Community Supports Skateboarders By Evan Kramer

The Port Orford City Council was greeted by a packed house and many new faces at their Monday night meeting.

Public Works Director Jerry McNurlin reported to the council he wanted to purchase two used service trucks from the State of Oregon. These 1990's models would replace the city's two 1970's model trucks. Each would cost between $4,500 and $5,500. He also asked the council to purchase an all wheel drive vehicle for use by the city crew working on the filters at the sewer system drain field near Agate Beach. This vehicle would cost $7600. McNurlin told the council that the public works had the funds to buy the three vehicles. The council agreed by consensus to buy the two trucks and all wheel vehicle.

Fire Chief George Gehrke told the council his department responded to ten calls in August including six vehicle accidents, two brush fires, one house fire and one-fifth-wheel fire. The department has added four new fire fighters. Gehrke said the department needs a new truck. The two city fire trucks are now 25 and 18 years old.

Police Chief Russ Hunt told the council the department had handled 27 criminal cases in August including 12 felonies, 14 misdemeanors and one warrant. They wrote 42 traffic citations and gave out 15 written warnings. Hunt has completed a police reserve policy and said October 1 was the tentative date for bringing the additional police officer on line. 28 applications for the position were turned in and the applicants will be given a written exam at the Community Building.

Skateboard Ordinance

Mayor Gary Doran acknowledged all the young skateboarders in attendance at the meeting and moved the portion of the meeting related to a skateboard ordinance to the beginning of the agenda. He thanked the young people for coming to the meeting and declared that despite what the ordinance said there is "no emergency".

The ordinance which had deeply affected many in the community who had seen it turned out to be a copy of the one used by Coos Bay to regulate skateboarders and rollerskaters. It would have prohibited use of skateboards and rollerskates on Highway 101, defined fines not to exceed $500 for the first offence and forfeiture of skateboards by repeat offenders. The ordinance described the situation as an "emergency" saying the health, welfare and safety of the people of Port Orford "require this ordinance have immediate effect".

Chief Hunt said there had been four complaints received regarding skateboarding. Councilor Jim Campbell asked Hunt "Is there a problem with skateboarders"? Hunt told Campbell he "wouldn't call it a problem". The audience greeted this with applause. Brenda Dell, mother of one of the skateboarders, told the council the kids had done a good job of policing themselves. Frank Smith addressed the council and told them to get the skateboard ramp started in Buffington Park. He said we could solve the problem using 10% of the energy in the council chambers to get the ramp done. City Parks and Recreation Planner Jason Seivers told the council he had held several meetings with the skateboarders and four of them had worked on a design of their choice for the ramp. He said the city was waiting for legal opinion on the city's liability with a skateboard facility. Jasper Shumaker-Pruitt, one of the dozen skateboarders at the meeting, spoke on the positive aspects of the skate park. Councilor Jim Campbell made a motion to revisit the ordinance in 90 days which would be the December council meeting. The motion passed unanimously. Jerry McNurlin noted that the issue of liability is with the insurance company, not the lawyer.

Three cheers for Russ Hunt, Jason Seivers, Brenda Dell and everyone else who showed up at the council meeting regarding this issue.

Councilor Ralph Donaldson offered a resolution stating if there was a positive response from the insurance company concerning the liability issue the City would make development of the skate facility a top priority for the Parks Department. The council voted unanimously in favor of this motion.

Cellular Phone Competition

The council heard a land use appeal hearing from US Cellular regarding a city planning commission decision at their June 3 meeting. The commission turned down a request from US Cellular for a conditional use permit for a transmission tower at the top of Deady Street on property belonging to Russel Ucolano. Planning Director Butch Parker spoke first and told the council councilor Robert Warring had ex parte contact. Warring said he had attended the May planning commission meeting and heard both sides of the issue. Parker recommended Warring not vote on the appeal because if he did it would leave grounds for an appeal.

Warring strenuously objected to not getting to vote. Jim Campbell said he had spoken to city attorney Randal Tosch and Tosch recommended Warring shouldn't vote. Ralph Donaldson stepped in and made a motion that Robert Warring be excluded from voting on the appeal. It passed 4-1 with Carl Eskelson the sole dissenter. Warring was excused from participating in the hearing. Butch Parker then made it clear that the council only hear from people already on record from the two planning commission meetings.

