Council In Agreeable Mood By Evan Kramer

The Port Orford City Council met on Monday night. Newly elected Mayor Gary Doran, Councilors Ruth Jamieson and Jim Campbell and reelected councilor Ralph Donaldson were sworn in by city recorder Norma House.

New public works director Jerry McNurlin gave a brief report. He has been on the job ten days and made a point of saying the city public work's crew is very dedicated.

Gayle Wilcox gave a fire department report regarding development of a policies and procedures manual. She said the department is gathering information from other departments and expects to have their manual complete by March.

Auditor Rob Wall presented the council with the final draft of the 1995-96 Port Orford audit report. He noted considerable improvement in the city record keeping process over previous years. He said the primary deficiencies were related to budget matters. Specifically he referred to seven instances of budget appropriation overexpenditures in five funds totaling $19,778. He also encouraged closer monitoring of travel expenses by council members. Councilor Donaldson asked Wall about the sewer and water rates audit and Wall responded that he would have it by March. Councilor Robert Warring made a motion to approve the audit report submitted by Wall and it passed unanimously.

Planning Director Butch Parker updated the council about planning commission business. He referred to the owner of the Agate Beach RV Park who has asked for and received a change in zoning from commercial to residential from the planning commission. Parker asked the council if they wanted a public hearing on this matter. The council didn't feel one was needed and passed a motion approving the planning commission's action unanimously.

Next up on the agenda was Paula Cracas, a resident of Port Orford who lives at 824 Washington St. She started having problems with her sewer system in October of last year and found out then that she was not hooked up to the city sewer line but instead had a septic tank and leech line on her property. She said she has been paying sewer fees since she purchased the property in 1989. She asked the council for the city to hook her property up to the sewer system and waive the hook up fee as well as refund the money she has paid into the sewer system for over seven years. City Manager Dotti Myers recommended that Cracas pay the sewer hook-up fee but Myers wondered at which rate she should pay. Sewer hook up fees have risen considerably since 1989. Robert Warring made a motion to connect the Cracas property to the sewer system at no cost to her but also not give her a refund on what she has paid already. The motion died for lack of a second. The council decided to connect the sewer system to her house and determine the price later. One other thing that came out in the discussion was that the sewer line had not been put in on Washington between 8th and 9th Streets. That work was proceeding on Monday afternoon.

Mayor Doran appointed Tim Sparks to continue as council president. He named Jim Campbell as public safety liaison, Ralph Donaldson will remain as public works liaison, Carl Eskelson will remain as watershed and solid waste advisory and Robert Warring will continue as OCZMA and SeaPac liaison. Four people were authorized to sign city checks including Dotti Myers, Gary Doran, Tim Sparks and Robert Warring.

The mayor did not make a choice of a fire chief for Port Orford. The council had been given a petition signed by 15 fire department members supporting one candidate but other letters had been submit-

Born on Elvis' Birthday

Brookings parents Debbie Rigel and John Gamble have been loving their newborn daughter especially tender and especially true ever since they realized that their sweet Violette was delivered on Elvis' birthday.

Violette Danielle Gamble was born at 9:03am, Wednesday, January 8th at Curry General Hospital in Gold Beach. The hospital's first newborn for 1997, she weighed 8 pounds 12 ounces without her blue suede shoes.

Her proud grandparents are Linda and Howard Rigel of Brookings and Joan and Terry Gamble of Mariposa, CA.

Violette joins a sister, Iris, 2.

"It's really John's mom who was so excited about Violette being born on the same day as Elvis. She's the Elvis fan," Rigel says, stroking her new daughter's dark hair.

Still in their room at Curry General last week, Gamble sweeps his newborn daughter into his arms and settles next to Rigel and her mother, Linda Rigel, for a hospital room portrait.

Then Violette's mother nudges Violette's daddy and talks about returning home with a brand new member of the family. Laughing, she tells him: "I'll probably start decorating her room with Elvis stuff."

Rigel is a patient of the South Coast Obstetrical Center group of physicians, including Drs. Pamela Demian, Michael O'Gara, Michael McKeown, Ted Taylor and Reg Williams.

Let's start out with January 9th - This is Thursday - Those volunteers working were Marge Kyle, Lorraine Hass, Mary Yoder, Kay Neal. Doing the set up etc. Was June Dennison. Others working were Jan Dacayana, Glorene Godfry and Clair Stahl.

The January 11 luncheon was our regular one. The volunteers this time were: Norma Ellis, Marge Kyle, Betty Harper, Peigi Stahl the coffee. June Dennison when I came was taking in the money. Dick Clothier, Clair Stahl and what's his name doing dishes and clean up. The food was delicious and so was the desert. Down stairs the rummage sale: Bobbetta Kron, Nadine Viles, and what's his name all did a good job.

January 12 the breakfast sure had a good crowd. I think it was because of the good cooks and the nice waitress, and they don't get any tips. Those working and I mean working, were Beth Newkirk, Pauline Lenox, Art Klima, Greta Carver, Betty Harper, Lee Tubbs, Kay Neal, Clair Stahl as cashier and Lee Hyle and June Dennison heading the workers - cooking etc. They all did a super job. The rummage sale - Henry Kron and what's his name - good boys - now on to the next thing.

