Council Names Poland Temporary City Manager By Evan Kramer

The Port Orford City Council was in a good mood when they met on Monday night. Mayor Gary Doran mentioned that he enjoyed the newspapers last week and the positive articles and letters that appeared in them.

Public Works Director Jerry McNurlin told the council everything had been going really well in his department. He spoke about the weir at the Garrison Lake outlet. He said the lake has always been a lake and never classified a reservoir. A State of Oregon official told him there is nothing in writing to permit a weir at the Garrison Lake outlet. He said there is a possibility of installing a fish friendly "habitat log" at the outlet instead of a weir.

Councilor Jim Campbell introduced Port Orford's new police chief Russell Hunt to the council and public. Campbell announced the council would host a reception for Hunt on Thursday, July 17, from 4-6:00pm in the council chambers.

Nancy Dowdy, co-chair of the Community Resource Team, presented the council with the group's first annual report.

There have been many accomplishments including development of the Wayfinder Site at Battle Rock Park which will begin construction in September and the entrance signs to Port Orford which are coming closer to a reality. Other accomplishments include the new planter on the east side of city hall, help with installing the new benches and tables at Battle Rock Park, assistance in getting an additional Public Radio station, 89.3, on the air in Port Orford and work that led to the Port Orford Enterprise Zone being renewed.

Carol Malley, representing the North Curry Family and Children's Center, asked the council if they would waive the fees on use of the Community Building. She is directing a play entitled The Boy Who Talked to Whales with 10 young people for the summer theater program. They are using the building for rehearsals on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 10:00am to noon. They will perform the play on July 27 at the Curry County Fair and again on August 10 during the Port Orford Arts Festival. The council unanimously passed a motion waiving the fee on the building but required it be left clean.

The council considered a contract with Howard Lichtig for his employment as municipal court judge. Lichtig saw no problems with contract. Councilor Tim Sparks was concerned about how many sessions a month the court would operate. The contract calls for paying Lichtig $200 per session. The contract was modified to include no more than two court sessions a month. Mayor Doran appointed Lichtig municipal court judge and the council approved his appointment unanimously. Judge Lichtig then requested the council that court be held on the second Wednesday of the month rather than the second Tuesday because it conflicted with his Cub Scout master responsibilities. The council approved this request. Lichtig informed them he was working on a bail schedule for their consideration and approval.

Jason Seivers, the city parks and recreation planner, spoke to the council about the miniature golf course in Buffington Park. The parks commission had recommended the council look at the future of the golf course which is in need of new turf and many repairs. At the August 1996 Community Resource Team meeting seven members representing either their businesses or themselves donated a total of $500 for new turf. Each business or person adopted one of the seven holes. Parks commission member Jane Cramer said she and her husband Frank and other family members use the golf course. She suggested a voluntary system of support to keep the course maintained. Ed Dowdy, co-chair of the CRT, volunteered the CRT to refurbish and take over maintenance of the miniature golf course. Council members and the public were happy with this offer. Three cheers for Ed.

Jason Seivers announced the City had received grants from the Oregon Marine Board and Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife totaling $35,000 for a new boat launch and ramp at the 12th Street Boat Ramp.

The council settled into new business and accepted a dedication deed from Robert McKenzie for a 10-foot easement on the east side of Deady St. approximately four hundred feet long. This will enable the developer of the Paradise Terrace Subdivision to widen Deady Street to the required 50 feet width. City Planning Director Butch Parker notified the council a public hearing would be held on August 11, 7:00pm, regarding an appeal of a conditional use application for a cell phone tower on Deady Street. Previously, the city planning commission had turned down the conditional use application for the tower.

Temporary Personnel Changes at City Hall

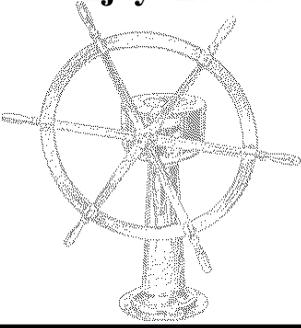

Councilor Ralph Donaldson told the public city manager Dotti Myers would be having surgery on her back on July 15 and that she would be off work for an indefinite period of time. He said acting city administrator Norma House's husband is ill and that she is resigning that position as of August 15. The council personnel committee (Donaldson and Tim Sparks) recommended several changes in the front office due to these circumstances. Donaldson made them in the form of a motion. The motion appointed city clerk Jim Poland as temporary city manager at a salary of $24,000 a year and stated he would exercise no management authority over the department heads, Dan Georgeson was named city clerk at a salary of $8.50 per hour and Norma House will serve as city treasurer working 20 hours a week at a salary of $13.00 an hour. The council unanimously passed these temporary changes.

