Port Orford Shines

By Evan Kramer

Things came up great for the City of Port Orford last week. The Revenue Bond, which was strongly supported by the City, won by an 80 to 20 percent margin at Tuesday's Special District's election. The sewer outfall project is proceeding full speed ahead. On Friday the property sale between Camille Mouchawar, owner of Agate Beach RV Park, and Oregon State Parks was finalized and ownership of Agate Beach RV Park changed hands. The property is now an Oregon State Park. Port Orford Mayor Gary Doran made it official that the sale had gone through on Friday.

Oregon State Parks Manager Frank Eckley said that the people living at Agate Beach RV Park would be given time to relocate and assistance in moving. He said the first thing Parks would do is start working on a management plan for their Agate Beach property. Eckley said it would be a day use park and for the time being not have an entrance fee. Dave Wright, manager of the resource and planning division for Oregon State Parks, said on Monday that State Parks had paid $1,415,000 for the property and that it had been a cash sale. Mr. Mouchawar has kept 5 acres on the hilly south end of the property with state parks buying the other 35 acres. Wright said the park would be a day use park and they would keep the status quo for now. Wright said state parks would work with the seven tenants at the park and give them through summer to move.

Port Orford residents and visitors were treated to something very special on Saturday with the display of kites at Dock Beach during part of the Wild Rivers Coast WindFest. Words aren't adequate for this job – you had to see the large number and variety of colorful kites flying in the air to appreciate the scene. Some of the kites including one of a bear were very large and to top off the spectacle there was a triple arch of kites forming a rainbow at Dock Beach. The crowds at the Port Overlook were impressive as the view from there was awesome dude! Sweet!

There were lots of things going on last Saturday including a going away party for Leo and Mildred Welch at the Port Orford Senior Center. The Welch's are moving to Rancho Cucamonga next month to live with their daughter Patricia. Many people came by the Senior Center to say goodbye, take photos and in some cases say or sing something. Mary Yoder read a poem entitled "Farewell is not Goodbye". Mary then reminded people that there will be a potluck at the Center on Saturday, May 31 and hinted that she wouldn't mind if someone brought deviled eggs.

Leo and Mildred Welch have lived in Port Orford for 24 years and on July 4 of this year will have been married for 62 years. Before moving to Port Orford they both lived in Ontario, California for 52 years and attended Chaffee High School where they met. Leo did much of the work back in 1986-87 building the Senior Center along with lead man Lee Heyl and Henry Kron. The main Center building is made from five mobile units from the Coast Guard, which had been located at Houser. The Center paid $5,000 for the units and then $3,000 to move them to Port Orford. Leo told me he put in 5,000 hours working on the Center, which celebrated its Open House on January 30, 1988. In his "spare" time he refinished antique furniture.

Mildred Welch was Queen of the Port Orford Jubilee in 1987 and served as vice-president of the Center. Leo served in the Navy during World War II as an aviation machinist mate. He said on Saturday that both he and Mildred will miss these people and that they had made a lot of friends here.

May Port Meeting
By Jane Cramer

Commissioners Gifford Barnes, Ed Dowdy, Evan Kramer and George Welch as well as Port Manager Gary Anderson were present at the regular May meeting of the Port Of Port Orford Commission on May 20.

Kramer asked for an update on the Port's new tenant, Pac NorWest Charters. Anderson responded that the business would open on Thursday for the upcoming Memorial Day weekend.

Under new business, Anderson advised of proposed changes to Employee Health Insurance benefits which are necessary because of budget constraints in the coming fiscal year. Dowdy moved and Kramer seconded a motion to follow Anderson's recommendation. Gifford Barnes abstained due to a conflict of interest and the motion was passed unanimously by the other commissioners.

Anderson mentioned a need for Workers' Comp coverage for volunteers at the Port. This could be obtained at a rate of $353 for 520 volunteer hours per year through Special Districts. Several questions were raised during the discussion that followed and Anderson said he would come back with more information at the next meeting.

