 4, with a free public barbecue honoring all those born at Curry General Hospital, their friends and family. Doors will open at 11 a.m. in Docia Sweet Hall with the barbecue set for 12:30 p.m. Ophir musician and disc jockey Richard Purdy will spin doo-wop and rock 45s celebrating the popular music of the 1950s and 60s. 'Gimme 5!' hand-printing will be offered for anyone born at the hospital.

Tickets still are available for the Saturday evening gala. They are for sale in advance, at $20 each. The ticket includes dinner and the live music, as well as a chance at the door prizes, Boice adds. Tickets are available in Gold Beach at Curry General Hospital, Corner Drug and Marstall's Insurance Services, as well as from various members of the planning committee. For tickets or information, phone Boice at (541) 247-7454.

Port Orford Library News by Tobe Porter, Library Director

Nothing, absolutely nothing is new at the Library. All we have to offer is the usual 19,761 books, 1,274 books on tape, and 736 videos. Well, we also have 51 magazines and newspapers, two public Internet computers, one public word processor, and inter-library loan service in county and out.

Apparently the 17,154 visitors to the library last year enjoyed these materials, because the total circulation for that year was 14,351. The 19 dedicated volunteers put in more than 1,800 hours. They and the staff were kept busy answering more than 500 reference questions, planning more than a dozen programs that over 300 people attended, and processing nearly 1,500 new books. It was a good year, we enjoyed all 1,965 hours we were open. We hope you did too.

Soon, there will be something new at the Port Orford Public Library again—new books, more shelving, new programs—but for now, just stop by and enjoy everything being the same.

Mushroom ID Class

Learn to identify local mushrooms, their basic characteristics and locations, in the popular Mushroom Identification workshop. Positive identification of edible and non-edible species, recipes, preparation of food and methods of preserving will be stressed. Other topics that are covered include: spore prints, medicinal and other uses, and the history of mushrooms.

The class starts with a lecture and slides in the evening, followed by a field trip the next morning. The field trips enable students to locate and identify wild mushrooms. Afterwards, everyone will meet and learn how to prepare the harvested mushrooms. Lunch will include samples that were picked in the wild.

The class is being offered in Port Orford Nov. 10 & Nov. 11. Call Southwestern for info or to register in Gold Beach at 247-2741 or in Port Orford on Fridays at 332-3023.

Travel Notes 5
By Graeme Graydon

Driving home past Battle Rock after attending the Baroque Concert, (it was my fourth day home), I was stopped by a most spectacular display of sea and sky, of island and mountain of my beloved Coast. Nothing was more important than to walk in the hush of the ending day and open myself to the purity, the freedom and the awesome beauty.

The journey back from Faial began with a taxi ride to the airport. It was such a contrast to my previous hair-raising ride, that I complimented the driver for her care. I would remember her response for many days – “Life is more precious than time.” There were several long delays, the worst being a mysterious “mechanical problem” with the AirBus before we were allowed to board. On my Atlantic flight, I sat next to a crazy old man, who behaved quite badly, but after an elderly woman across the aisle vomited and then had a seizure, I found myself “mothering” him without a word of English between us. We were 3 hours late landing in Boston. Just as everyone stood up to get off the plane, there were shouts of “Sit down” from the cabin crew with no explanation. An amazing thing happened – that whole plane-load of tired, cranky people sat an eerie, watchful silence, not a word of complaint. After some minutes a team of medics, laden with equipment, filed onto the plane soundlessly, scooped up the old lady and wheeled her off. No one moved till the crew gave the word. The Customs staff were pleasant and welcoming – no sign of military presence anywhere. I thought that my return to the Coast would quickly “ground” me, but it was not so easy. For weeks I had been immersed in another culture, all my news had come from non-US sources. I did not realize that I was quite disconnected from my usual life. I had tried to make some sense out of all the insanity, I had tried to find answers and, perhaps the hardest of all, I had felt helpless in the face of it all. There was the constant doubt - would I ever get home? Each of the six times I boarded a plane, I felt at risk as I surrendered my life into the hands of others. I thought about another great nation – for hundreds of years its powerful armies had secured a large part of the known world. Its culture brought science, law and philosophy to many peoples. Architecture, road-building and engineering were superb, literature and the arts were advanced. The Roman Empire was brought to its knees and utterly vanquished. The people who brought it down were Barbarians.

It was not until I stood on the wet sand of Battle Rock Beach caught up in the radiance of the twilight sky that I realized that not only had my world changed, but I had been changed. I had lived with fears and had absorbed some of the pain and terror of that dreadful morning. Looking into the sunset, I felt the confusion drain from me, it was a moment of cleansing.

And now I have remembered what I have known and seen but had forgotten.