The city recorder job which had been posted in the newspapers will not be filled but instead will go back to the personnel committee for consideration.

Norma House told the council she had spoken to city attorney Randall Tosch on July 7 regarding the amount of time the office staff is spending making photocopies and doing research for members of the public. Attorney Tosch suggested the city needs to set up charges for making copies and doing research. Ralph Donaldson noted the public was entitled to raw data only. It was suggested the "raw data" be available at the Port Orford Library. Councilor Robert Warring said he wants the city user friendly and didn't like the suggestion of charging 25 cents per copy. Jim Campbell said the city was at the point of unreasonable requests. A motion was made to charge 25 cents a copy for all copy work the city was required to do by law. City officials will suggest alternate sources for making copies.

Robert Warring told the council he would not be able to attend the July 17-18 SEAPAC coastal zone management meeting. He asked that Bonnie Allen represent the city in his absence and that she be a voting member of the conference. Mayor Doran signed a letter authorized Allen as the city's voting representative.

Ralph Donaldson referred to city sewer and water rates and said Tom Hamilton has prepared budget documents on the costs of the sewer and water systems. Donaldson said we need to look into separating the water charges from the sewer charges on the bill. He wanted a public sewer and water meeting on Friday but too many key people were unavailable.

Norma House recommended to the council that Kim Munden be fired from her job at the visitor center. A motion to sustain Munden's dismissal passed unanimously.

Pro Rodeo in Coos Bay

Bull riders and bronc riders will kick up their heels at the Coos Bay Speedway Frontier Days Pro Rodeo on Friday and Saturday nights, July 18 and 19.

All the chaps and hats will fly high as the bronc and bull riders leap out of the gates to mystify the audience in 8 seconds of skill, stamina, endurance, and down right plain luck as the invigorated livestock soars for the stars.

It's man against animal; women against time, and "mutton busters" galore during the third annual NPRA, IPRA Frontier Days Extravaganza.

Local entries are encouraged to compete for the king of the ring championship in two complete programs each night of calf roping, steer wrestling (bulldoggin'), barrel racing and much more.

Call the box office at 1-800-676-7563 for your advance discount tickets and family packages.

Tickets will also be sold at the gate the nights of the events. Gates open at 5:30pm with the show starting at 7:00pm.

Letter to the Editor,

In regards to our first Annual Salt Water Open sponsored by Pitch's Tavern owners Steve and Nancy.

There were a total of 43 golf fans that had never played golf with one club and three tennis balls. The course was a nine hole challenge along the beach from Hubbard Creek to Battle Rock.

Winners in the Men's Division were: 1st place, Joe Camara, 2nd place Jim Bussmann, 3rd place JR Allison, and David Knapp in 4th place. The Women's Division was won by Janelle Haller, Marlene Slyter was 2nd, Dawn Pointer took 3rd, with Julie Mason and Linda Smithinson tying for 4th.

I would like to thank the following merchants who donated various prizes: Bartlett's Café, Shell Shack, McNair's Hardware, Cedar Bend Golf Course, Crazy Norwegians, Downtown Fun Zone, Coos Curry Supply, Buck's Sentry Market, and Kar Kare.

I would also like to thank Carl, Gloria and Janelle for their help. Thanks everyone....we all had a blast!

The Secret Garden

Gold Beach Summer Theatre presents 'The Secret Garden' by Frances Hodgson Burnett, a musical adapted by R. Eugene Jackson.

Mary Lennox is left an orphan and comes to live with her reclusive uncle, Archibald Craven. Mary finds Misselthwaite Manor dark, gloomy and secretive. She discovers a walled and locked secret garden where flowers have not been tended for many years. The garden was sealed by Craven when his wife died falling from a tree. Along with Dickon, a new found friend, Mary nourishes the garden back to health as she herself becomes happier. Hearing a distant cry in the huge manor, Mary searches until she finds Colin, Craven's weak and sickly and hidden son. Mary and the secret garden become his best medicine. A fine musical adaptation of the beloved classic.