The next item of business concerned charging camping fees for people who camp at the Port. During the discussion which followed, commissioners were unsure whether or not Ordinance 96.1, Section 3.8, which prohibited camping at the Port, had ever been rescinded. Consensus was that the final action had not been taken. Kramer stated that he felt the Port should not be in competition with local RV parks. Bill Oleson said the matter had been discussed for 20 years and agreed that the Port should not compete with local businesses. Dowdy moved and Kramer seconded a motion to reinstate Ordinance 96.1, Section 3.8 if it had been rescinded and that appropriate signage 'No camping' and/or 'No Overnight Parking' be installed. Motion passed unanimously.

An agenda item that generated a lot of discussion concerned a proposed discount card to encourage sport launch activity. The object was to generate immediate increased cash flow and encourage more sport boat activity. Dowdy moved and Kramer seconded that the Port sell a punch card for $150. After the card is filled with ten punches, the boater will be awarded one free lift. The motion passed unanimously.

Next commissioners considered a proposal from William Rebhahn to purchase some Port property. The commissioners concluded that they were not interested in the proposal.

Under Old Business Anderson informed commissioners that summer dredging with a clamshell dredge would begin the first week in June. More discussion followed regarding preparation of a proposal for the Port to do it's own dredging with equipment provided by the Army Corps of Engineers. No action was taken at this time as more study is needed.

Dowdy reported on Windfest plans, particularly the portion that will occur on Port Beach.

Anderson reported on a meeting with ISSCO regarding the outstanding bill and the problems with the hoist. After several suggestions such as having the Port's attorney write a letter, having Anderson write a letter and asking that Laskey-Clifton's attorney write a letter to ISSCO, it was finally decided that Anderson should contact Laskey-Clifton about the invoice and billing to see if they will help with the ISSCO problem.

The commissioners voted unanimously to accept the Principles of Operation of the Planning Committee and to reinstate the Planning Committee with Dowdy as Chair.

After reviewing the Manager's Report and Financial Report, the commissioners adjourned into Executive Session.

Community Service Award

Hannah Swenson and Brandi Peabody, both juniors at Pacific High School, were selected to receive North Curry Families' and Children's Center sixth annual Youth Community Service Award. The students each received a plaque and a check for $100 from NCFCC Board Chair Larry Blount at the Pacific High School Awards assembly on Tuesday, May 20.

Hannah Swenson volunteered 322.5 hours and stated that "coaching soccer was one of my most challenging experiences, but also one of the most rewarding. Those first and second graders taught me more about patience, solving conflicts and motivation than I taught them about soccer." Hannah also served as a leader in the STARS (Students Today Aren't Ready for Sex) program in which she explains, "It gave me an opportunity to practice public speaking skills, and

Brandi Peabody served 119 volunteer hours in a wide range of activities. She engaged in service that assisted the elderly and provided tutoring for other students. She participated in environmental clean-up and aided her school by being active in fundraisers and helping with special projects and the mentoring program. Brandi explains: "The most beneficial activity I have performed would have to be when I tutored fellow high school students in an eight period class. I got to help them to be their best scholastically and share my knowledge."

Juniors at Pacific High School or home school junior level students are eligible for this award and each student completes an application including an adult recommendation and then undergoes an interview. This year the interview committee made up of two NCFCC board members – Laurie Feldhaus and Wilbur Green and the two youth recipients from last year – Tara Panter and Ruby Hiser and Pacific High School teacher Chris Eidermiller. Special thanks to this committee for their volunteer work. Funding for this award comes from local donations. If you have any questions about this or any of the programs at NCFCC, call 332-1042.

Letter to the Editor,

It is always difficult to bid farewell to a valued employee, especially when the farewell is necessitated solely by budget constraints. We are unhappy to announce that as of July 1, 2003, Virginia For-gatsch will no longer be on duty at the Port Orford Public Library.

We believe that our library needs a full time director as we move forward on the new library construction project. Unfortunately, due to limited resources, it is necessary to eliminate one part time staff position, and restructure positions to accommodate the new full time director position.

We thank Ms. For-gatsch for her many years of service to the library and to the community. She has a loyal following of patrons who appreciate her personal touch, and we all know her creative talents will be obviously missed. We are sad that we can't keep her on staff, and wish her every success in future endeavors.