My America is powerful – its power, its true power lies in the hearts and minds of ordinary, uncomplicated people, who still think for themselves. These are the ones who can be called “decent”, they live with dignity, no matter what their social standing, no matter their faith or apparent lack of it, and above all, they respect their own lives and the lives of others. If just one percent of this family that we call Americans could begin to express these values in their family life, their business life, their community and in all their dealings with other people and other cultures, there would be an outbreak of respect and fairness – within and without, a force more powerful, more effective than any government or force of arms could achieve, that could never be brought down. The heart of the American people will one day demand something better than the old ways of doing things. They already know that the life of a child, or a man or a woman on the West Bank or in Afghanistan is worth as much as a life in New York or Ohio or Oregon – and that one percent has the power to alter the destiny of all mankind.

Story Stew And Library News

In celebration of National Children's Book Week (Nov. 12-18), the Story Stew Readers and Port Orford Public Library invite the children to each bring his/her "favorite all-time book" to Story Stew Night, Nov. 1, 7pm-8pm. The "Stewers" will set aside time to invite the children to stand and, if they choose, introduce their book titles and tell the audience why their book is special to them.

If any child wishes to then allow his/her book to be "on loan" to the library for display in the children's section through Nov. 18, we will be privileged to have them. We will identify each child's book with a bookmark indicating the child's name. If your child cannot attend Story Stew night but wishes to submit his/her book for display, please bring the book to the library any time prior to Nov. 12; we would appreciate names and telephone numbers to be either inside the book or accompanying such book so we can keep them on file and ensure returning the books to their proper owners. They will be available for pick-up beginning Nov. 19.

It's All Relative

The annual genealogical training seminar, "It's All Relative, My Dear Researcher", will be held in North Bend on Nov. 3, at the LDS Stake Center. Eighteen related classes will be offered to all. There is something for any researcher, whether a beginner, or an advanced genealogy student.

Time will permit four classes per student, but with an array of choices, you may want to get a pre-registration form at your local Family History Center. If sent ahead, this enables the staff to prepare a syllabus for each student...this booklet is worth the trip. Instructors are Certified professional genealogical researchers and cover all facets of this exciting hobby.

Letter to the Editor,

After a few concerns voiced by some of our friends and neighbors, we would like to clarify an unfortunate misconception. The George Armstrong listed in last week's newspaper is not the George and Rita Armstrong, ex-plumber, 1040 Arizona. Our hearts and concerns go out to the other couple for their recent misfortune.

George and Rita Armstrong

Caution!

Please use extra caution when driving near the intersection of 9th Street and Hwy 101. There are people whizzing around the corner off of 101, People zooming out of Circle K's parking lot, people backing out of Fun Zone parking, etc. I've had several near misses lately!

Halloween Bingo By Evan Kramer

The ESA Sorority held a Halloween Bingo night at the Community Building last Friday night and all had fun. The building was decorated fantastically for the Halloween party the next evening so bingo players also got to enjoy it though most stayed focused on the numbers. ESA members provided a veritable banquet of food including many home baked pastries, which were all available for a donation.

Bingo winners were given certificates and with them got to pick from a table full of great prizes. The final bingo winner of the evening won a $25 cash prize for a blackout and then it was time to go home. In between the games a costume contest was held and several creative people participated in it including a chicken, a wizard, a cat and a soccer ball.

And no the author of this article didn't get to yell out BINGO but Valerie did as did nearly everyone else sitting adjacent to us.

ESA Sorority treasurer Mary Loan said on Monday that the evening had brought in $1,091 and that 88 people showed up to play bingo. ESA holds several benefit fundraisers each year in Port Orford including bingo nights, Desperado Days, bake sales and the year's premier event, the Christmas Bazaar. The money ESA raises goes to a variety of good causes from the Common Good, the Fishermen's Association, the Pacific High School Scholarship fund with the largest donation going to St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee. Mary said the administration of St. Jude's Hospital is mainly done with volunteers, which keeps the overhead down. The American Institute of Philanthropy puts out a rating guide for national charities and gave St. Jude's Hospital an A minus rating. St. Jude's hospital is one of the world's leading centers for research and treatment of catastrophic diseases in children with the prime emphasis on pediatric cancers. Entertainer Danny Thomas founded the hospital in 1962. The hospital covers all costs for the children whom it treats who are not insured and has treated over 17,000 children so far from the United States and 60 other countries.

This year's Port Orford ESA Christmas Bazaar will be held on Saturday, December 1 and all tables in both the Community Building and American Legion Hall are already booked.

Exploring Our Back Yard

The Exploring Our Back Yard series is back this month and begins their first in a series of Sunday hikes on November 11 at Blacklock Point. Explore the coastal pygmy forest of this undiscovered, undeveloped Floras Lake Natural Area state park. A four-mile walk will take the hikers through typical brush and wetlands to a bluff with views overlooking secluded beaches, the ocean, rocky reefs, Cape Blanco and Blacklock Point. A five-mile loop will include a viewing a waterfall that actually flows (blows) up! Hiking through to Floras Lake with a car shuttle is an option.

The Exploring Our Back Yard series is sponsored by the North Community Health Grant, the RAD Outdoor Club, and NCFCC.