Sandy Kirk director teams with Keith Fleshman, music director, to bring adults and youth actors to the stage. "The cast is a wonderful combination of people throughout the community. We have two father, daughter pairs in the cast, which is unusual" states Kirk.

Returning to the stage is Corrine Seibly and Nile Thingvall. Together they bring magic to the stage. Ruth VanderBurgh is the pianist. Donna Preiss is new to the stage as well as Tracy Ellenbecker, Perry Kishaba, Dale Giotonnini and Jean Fisher.

Katherine Nagy plays Martha and Terra Kohl plays Colin.

Backup is sung by Things; Jana Meszaros, Melissa Giolonnini, Laurya Echols, Jenna Miller and Lyndsay Young. Crystal Bonnotto carries the scene descriptions.

Set builders Larry Hering and Mike Parker have done a fine job. Lisa Nourse and Connic Szymczak combine makeup talents. And Sylvia Kilgore creates a wonderful garden with her paints.

"I am thrilled with the cast and the performance. It is a must see, come and experience live theatre!" Says Kirk.

The Secret Garden opens July 10 and closes July 26. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday curtain at 8pm. The theatre is located across from the Post Office on Moore street, downtown Gold Beach. Call (541) 247-2721 for Reservations.

Livestock Entries Up

Livestock entries at the Curry County Fair are the highest that they have been for decades, possibly at an all time high in some departments, according to Fair Manager, Ron Crook.

Diane Dishner, superintendent of the Dairy Goat Department, who was at the fairgrounds to organize for the upcoming show, remarked to Crook "When that big livestock barn was built, did you think there would ever be more entries than it could hold?"

The Fair Manager shook his head in amazement and picked up the phone to call another fairgrounds to arrange for extra paneling for livestock pens.

During his manager's report at the Fair Board meeting on Thursday evening, Crook reported the impressive statistics to enthusiastic Fair Board members.

There are nearly six times more poultry entries this year than last: 90 pre-entered now compared with 14 last year, 76 more exhibits, an increase of 592%.

There is a 184% increase of entries in the rabbits and cavies department. The 37 pre-registered exhibits are up by 24 entries from the 13 of last year.

Goats will be predominate in the livestock pavilion this year. The 176 entries are up by 26% from the 139 goats exhibited last year. Sheep entries, 94 head, are up 44% from the 65 of 1996. Cattle entries are up from the 8 of last year to 11 now.

The livestock entries are to be delivered to the fairgrounds on Wednesday, July 23. All other entries are due at the fairground on entry day, Tuesday, July 22.

For those who are unable to deliver entries to the fairgrounds, there are drop off sites at both ends of the county, Mory's in Brookings and Sea Breeze Florist in Port Orford. Entries should be prepared for transporting.

For further information see the Exhibitors Handbook which is available at supermarkets throughout the county or contact the Curry County Fairgrounds at 247-4541.

Community Activities Center

You are invited to the Port Orford Community Building on Thursday, July 17, for a dessert social and presentation of schematic design drawings for renovation of the community center by architect Jim Tronson.

The dessert social starts at 6:30pm-some desserts will be provided. You are invited to bring more to share with the group!

Presentation of schematic design drawings starts at 7:00pm.

Meet New Police Chief

The Port Orford City Council hosts an informal reception on Thursday, July 17, to introduce new police chief Russell Hunt and his family to the public. The reception takes place between 4-6:00pm. Cookies and coffee will be served. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Fair Computer Art

Computer art categories are new at the Curry County Fair this year. There will be awards for computer graphics displayed on screen as well as printouts and for computer enhanced photography.

On screen entries are due at the Fair Office by Tuesday, July 15. Entries should be submitted on 3.5" disks, in IBM format.

Additional rules are located in the Creative Art Department (page 71) in the Exhibitors Handbook which is available throughout the county. The lavender covered fairbooks are at newsstands in supermarkets and on counters at other local stores.

On-screen graphics entries may include originals, slide shows, animations, home pages, drawings, paintings, and photography.