Spring Garden Tour

The Sunset Garden Club will meet at the home at Lee Kincaid, at 10:00am on Saturday, May 31, to start this year's spring tour of special local gardens.

Included in the tour are the always special garden of Bud and Marilyn Sullivan, Paul Bodtke's greenhouse full of succulents, Emily Francona's beautiful and peaceful garden, Betty Hardegger's sun-drenched, healthy and happy garden, and then on to the parking lot at The Heads. From there it is a short walk to Little America where four gardens are waiting to be admired.

Directions and additional information will be available at Lee Kincaid's, which is two miles north of town, on Elk Hill Road. Call 332-9745 if you have questions.

Hazardous Waste Cleanup

Do you have old batteries in a drawer? Old paints in the garage? Old weed killer that you will never use? Then get rid of your household hazardous wastes on Friday, June 6 at Buffington Park from 4:00 to 7:00pm.

Examples of household hazardous waste are old paints, old batteries, antifreeze, brake fluids, herbicides, kerosene, rust removers, solvents, turpentine, weed killers, wood preservatives and mercury thermometers.

Reasons why these things can't get thrown in the trash with everything else are household hazardous wastes have toxic elements. If they are incinerated, the toxins will be released into the atmosphere. If they sit in a landfill, the toxins could leach into groundwater. Once toxins are released into the environment, they are harmful to human health and also to birds, fish and wildlife. Household hazardous wastes are collected separately so they can be disposed of in a way that minimizes these problems.

Please bring only small, sealed containers only.

We will not be able to accept any leaking containers, large drums, infectious wastes, or explosives.

This local household hazardous waste collection is sponsored by local members of the Kalmiopsis Audubon Society as a service to our Port Orford neighbors.

Kalmiopsis members will be shuttling the wastes to Brookings where Curry Transfer and Recycling and the Oregon DEQ are hosting this year's household hazardous waste collection on Saturday, June 7 from 10:00am to 3:00pm.

For more information about the local collection, call Ann at 332-0261.

Letter to the Editor,

I truly want to thank each citizen for taking their responsibility of voting seriously. It is so important to have courage to do what is right. I once again have seen my faith in the community come to fruition. I'm encouraged to see you have "stepped up to the plate." Now comes the hard part, that is paying for our decision at the poll, which will be less than if the vote had been no. Again thank you.

Letter to the Editor,

Several people in the Port Orford area responded to my article a few weeks ago and brought raffle tickets at $10 each. The raffle prize was a trip to Maui with airfare, condo, car, etc. It was a good deal and chances were good, as fewer 1600 tickets were sold. Proceeds of the raffle go to the League of Women Voters of Oregon.

The winning ticket was drawn at our convention in Eugene Saturday night, May 17. The winner was a woman from the Portland area. So, the first bad news is that no one in this area won. The second bad news is that you can't deduct what you spent, as the money goes to the part of the League which concentrates on action. That can also be good news if you believe that volunteer activists and lobbyists in Salem who work for the public good are important.

So, thank all of you who bought tickets. You have supported a good cause. At the same convention, we adopted our next big project: to try to help Oregonians better understand the system which finances our state government. Where does the money come from and where does it go, at all levels of government?

If you would like to help with research on this project or otherwise get involved, call me at 332-9002.

Membership concerns were expressed at the 5-23 Board Meeting regarding South Coast Satellite (SCSC) going into competition with Verizon, Sprint, etc. (Verizon has a fiber optic cable in place all the way south to Brookings now.) When asked about a Business Plan, Jim Arnst stated NoaNet is doing the feasibility study for the SCSC Fiber Optic Line and collecting data to create a Business Plan. When the Board was questioned as to which cities were targeted and were home owners a target population to receive services from South Coast Satellite, Grant Combs stated that was SCSC business and not appropriate at a Coos Curry Electric Co-op Meeting. ???

Letter to the Editor,

During my attendance at the monthly meeting of Coos Curry Electric Cooperative held on Friday, it came to my attention that a form letter is being mailed by at least one board member, Richard Hildebrand of Langlois, urging continuation of all the current board members in the Cooperative election. It suggests that all the other candidates are 'disgruntled' Cooperative members.