John Blackhurst, a lawyer representing US Cellular, said the company didn't have a cell phone site in Port Orford. He described the tower as a 130 foot tall wood monopole painted brown with an adjoining 10'x20' equipment shelter located on a 50'x50' portion of Ucolano's property. He said the company had tried to minimize the effect of the tower on the environment. Councillor Ruth Jamieson asked Parker what the council's job was regarding the appeal. He told her it was to determine if the applicant met all four criteria for a conditional use permit in a residential one zone for a transmission tower and base their vote on that. Councillor Tim Sparks made a motion to approve US Cellular's conditional use permit but it died for lack of a second. Carl Eskelson then offered a motion upholding the planning commission's June 3 decision. It passed 4-1 with Sparks voting no. Butch Parker told the council US Cellular had 21 days to appeal the council's actions to the Land Use Board of Appeals.

Other Business

Co-chairs of the Community Resource Team Ed and Nancy Dowdy said the next meeting of the CRT would be on Thursday, September 11, 7:00pm, at the Senior Center. The CRT will hold elections for officers. Nancy Dowdy said the $30,000 Forest Service grant for the city entrance signs and Highway 101 beautification had been received. Ed Dowdy said bids had been put out for work on the wayfinder site at Battle Rock Park and some work might go to local contractors.

Jason Seivers told the council he is leaving his job in 38 hours. His position has been funded by a Forest Service grant. He spoke to the council about the Community Center/Library plans. He presented the seven options worked out by the project design committee and architect James Tronson. The preferred option is number seven, which involves a complete remodeling of the Community Building and American Legion Hall and the construction of a new library with a second story for classes and other community activities. Seivers told the council they need a new project manager for the project since he is leaving. Ralph Donaldson made a motion for the city to adopt option #7 as the preferred plan. It passed unanimously. Donaldson then thanked Seivers for all the work he has done for the city. Seivers was given a heartfelt standing ovation by many in the audience. Ed Dowdy volunteered to serve as co-liasion with Nancy Dowdy on the community center project working with the council. They will also take the lead searching for 1.7 million dollars in grant money to pay for the center.

Citizens Concerns

Vietnam Veteran Mark Creighton told the council he was concerned about the City not recognizing the Missing in Action servicemen. He said September 15 is National Prisoner of War and Missing in Action day. He asked the council if they would issue a proclamation making September 15 MIA-POW recognition day. He asked them to fly the MIA-POW flag below the Oregon flag. Ralph Donaldson made a motion approving a proclamation making September 15 MIA-POW honor day and that the MIA-POW flag be flown on a daily basis. The council approved this motion 5-1.

Port Orford resident Brian Conaway spoke to the council about farm wastes and garbage polluting the lake near his home on Idaho Street. His property adjoins the portion of the lake that used to be a log pond leading into Garrison Lake. He said the neighboring property at 18th and Arizona was being used as a farm. He said the former city manager had made illegal deals with the property owner. Conaway asked the council to enforce the city ordinances and make a riparian border for the property. Jason Seivers spoke to the council in support of Conaway and said the farm has encroached on a large section of Port Orford city property. Mayor Doran said this is an enforcement issue and indicated it was time to take action.

The council had taken over three hours and fifteen minutes to get to this point. They took care of a few more items of business and then adjourned with several items of old and new business, reports, consent calendar and other items left for a continuation of this meeting on Monday, September 29.

In remembering these historic men and woman, it is with profound respect, and solemn appreciation that we single out those who paid the heaviest prices. Among them are the prisoners of war and those missing in action. Their courage and devotion to duty, honor, and country – often in the face of brutal treatment and torture by their captors – will never be forgotten.

On September 15, 1997, and from that day forward the "Missing in Action, Prisoners of War" flag will be flown at the Port Orford City Hall. This flag is a symbol of our nation's covenant with those who defend us and with the loved ones they leave behind – the brave individuals who have earned our everlasting gratitude and their families who deserve our deepest sympathy.

Now therefore, we, the City of Port Orford, do hereby proclaim September 15 as Prisoner of War and Missing in Action recognition day, and from this day forward will fly the MIA/POW flag to honor all prisoners of war and missing in action still unaccounted for as a result of their dedicated service to our great country.

Approved by the Port Orford City Council This 8th day of September, 1997.

Port Orford Library

The Port Orford Library is having another Gigantic Colossal book sale on Saturday September 13 – in the City Council chambers – starting at 9am and continuing until 2pm. Our little library has become crammed to the rafters! Librarian Bonnie Wagner did some severe weeding as part of her recent inventory-taking, and of course there are many books given to the library for the Friends to sell, so this promises to be a rich trove. As always, the proceeds of the sale will benefit our library, so it is a win-win situation for book lovers and library supporters, and the library.

In addition, there will be our usual selection of plants grown by some of the Friends of the Library – this is a great time to put in perennials, and anytime is always a great time to find something unusual in houseplants.