Computer equipment and programming for the on-screen graphics is being donated for use at the Fair by Fay Stump of Rootwad Computers.

The computer art will be on display in the Docia Sweet Hall during the Fair, July 24 - 27th.

Computer enchanted photography will be in the photography section, upstairs in the Ocean View Room. An elevator is available for use by those who should avoid the stairs.

All art, except the on-screen graphics is due at the fairgrounds on Entry Day, Tuesday, July 22.

Awards for Theme go to depictions of "Heel and Toe, Away We Go" to the Curry County Fair & Rodeo.

There is an award of $25 cash for the best color theme entry in Photography exhibited by a novice amateur adult (first time exhibitor or one who never won an award in amateur division). Curry Arts and Crafts sponsor the cash award.

There is an opportunity to win a free season pass to the Fair by submitting a statement that begins "My Favorite Ad in the 1997 Exhibitors Handbook. "

Sunset Garden Club & CRT

There's a handsome new addition at the Library/City Hall: a large planter, with built-in seating, has suddenly appeared near the flagpole.

The original idea came from Bonnie Allen, a member of the CRT Beautification Committee, who was inspired by the Sunset Garden Club's planter boxes along the highway. Why couldn't there be a planter at the City Hall/Library? The building is quite visible from 101 - it should be a part of the over-all "101 Beautification Plan". The members of the Sunset Garden Club enthusiastically agreed, and jointly the two Beautification Committees prepared a plan, which was Okayed by the City Council.

The design for the planter was Joan Geiser's and Jon Porter and Joan and Al Geiser provided the physical labor. (Joan and Al are co-chairs of the Quality of Life Committee of the CRT - the Beautification Committee is one part.) Funds for the materials came from bed-tax money granted to the Sunset Garden Club's Beautification Committee. (Ruth Bryant and Lucille Burroughs made the application, and worked on the plan.) Rebar was donated by Western Builders Supply. Garden club member Barbara Breuer and her husband Rudy donated soil. Public Works leveled the area beforehand. The garden club will purchase plants. And the club will care for the plantings.

The finished project is a fine example of a co-operative effort among many people

Oregon Coast Music Festival

Here are so more events taking place during the Oregon Coast Music Festival.

Golden Bough will perform on Friday, July 18, at 12:30pm at Shore Acres State Park, south of Charleston, in a free lunch-time concert. The music of Golden Bough is rooted in Celtic traditions of Ireland, Scotland, Europe and America.

Mid-festival Saturday, July 19, will provide the perfect place to take your favorite dancing partner. Two big bands will perform, starting at 8:00pm, at the North Bend Community Center. It's About Time Big Band was formed in the late 1980's by demand of people on south coast who wanted to dance to the tunes of the 40's and 50's. The Oregon Coast

Lab Band started with two ambitious adults, Greg and Patti Young, and three local musical students five years ago. Today it is working towards a goal of 200 members throughout southern Oregon. Tickets are 5-$9 for this show.

On Sunday, July 20, at 2:00pm, the Dave Lee Trio will perform a special brand of contemporary jazz at the Boathouse on the campus of the Oregon Institute of Marine Biology in Charleston. Tickets are $15 for this show which includes a champagne reception afterwards.

This year's music festival also includes a bluegrass concert. The Sugar Beets will perform on Wednesday, July 23 at 8:00pm, in the Barn Community Center in Bandon. Tickets are 5-$9 for this show.

Broadway Thespians

The On Broadway Thespians production of William Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream presents a number of "firsts" for the Coos Bay group, according to director Judy Kobrin.

His is the first time that the Thespians have attempted a full-length Shakespeare production (although, Kobrin notes, she did direct a parody last July called Shakespeare Exposed). This is also the first time the Thespians have commissioned original music for a production. Darrin Muir of Myrtle Point has composed an original score of incidental music. "This is a contemporary production," notes Kobrin, "and Darrin's score, with its elements of pop, jazz and new age fusion is a perfect backdrop for the fantasy."

This will also be the first time the Thespians have commissioned original costumes for the fairy creatures. Ruth Ann McSurdy Wong of Bandon is creating the fairy costumes. Coquille artist Dana Gronemyer is the set artist.