At that meeting and in this letter, I would like to state again how I came to be on the Ballot from Zone 4 (north of the Rogue River to Humbug). The Cooperative's own appointed Nominating Committee from Zone 4(North of the Rogue River to Humbug) decided to nominate me as well as the incumbent. It is my understanding that I received the highest possible rating from the Committee.

I have decided to run for this seat because I believe that my 25 years of corporate board and CEO experience would both complement and strengthen the current board. Specifically, my experience would have been beneficial in the sale of the Direct TV business and the related tax issues as well as the currently uncompleted audits for 2001 and 2002.

In none of my letters to the editor or ads is there any indication that I am a 'disgruntled' Coos Curry Electric member. Fortunately, board member Vern Kolen also spoke up in the board meeting to reinforce my statement and Chairman Grant Combs stated that the letter was in no way to be a reflection on me or my candidacy.

Yours truly,

Dale Thomas

Pharmacy Services

Tom Pitchford, M.D., and Carol Milne, FNP, providers with Curry Family Medical clinic in Port Orford, are reviewing options with the state and other agencies that will help restore pharmacy services to patients in northern Curry County, according to Ginny Hochberg, chief executive officer for the Curry Health District.

Prompted by the unexpected closing of Port Orford's only pharmacy, Wednesday, May 14, the closest pharmacies now are 30 miles to the north or south, in Bandon and Gold Beach.

Milne states that getting to the out-of-town pharmacies is difficult for nearly half of the clinic's patients who are "over 65, with 30 percent underinsured or uninsured, and with tenuous transportation."

The clinic is working with Curry General Hospital to get pharmacy services back in the community, Milne adds, "but it's going to take time."

Leave the Cooking to Us

The RAD Outdoor Club is holding a fundraising dinner on Sunday night, June 1 at the Driftwood Elementary School cafeteria. Come and enjoy our manicotti, salad, hors d'oeuvres and homemade bread. Tickets are $7 and children eight years old and under are admitted for $4. Desserts will be served after dinner for an additional cost including fancy cheesecakes and a diverse assortment of old fashioned cookies. You can enjoy these treats during our adventure slide show, which will transport you to the cascading waters of the North Umpqua River and the snow-capped rim of Crater Lake.

Doors open at 6:00pm and dinner starts at 6:30pm. Advance tickets are available at Chetco Federal Credit Union and the Downtown Fun Zone. You are welcome to come for just the desserts and slide show. Everyone is welcome.

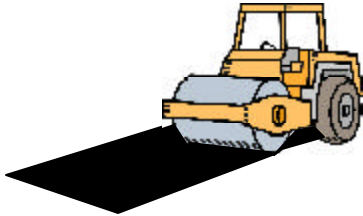

Saturday Sketchers

Saturday Sketchers is not a class, but people of all levels of art experience and all ages who get together to sketch. We meet every Saturday from 2:00 to 4:00pm at the Langlois Library. Regulars include Jerry Hillman and Georganne White. Bring your own sketching supplies. Everyone is welcome and there is NO cost. We take turns sketching each other. Summer sketching on the patio is very pleasant. If you're not into sketching, we appreciate models (costumes and flamboyance are encouraged).

and Geologists who have the contract for the updating of the Water Master Plan. A major component of this - Port Orford's water sources - rests on the outcome of the rehabilitation study.

Several meetings with the public are being scheduled. This first meeting will primarily take testimony from citizens regarding the history and the usage of Garrison Lake.

Shutter Bugs Unite!

Once again it is time to immortalize that "one" day in the life of Port Orford, by taking snap shots of the Port Orford around you. This will be our 2nd annual "A Day In The Life Of Port Orford" photo exhibit. Come join the fun. Guidelines are:

1. Take your pictures any time between 12:01am and 12:00pm, Saturday, June 7, 2003.
2. Choose the 3 best photos.
3. Enlarge the prints to a min of 5"x7", max. 9"x12"
4. Print your name and phone number on back of each
5. Turn your photos in any time at Susan's Hand Made Chocolates, or bring them to the Community building from 9:00am to 1:00pm on July 4th for the exhibit.
6. Pick- up time will be announced.
7. For further information contact Kass at: 332-7308

Lake Town Hall Meeting

The first Town Hall Meeting to exchange information regarding Garrison Lake is scheduled for 6:00 p.m. on Thursday, June 5, in Council Chambers at City Hall. Steve Newcomb of EGR and Associates of Eugene will present his firm's preliminary plans regarding the rehabilitation of the lake for discussion. In addition, information gathered from the project's Management Advisory Committee (which is comprised of property owners, water conservationists, and sports people) will be also be presented.