And due to Bonnie's recent housecleaning/purging in an effort to make space: there will be a silent auction for the library's now-unused stereo set which consists of turntable, tuner, headphones, and two large speakers. And the records, which were used for library programs, will be sold. And a small 4-drawer metal card-catalogue. And who knows what treasures? She will uncover between now and the 13th.

As though this weren't enough incentive, we will also feature the famous cookies of our own Peigi Stahl, and coffee too. Come one, come all!

Letter to the Editor,

As a member of Team Continental and Co-chief of Time and Scoring for our Labor Day Race at the Port Orford Airport, I would just like to thank all the Port Orford residents and businesses for making our stay in your town so hospitable!

It was great to see all the announcements in your August 28 publication welcoming us to your area; and I, for one, look forward to coming back next year! Thanks for the great weather, however, I'm sure that's due to the fact that I packed long underwear, heavy jackets, rain gear and gloves. I loved not having to unpack them!

Hope to see you all next year!

Nat'l Register of Historic Sites

Are you interested in how historical buildings are designated as "Historical?" Join members of the Point Orford Heritage Society this Friday, September 12, when they meet with Henry Kunowski of the State Historical Preservation Office to discuss listing the Port Orford Heads Lifesaving Station site.

Using the designation of the Port Orford Lifesaving Station - considered the finest example of its kind on the west coast - as an example, Mr. Kunowski will tell how the listing process is done, from initial application to federal recognition. Mr. Kunowski will review the paperwork and research his office has prepared for the Port Orford site.

Several buildings in the Port Orford area are already recognized as historically significant and are listed on the National Registry. Included on the list are the Sixes Hotel and the Hughes House. Other buildings in the area may also be eligible. This will be a great opportunity to find out which buildings may qualify, what the application process is and what the benefits of being recognized are.

Everyone is welcome to attend this presentation, and invited to join in the discussion and have your questions about historical buildings answered. The program will be at the Port Orford Heads State Park in Port Orford, Friday, September 12 at 7pm. For more information call 332-2352.

Letter to the Editor,

If our so called "Chief of Police", that nobody every sees, is afraid to go after those high speed drivers, I'd like to make a suggestion that they move the yellow no parking zone, back two car lengths, on corners where you have to turn with the traffic.

As it is at the speed the cars and trucks are coming through town, it is not safe to turn onto the Highway. If you don't get your speed up to at least 45 miles, you chance getting run over. We have a lot of older people driving in town who don't realize you have to go at least 45 or 50 to keep up with the traffic. Drivers are tailgating you, or switching lanes between local cars that are obeying the speed limit.

We've had one bad wreck already because of a drive like this.

Is it easier to do the paperwork when somebody gets killed than to stop those drivers and ticket them?

I thought the police where supposed to be on the streets, handling these problems, not sitting at a desk, doing all of City Hall's paperwork.

Do you feel the same way? If so please sign the petition so maybe we can get something done about these problems.

Letter to the Editor,

Ninety-nine percent of the yards in Port Orford and its adjacent areas are tasteful and attractive. Then there's the other one-percent. According to County Commissioner Bill Roberts, there is no legal recourse to remedy somebody else littering his own rural private property. What they can't toss on the street they can toss into their own yards.

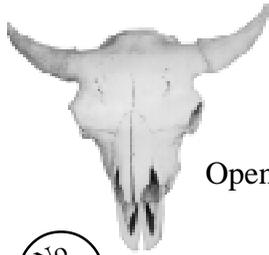

I would like recourse against squalor, slovenliness and litter bugging of private rural property in those few instances where people with little personal pride dump indiscriminately on their yards in plain public view. A long overdue statute protecting legitimate land use, prohibiting unsightly dumping of broken glass, burned-out and unrepairable wrecks, etc., and providing a reasonable grace period for owner remedy without penalty (but with inspection and verification of the remedy) is necessary to eliminate the eyesores and child endangering hazards inflicted by so few.

If you agree, cut out the last sentence, tape it to a postcard, sign it, and send it to Bill Roberts, County Commissioner, PO Box 746, Gold Beach, OR 97444.

Senior News By Bobbetta Kron

As you know, Mary Yoder, your very capable writer, is unable to be up and around yet, so some of us are filling in for her.

This coming Saturday, Sept. 13 is our Senior Luncheon, beginning at 11:30am good food and good companionship, and along with that a rummage sale from 8am to 1:30pm.

On Sunday morning is our monthly breakfast from 8am to 1:30pm. And again a rummage sale during those same hours. Thanks to the community for their cooperation for supporting our Senior Center in these fund-raisers.

We're planning a dinner to honor all our hard working cooks and all that help in the kitchen in one way or an other, on Sept. 27th. Lets all turn out and help to honor them. Some entertainment is also being planned.