While the productions is billed as being a "contemporary" interpretation, Kobrin is quick to note that it will portray the traditional message of young love and fantasy contained in the work. "I could not bring myself to tamper with Shakespeare, it seems so arrogant. However, I believe that the play needs a contemporary look in order to enlarge the real life/fantasy contrast."

The production opens at the On Broadway Theater, 226 South Broadway, Coos Bay, on July 18 and will run for ten performances over the following three weekends. Tickets are $7 general admission, and $6 for seniors and students. Reservations can be made by calling The Box Office at 269-2720.

Q. Why it is impossible to send a telegram to Washington today?

A: Because he's dead.

Dolores Mary Montgomery

Born, Dolores Mary Harnitz March 5, 1931 in Los Angeles, CA. Went home to be with Jesus July 14, 1997 in her home in Port Orford after a long illness.

She married Herman Montgomery on September 16, 1948 in Kingsman, Arizona.

She was preceded in death by two brothers Mike and Danny. She is survived by her husband Herman (Monty) Montgomery Sr., a son Herman Jr., daughter Priscilla and Vernon Lang, Katrina Montgomery and Dolores and Richard Seagrave, a brother James O'Briant. Her grandchildren are Jason, Diana, Sam and Joe Lang, Melisa and Mark Fowler and Jessica Kurka. Her great grand daughters were Ashley and Anesa Fowler.

Mass will be held Saturday at 4pm by Father Krath at St. John the Baptist Catholic Church. Private burial will be held later at the Port Orford Cemetery.

Dolores attended both St. John the Baptist Catholic Church and Port Orford Christian Center. She enjoyed taking her flowers to decorate church. Dolores was a very active volunteer with the Common Good until her illness forced her to stop. She was a past member of the Port Orford Jay-c-etts & Rotarians. Dolores had the gift of intercessory prayer and was always willing to pray. She was loved by all she touched.

Antique Dog

Are you ready for rock 'n' roll with a bite? Get ready for Antique Dog with special guest Jack Ponting playing all original tunes at Lloyd's of Bandon on July 18 and 19.

Antique Dog ain't just four old guys playing the same ol' songs. Take these titles for example: "I Feel Bad (But I still blame you)," "Black Tomcat," "Lost In a Dream," "Start Again," and "Lay Your Money Down." You won't find those on any current CD, but you can hear them live at Lloyd's.

The band that calls Katz Juice and Java in its home consists of Faron "The Domestic Animal Gone Wild" Rieger on lead vocals and piano; Scott "The Stick" Spencer on bass; Eddy "The Gravedigger" Houck on rhythm and lead guitar; and Monte "Warren" Harrison on drums.

South Coast legend singer/songwriter Jack Ponting from Port Orford will join the band on mandolin, guitar and piano during the Friday and Saturday performances. Ponting is best known for forming the Port Orford Meteorites band.

When asked to describe their style of music, Faron replied, "We don't really sound like anybody. It's 'rock 'n' roll rage."

The only charge for the event is one Scooby snack at the door. Get a taste of the band that plays music with a bite.

County Fair Flower Sale

Attention plant lovers! The Curry County Home Health/Hospice Booth will be all abloom at the Curry County Fair July 24-27.

Hospice volunteers and staff of Home Health/Hospice will be selling plants and flowers at the fair this year. Volunteers and local merchants have prepared many indoor and outdoor arrangements for gardening enthusiasts.

In addition, the fair will be the kick-off for the annual Hospice Bulb Sale. Spring blooming bulbs such as daffodils, tulips and crocus will be ordered and delivered in time for fall planting.

For more information about Hospice or the Bulb Sale, contact Pattie at 247-7084 or Shelly at 469-0405.

investment separate from the total. The Library leases its space from the City at a rate calculated to pay its electricity. Maintenance is in the Library budget.

Future Facility Port Orford Library District has a small Reserve Fund for expansion but no land and no building.

A 1987 Building Program developed by Jim Sheppke (Now State Librarian), suggested that a 5,000 sq. ft. facility might be adequate for 20 years. Since 10 of those years have elapsed and since our population is rising and Library use rising faster-that estimate is low.