January 21st - that's on Tuesday. Blood pressure and hearing aid check ups from 9:30am till noon. January 20th is pinochle. There won't be a van on January 20th which is Martin Luther King day.

One more thing - the Nutrition Committee that does the deciding what to serve for the meals that turn out so special were Norma Ellis, Greta Carver, Beth Newkirk, Betty Harper, Lorraine Hass, Thelma Lagace, Kay Neal and Marge Kyle. These volunteers meet once a month to plan - aren't they the best? I'll end with this:

Letter To the Editor,

To all the wonderful Hospice supporters
in Port Orford/Langlois:

Our Hospice program has once again felt the impact of your generosity. During the holiday season, we held the "Light Up A Life" campaign and you came through in a big way.

We would like to thank our Corporate Sponsors who provided financial assistance to help with the campaign. These are: Home Medical, Inc., Freeman Marine, and Scantlin's Mortuary.

Thank you to Chetco Credit Union for allowing us to place our Memorial Tree in your lobby. Many individuals were able to come to the tree and read the names of those who had been remembered with a commemorative ornament.

We also want to thank the many volunteers who work for Hospice, in so many ways. Many of these volunteers took time from their own busy schedules to attend to the trees and coordinate all the details of "Light Up A Life".

Thank you for helping the Curry County
Hospice program to be so successful.
Over 50 Hospice families have felt your support and assistance in their time of need.

Mark the Fourth Friday on your brand new calendar. That's the day Bets Byrtus, Coordinator of the Curry Breast Health Network, presents her breast cancer awareness program. Replete with brochures, teaching aids that look like plastic mini-breasts, humorous limericks and stories about her own breast surgeries, Bets is a walking, talking information center on everything you've ever wanted to know about breast health. Her presentation will focus on early cancer detection and also cover intimate topics that fall into that "were-afraid-to-ask" category. With health information constantly inundating us through media, Bets says she "is convinced educational workshops and stories from her personal experience are the best ways to reach people."

We are happily ringing in the new year with our two playful January displays. Our artist of the month is Signe Tronson, a first grader at Blanco School. If you do only one good thing for yourself this month, make it a trip to see her delightful multi-media pieces called "Cat Works." Thanks to Walt and June Sabin we also have a different breed of cat on display—model John Deere and Ford tractors from Walt's fantastic collection. It's difficult not to spend the day making tractor sounds and moving books around instead of cataloging them.

Our Preschool Story Time is at 10:00 on Thursdays; After School Story Time, Fridays at 3:15 and our Saturday Recreation Program starts again on January 18 at 3:00 pm.

For those in the know—Sneaky Pie is at it again. Come check her out.

Watershed Council

The first meeting of 1997 for the Elk/Sixes Watershed Council will be an important organizational meeting. It will be held on January 23, 1997 at 7pm at the Elk River Campground recreation hall. New officers will be elected, including a representative to the South Coast Coordinating Watershed Council, and bylaws will be adopted. It is important that landowners and interested citizens be present at this meeting. This next year will be an important year for watershed councils. One of the first items to be discussed at the state legislature will be the budgets for the Governor's Coastal Salmon Restoration Initiative and the Healthy Streams Partnership. Our watershed council needs to be part of this discussion as these budgets will directly effect decisions on the Threatened and Endangered listing of Coho salmon and steelhead by the National Marine Fisheries Service. Elk/Sixes Watershed Council needs to continue to help keep land use decisions on a local level by actively participating in these processes.

Democratic Party

Curry County Democratic Party Chair Martha Weaver Britell attended a meeting of the Democratic Party of Oregon in Salem recently. At the meeting Oregon Democrats elected Marc Abrams to Chair the Party for the next two years. Mr. Abrams said that one of his primary goals is to see that the Democratic Party of Oregon becomes more responsive to the needs and issues of rural Oregonians. "It will be great to have the people in Salem and Portland pay more attention to those of us who live in the 541 area code," Weaver-Britell said. "I'm looking forward to working with Mark and the other State officers this year."

Senator Ron Wyden, speaking with Democratic Party members at the meeting said that he thought the new officers of the Democratic Party of Oregon would do a great job on behalf of working Oregon families.

Great New Idea
 By Evan Kramer

Are you tired of being asked at the grocery store "paper or plastic". I know I am and to be honest I prefer good old fashioned paper bags over plastic. The reason I prefer paper bags is they sit much better in the back of a van or truck and the groceries don't fall out and roll around as easily as with plastic bags. However, plastic bags have handles and I like that advantage over paper bags. Now markets including Trader Joe's and Buck's Sentry have introduced paper bags with handles, appropriately named handle-bags. They are a great compromise between paper and plastic. Because of the expense to the market of the paper bags I either recycle or reuse them.

I'm Dreaming Of...

By Donna L. Hoffmann

No, not of a white Christmas! (The following is not an endorsement by Oregon Master Gardeners, nor should be considered as such.)