Joining Steve Newcomb will be Steve Donovan of SHN Consulting Engineers

Freedom Tree

The Sunset Garden Club invites everyone to their dedication of a Freedom Tree as a memorial for those whose lives were cut short on September 11, 2001. The dedication will take place at noon on June 6 at the hummingbird and butterfly garden in Buffington Park. After the dedication, there will be a potluck luncheon in the park. Please bring a dish to share with others. If it is raining, the luncheon will be held at the Senior Center after the dedication in the park.

Biscuit Fire Aftermath Hike

Curry General Hospital invites you to investigate the aftermath of the Biscuit Fire in the Kalmiopsis Wilderness with Skye Sieber, U.S. Forest Service recreation planner, when its monthly Sole Pursuits program hooks up with historian Walt Schroeder and botanist Fred Bowen, Saturday, June 7.

Participants should meet at the Southwestern Oregon Community College parking lot in Brookings at 8:30 a.m. for orientation and carpooling. Organizers will distribute free walking cards for those who wish to track their walking time and enter free prize drawings. Those who hike the entire loop can expect to return about 5 p.m.

Unlike other guided hikes, this one requires more than an hour of driving to reach the trailhead. Once there, the group will amble along trails in the Siskiyou, identifying trees, flowers and shrubs — including the rare Kalmiopsis leachiana.

Power hikers who don't mind walking up steep terrain can opt to loop past Vulcan Lake and up the slope to the trailhead. Those preferring an easier trail can backtrack easily to their vehicles before the pace picks up. Organizers suggest that out-of-shape walkers bring a buddy to help them back to their cars, if needed.

Sole Pursuits is an incentive walking program organized monthly. Volunteer guides lead hikes along the shore, through woodlands and into the Siskiyou. Schroeder and Bowen guide hikers into the Kalmiopsis annually every spring. For more info, 1-800-445-8085, ext. 187.

Please Touch Sculpture

How many times have you been to an art gallery or museum and seen signs commanding people not to touch the artwork? If you're like me you want to touch the goods. The first thing that hit me when I walked into the Johnson Gallery on Saturday morning was the marble sculpture entitled "Mary of Light and Dignity with the sign in front of it saying "Please Touch Sculpture." The Johnson Gallery features the marble sculptures of Eric Johnson. He and his wife Sherry run the gallery, which is located on Eighth Street across from The Joan of Arc vacation rental and in back of the Savoy Theater. You know you're there when you see the large Madonna marble sculpture in the front yard. Eric Johnson uses white Colorado Yule marble and gray alabaster in his stone sculptures. The white marble comes from the appropriately named Marble, Colorado. This type of marble was used in the Lincoln Memorial and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Johnson said this is the purest and whitest marble available. Some of the marble sculptures are translucent, letting light in. Eric Johnson emphasized that the sculpted pieces need to be touched and if they weren't touched they might die for lack of affection and love.

If marble looks heavy it's because it is. Eric has one piece in his yard weighing in at 3,200 pounds. He said marble weighs 178 pounds per cubic foot while granite weighs 202 pounds per cubic foot.

The Johnson's are very friendly and welcome people to visit their gallery. Eric said he doesn't mind having visitors while he works on the sculptures. The Gallery features other artists including paintings by Karen Auburn. The Gallery is planning on hosting a show in September of this year featuring Russian sculptor, Vladimir Tishin.

The Johnson's operated the Redstone Art Center in Redstone, Colorado from 1982 to 1996 when they moved to North Bend. They are a wonderful addition to the Port Orford arts community. Now go over and touch and feel the sculptures.