The Port O ford Public Library Foundation A non-profit corporation now exists. Its purpose is to promote the growth and excellence of the Port Orford Public Library. Its immediate goal is to solicit tax-exempt donations for a Building Fund

A new building is clearly needed. Since public funding is out of favor, strong private effort is going to be required.

Ideas and support from the whole town will be essential. We owe Port Orford's future a Library we can use and grow with. The three things it will take are Vision Energy and Teamwork.

Letter to the Editor,

This is a note of appreciation and recognition for those involved in the Gift of Sight Program.

As community relations director for Curry General Hospital, I get to dive into lots of do-good, feel-good community projects. We often collaborate with other health agencies and civic groups; we sometimes celebrate our successes with appropriate yip-yips, hoopla and fanfare.

Because it involves seeking local applicants for a charitable act, the Gift of Sight Program doesn't travel the path of bright lights or banner-waving. But it's one of my personally most satisfying projects.

In my late 20s, a viral infection wiped out the vision in my right eye. Reoccurring infections over the next five years almost resulted in no eye at all. Then a cornea transplant restored my sight. Yeah, I know. It was "just" the result of medical science and a darned good health insurance plan. But to me it was a miracle. Still is.

Happily, John Rush, O.D.: American Eye Instruments, Alcon Corporation, the Curry County Lions clubs, John Flaxel, M.D. and the hospital – all who contribute to the program – also believe in miracles.

A deep bow and hugs all around to the Gift of Sight participants, including the two patients. The "Gift" only works when someone volunteers to do the receiving.

I'm looking forward to meeting the 1998

applicant next spring

Frann Grossman, Director
Community Relations
Curry General Hospital

Letter to the Editor,

The Port Orford Rotary Club wants to thank the community for its support of our Jubilee Pancake Breakfast. This year's event was one of the most successful ever, with 485 adults and 72 children served. Our first guests arrived ten minutes before the scheduled 7:00 AM opening and were served while most of the Rotarians were having their own breakfast. The flow of pancake, ham, scrambled egg and o-j customers stayed steady-to-heavy until shortly before closing at 11:00.

Many locals and visitors offered compliments on the cuisine, the atmosphere, and the efficiency of the Club's production line. Thanks to the donation of some of the "fixins" (the eggs from Nest Best eggs. and the milk from Umpqua Dairy and the "at or below cost" sale of the rest by Sentry Market (premium ham from United Grocers) the profit was about $1,600, all of which will be devoted to the community betterment. activities of Port Orford Rotary.

Nothing is ever as easy as it looks, and the Rotarians themselves deserve a lot of credit for showing up at 5:30 AM to kick off one of the nicest 4th of July Jubilees in a while. The Port Orford-Langlois School District couldn't have been more helpful or accommodating, with Driftwood Elementary again serving as the pancake eaters' magnet, drawing nearly half the town to the sparkling, healthful, and nearly too small space.

The Rotary Club thanks one and all for the effort and support and invites everyone to come back next year for another easy, tasty way to support our community.

David Wilken
'97 Breakfast Chairman

Park Clean-up a Success

Thanks to all those who helped with the Buffington Park Clean up last Saturday. Fifteen people helped ranging in age from 10 to 70. We all had a great time weedin', trimmin', cuttin' and cleanin'. The group shared a wonderful potluck lunch after the work was done. A special thanks to Oregon Pacific for a generous donation of bottled water, and to Jon and Tobe Porter who donated sodas and Ed and Nancy Dowdy who donated plates and napkins even though they weren't able to help with the clean-up. The success of this first clean-up may prompt a second next month – stay tuned!

Letter to the Editor,

I would like to thank all the Jubilee committee members for the mess they left the Port Orford Community building in. The city does not require much to rent their building, a small fee and your promise to leave it clean for the next occupants. I had it rented for Friday, July 11. What a surprise I got when I opened the door, a total mess. Thank you so much to Dan Georgeson at the City Hall for taking time to contact a few of the committee members to let them know it needed to be cleaned. Who cleaned it? We did. None of you bothered to show up.

Maybe next year the city will think twice before renting it to you. It's things like this that make it harder for people that care. This is your community, too. Wake up, appoint a cleaning committee. Thanks again Dan even though your telephone calls drew no response.