That night, Sept. 27th, our dances will resume beginning at 7:30pm. Jack and Ruthie Champayne will be here with their great music. Plan on attending – we need a large crowd in order to keep our dances going. I have really missed dancing. Hope you come and join us.

Stop in at the Center anytime between 9:30am through 3:30pm Monday through Friday. Yo8u can pick up a September calendar to keep up on things that are going on. And have a cup of coffee

CRT

The September meeting of the CRT (Community Resource Team) will be at the Senior Center on Thursday, September 11th, on our regular schedule: second Thursday of the month; meeting will be gin at 7pm, come early to socialize (6pm till 7pm). All CRT meetings are important for keeping up with plans for Port Orford's future and reports of current community achievements; this month's meeting promises to be exceptionally interesting and vital, since on tap are 1) elections of officers, plus 2) a report from the consulting team which is working on our Wayfinder project, plus 3) the advice of Phillip Johnson of the "Coast Watch" project who will speak about public access to our coastline.

It is essential to have energetic and thoughtful citizen participation as changes come inevitably to Port Orford. Now is the time to choose CRT's slate of officers – to hear updates on projects in process – to talk with your neighbors about concerns and enthusiasms.

Cape Blanco State Park

On Saturday, September 13, 1997, there will be an Audubon hike from Sixes River to Cape Blanco. Meet Jane and Frank Cramer at the Historic Hughes House picnic area which is down by the river at 1:30pm. The hike happens rain or shine! Plan on 2 to 3 hours, bring water and snacks.

Computer Topics

Maybe I lit a fire under someone or maybe I'm just in tune with the times but Harborside's home page now sports a link to a massive amount of information on 56k modems for those who want to know more than was in last week's column. Visit www.harborside.com.

As you will see from the ad on this page, we now have the 440LX chip set motherboard systems. This new chip set is the first to offer support for the Accelerated Graphics Port (AGP) which promises to speed up video tremendously. In present systems the CPU has to send all the data to the video card via the bus which runs, at best, at about 33Mhz and may be busy with other tasks. The new AGP port is a direct connection between the CPU and the video system which allows data transfer at up to 133Mhz without going thru the bus. Although AGP video cards are not yet available, they will be shortly and this combination should really scream on video games or other multimedia software!

Langlois Public Library

Big doings in North Curry this week-end—book sales at Port Orford and Langlois Public Libraries.

This is your chance to stockpile books for the stormy winter nights coming all too soon. Both libraries need your support because both are trying to raise money to add to their respective construction funds. Isn't it great news that these two small libraries are used so often that bigger facilities are now needed?

The Port Orford Library Book Sale will be Saturday, September 13 from 9:00a.m.

Auction and Barbecue

A special block of tickets have been set aside for last-minute purchasers wishing to attend Curry Health Foundation's first Western-style Auction and Barbecue.

Ticket sales, originally set to close last week, have been extended to accommodate those intending to come but who haven't yet gotten around to buying tickets. Price is $10 for those 9 and older, $5 for children 4 to 8 and those under 4 or over 90 can attend free.

The benefit will be held from noon to 3:00pm on Saturday, September 13, at Wedderburn Ranch, site of the historic racetrack and the current home of Dr. and Kris Williams. The ranch is located about two miles up the north bank of the Rogue River, east of Highway 101. An alternate site, Gold Beach Union High School, has been reserved in case of rain.

An outpouring of support from the community has resulted in a wonderful spectrum of items for auction. Everything from a dinner for two at the Chowderhead restaurant to custom lures by Cody Williams, a 12-year-old entrepreneur and supporter of the foundation, will be available.

The best-dressed cowboy or cowgirl attending will win a $25 gift certificate from Driftwood Tack & Western Wear. The Gold Coast Fiddlers will provide music.

Tickets are available at the following locations: One Horse Coffee Club, Corner Drug and Curry General Hospital in Gold Beach, Mory's and Driftwood Tack & Western Wear in Brookings and the Downtown Fun Zone and Curry Family Medical in Port Orford. Phone the foundation office for more information at 541-247-6621 or 1-800-445-8085, extension 109.

Letter to the Editor,

I wish to thank the Port Orford City Council for allowing me to voice my opinion on the proposed ordinance concerning the skateboard/roller skate issue on Monday night September 8th. I hope that it will help them choose a different form of action. There are so few activities for the young people to do in this area and I feel an effort should go into finding and funding an alternative rather than to keep taking away rights and activities these young people participate in. I would rather see them out and about, not banned from our streets. There are enough restrictions, rules and laws in today's world without placing more on our future generation that not only effects today's youth but also the generations that follow.