Next to the "growing season" of the year, this is my favorite time. Every day I go to the mailbox, there are catalogs with all the new and improved, oldies but goodies, plants, flowers and vegetables. Although it's stormy and wintry-wet outside, now is the time to start planning your spring plantings. And what better way to spend a rainy, blustery day than curled up plant and seed catalogs, fantasizing of the beautiful flowers and the fresh from the garden vegetables that you'll grow. I'd like to tell you of a couple of my personal favorites.

For those who like to experiment with unusual, tasty vegetables from around the world, send for a Shepard's Garden Seeds catalog. Cucumbers from Japan, incredibly delicious melons from Israel, real Italian tomatoes from Italy, seven different basil's, true French tarragon and the list goes on and on.

And that's not counting the flowers! Old fashion favorites and new offerings. Shepard's Garden Seeds, 30 Irene Street, Torrington, CT 06790. Johnny's Seeds is another gardener-chef's favorites. The pictures of the vegetables are a mouth watering delight. You'll want to buy one of each, packet of seeds. Johnny's Selected Seeds, Foss Hill Road, Albion, Maine 04910-9731. Then one of our most favorites, Forest Farm. No vegetables but oodles of perennials, shrubs and trees. No pictures either, but very descriptive descriptions of the plants, creating a vivid mental picture. We've bought from them for years and have always been very happy with their plants. And they're "home-grown" - Forest Farm is right her in southern Oregon, Williams, OR to be precise, in the Applegate Valley. Forest Farm, 990 Tetherow Road, Williams, OR 97544.

Which ever catalog you chose, don't forget to consider our climate, where you're planting. Your soil and what pests you have to contend with, i.e., deer, pets, etc. So until next time, dream along with me!

Good growing and to reach the Master Gardener Office with your questions, Wednesdays 9-12, 1-800-356-3986.

Nature's Café Opens

On Monday, January 13, a ribbon cutting ceremony was held at Nature's Café, formerly Marjolaine's Market, to celebrate its recent opening under the new ownership of Sue Golay. A week-long open house continues featuring tasty samplings of food and drink.

Nature's Café will continue offering organic grocery items and a variety of products for the health conscious consumer. In addition, the deli is being expanded to include more take-out items. Sue and her staff want to focus on customers who enjoy eating well-balanced meals and those whose diets are controlled by special needs.

One of Sue's favorite items to prepare is pizza, so she aims to make it a specialty and create a selection of take-and-bake. Nutritional salads, soups and sandwiches are already available with the menu growing daily.

Sue has been in the area for ten years. Together with her husband, John, they are raising a family of four boys. She has best been known for her involvement in community service and co-founding the Oasis Shelter Home for women.

Nature's Café is located at 29441 Ellensburg in Gold Beach. For more information or to call in your order call 247-0297.

"Trails to Oregon: A Living Heritage", a lively presentation by folklorist Twilo Scofield, will be presented on Friday, January 17 at 7pm at the Coquille Community Building. The public is invited and admission is free.

Oregon's past is preserved in the legends, customs, music and superstitions which have emerged from the state's distinct regions and ethnic populations. This program offers a sampling of stories, songs, and oral histories from the years of the trail and early settlement which define our regional identity.

The program is sponsored by the city of Coquille and is made possible by the Oregon Council for the Humanities, an affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. For more information, call 396-5131.

Letter to the Editor,

It has been an honor to serve as your City Councilor these past few years. I want to thank the City Employees, volunteers and elected officials I worked with during this time for all they contribute to the community of Port Orford.

Among the many projects the Council accomplished during my term, I am particularly proud that we saw the beginning of a Youth Center here in town. I hope the new Council and Mayor will be able to expand the City's support of the Center. Over the years the City has given tens of thousands of dollars to local groups to support beautification and economic development. It's time we spent some of that money on our children.

Best wishes to the new Council and Mayor who I hope will work very hard to lower our sewer bills and prevent any increase in our water bills. With dedication and hard work, it can be done.

Finally, thank you to all the citizens of Port Orford for your support and prayers.

Sincerely,

Martha Weaver-Britell

ted by other fire fighters wanting the job. The council wants the fire department to hold a secret ballot election and asked Jim Campbell and Gary Doran to attend and observe the election.

A motion was made to defer several legislative actions concerning ordinances until a continuation council meeting which will be held on Monday, January 20, 7:00pm, in the council chambers.

Ralph Donaldson gave a report on employee salary step levels. He said Port Orford city employees were on the low side of salaries compared to other cities. Several people including Jim Poland, Norma House and David Pace will receive raises. Donaldson made a motion for the council to approve the new salary structure which includes step increases and cost of living increases. It passed unanimously.

The council unanimously accepted a contract with the auditing firm of Wall and Wall for the 1996-97 city audit.

Dotti Myers announced that funding has come through for a second police officer through the federal COPS program. A motion was made and passed unanimously to hire the second officer.

A motion was made to postpone the rest of the council business on the agenda until the January 20 council meeting. It passed unanimously and the meeting came to an end on a very cold evening. Welcome to the three new council members.