Mary Hathorne

More Stock Car Races

The one-mile stock car road course at Coos Bay International Speedway is gaining so much interest and cars that promoter Don Brymer has added more race dates to the 1997 schedule. They are July 27, August 3, September 7, 14, 28 and October 12.

It's not too late to build your affordable 4 cylinder race cars with 'stock' rules at Larry's Tire in Coos Bay.

Coos Bay Speedway is the only road racecourse on the West Coast that one can see the entire track from grandstand seats.

Bring the whole family for an exciting day at the races and mark down the dates now.

Gates open at 10:00am with practice beginning at 11:30am. Time trials start at 1:00pm and the show starts at 2:00pm. Advance discount tickets are available at the box office. The phone number is 1-800-676-7563.

Tax Exempt Mutual Funds

While Tax Exempt Municipal Bond Funds are not appropriate for saving towards retirement, they are an excellent place to have your money when you are retired because the interest income is tax exempt. An individual in the 36 percent Federal tax bracket, in a fund that has 6 percent yield would have a tax equivalent yield of 9.35 percent. Remember too that this interest may be exempt from state taxes as well.

This is for educational purposes only, for specific recommendations see your tax advisor.

Langlois Public Library News by Tobe Porter, Library Director

Well, we didn't get the $125,000 federal construction grant from the Oregon State Library. Through a very fair point system, we ranked 7th, but with just $380,000 to satisfy a total of $1.4 million worth of requests, only the first four libraries were funded. It is certainly disappointing news, but it is not daunting. We will continue to raise money, we will build a bigger library, it will just take a little longer. We greatly appreciate the show of local support for the project with community donations of over $5,000. Don't give up, we aren't, we're just getting started.

Our cataloging computer is up and running again so we have lots of new books for children and youth as well as new westerns and mysteries. Be sure to check out Priscilla Lang's delightful owl collection when you stop by to check out your summer reading tools.

Letters Policy - One More Time

There is a rumor going around town that Port Orford Today! will not print letters by certain individuals. This is not true.

Letters must be less than 250 words. They are printed if space is available. We try not to print things that are libelous, false, or needlessly inflammatory. Preference is given to CONSTRUCTIVE criticism over DESTRUCTIVE criticism.

Senior News By Mary Yoder

Just have to tell you about the surprise party for Norma Ellis on July 11th. She works at the center on Friday afternoons - answers the phone etc. She retired as head of the nutrition committee after 5 whole years. The committee decided to give her a surprise party - didn't even tell her husband. Was it ever a surprise. Those doing the planning and cookies, cake and punch were Bessie Laursen, Lorraine Hass and Kay Neal. They presented her with a real nice plaque and some other things. Norma says thank all of you for coming and she was really pleased. Others helping clean up and all were: Greta Carver, June Dennison, and Thelma Lagace. Her husband was picked up and brought to the party by one of the members - couldn't leave him out.

Now July 12 was the luncheon. Nice food and the Sing Alongs sang - just the songs I like - wish they would do it more often. Those volunteers who made the luncheon so nice: Marge Kyle, Thelma Lagace, Lorraine Hass, Norma Ellis, Kay Neal. Taking care of money Peigi Stahl with. E. David Klein and Bill Butt doing dishes.

July 13 breakfast - boy what a turn out way over 100 came to eat. Here are the volunteers who really worked: Lee Hyle, June Dennison, Marge Kryle, Bessie Laursen, Lew Tubbs, Greta Carver, Betty Harper, Hazel Klima, Art Klima - Dishes - Dick Clothier and Bill Butt - Cashier Peigi Stahl. Rummage sale - Bobbetta Kron and What's his Name. You see the breakfast and rummage sale open at 8am. Some volunteers are there really early to get things started. Pinochle will be July 21st at 7pm.

Now I said last week the board meeting - it was decided to have the back sorta porch rebuild. So the vote was 100%. The builder is doing the job.

Like to say a few words - one of our special members passed away - she will be missed. She had a special place she always sat - and enjoyed coming to the center - Her Name - Eula Furney.

One more thing don't forget the 60 year party Saturday July 19th from 1 to 4 - you all come - celebrate with the Beldens. Think of the things we used to do.

Think of the things we used to say. Think of each happy yesterday. Some times I sigh and some times I smile. But I keep each olden golden while All to myself.
