New Look at City Hall By Evan Kramer

The Port Orford City Council met on Wednesday night, January 12 in special session and special it was. Outgoing mayor Gary Doran called the meeting to order at 7:00pm. He said city recorder Beverly Manes would swear in the new mayor Jim Auburn. After being sworn in Auburn thanked Gary Doran for his two terms as mayor and years as a city councilor.

Mayor Auburn then administered the oath of office to new city councilors Milton Finch and Steve Abbott and to councilor Carl Eskelson who was re-elected to the council in November. Steve Abbott was referred to as a "local attorney" in last week's paper. He told me he is a retired attorney.

Auborn then had to fill the vacancy created when he became mayor and appoint someone to serve out the remaining two years of his term as city councilor. He nominated Jim Campbell. Councilor Finch made a motion to accept the mayor's nomination and the vote was unanimous in favor.

The seating arrangement is much changed from last year. This year the staff (city attorney, city administrator and city recorder) sit on the right side of the mayor and the council members are sitting on the left side with two councilors sitting at the front table with the mayor. Auburn said the councilors would move around and not sit in the same place every meeting.

Councilor Eskelson nominated Jim Campbell for the position of council president and the council voted 5-0 in favor.

City attorney John Trew next spoke to the council at length about ethics. Trew said he didn't see much difference in the responsibility between councilors in Port Orford and Portland—just different numbers.

Trew spoke about the Oregon Government Standards and Practices Manual, which all councilors are given. He told them caution is always the best approach and urged them to be on the side of caution. Trew said Pat Hearn said to tell the council to always disclose if they think they have a conflict of interest. Patrick Hearn is the executive director of the Oregon Government Standards and Practices Commission. Trew said it doesn't hurt to over disclose.

Trew advised the councilors when making motions to make them "understandable."

The council discussed having all councilors as check signators. Two council signatures are required on every check the city issues. The city administrator reviews every check but cannot sign them. Councilor Finch made a motion that all councilors be authorized to sign checks and it passed 6-0.

Milton Finch made a motion to appoint councilor Jerry Steinhorst to the city parks commission and it passed 6-0.

Mayor Auburn said he would appoint a councilor pro-tem if any of the councilors was going to miss two meetings in a row. Auburn remarked that he valued diversity of opinion. He then said all councilors were on the budget committee.

The councilors looked at but did not discuss changes to the council rules. They will discuss it at their January 18 meeting. One of the biggest potential changes to the rules concerns citizen's concerns, which is now at the beginning of the meeting. The rewritten rules if approved would place citizen's concerns at the end of the meeting after old and new business.

Mayor Auburn then made a series of appointments to various liaison positions and council sub-committees. He named Jim Campbell as Chamber of Commerce liaison; Jerry Steinhorst as parks and transient lodging tax committee liaison; Milton Finch as port liaison; Ed Beck as public works liaison; Carl Eskelson as solid waste liaison and streets liaison; and Steve Abbott as the watershed and Garrison Lake liaison.

Auborn appointed Steve Abbott, Ed Beck and Jim Campbell to the city charter and ordinance sub-committee; Carl Eskelson, Milton Finch and Jerry Steinhorst to the finance sub-committee; Carl Eskelson, Milton Finch and Jerry Steinhorst to the personnel sub-committee; and Jim Campbell, Steve Abbott and Ed Beck to the public safety sub-committee. Auburn said the public safety committee will meet quarterly with the police chief. The meeting was adjourned and many more photos were taken of the new look at city hall.

School Board News
By Nancy Dowdy

The 2CJ School Board met in regular session on Monday, Jan. 10 in the Pacific High School (PHS) Library. All board members were in attendance. Among the public in attendance with their families were the students from Driftwood and Blanco Schools who were recognized with Academic Excellence Awards for the first quarter of the academic year. Brenna Sullivan, a fifth grader at Blanco, and Ana Newman, an eighth grader at Driftwood were presented to the Board by the Superintendent, who commended them for their outstanding performances at their respective schools. The board presented the students with certificates and congratulated them for their accomplishments.

The Audit Report for the year ending June 30, 2004 was accepted. The auditing firm, Hough, MacAdam, & Donnelly, LLC, "found the District's accounting records and files to be in particularly good order." The Business Manager, Teri Pointer of the South Coast Education Service District (SCESD), presented budget figures for the year to date and stated that the district appears to be in excellent shape in terms of operating within the budget. SCESD is under contract with the district to provide business management services because the budget does not support having a resident business manager. In another action, the board approved the district's share of costs for SCESD services other than contract services. These are services, such as speech therapy, that are provided by ESDs serving the school districts within the ESD rather than by individual districts.

Superintendent Marvin Ott discussed solving the problems with the heating plant at Driftwood school (which blew up, causing a recent school closure). The Business Manager has worked with the insurer to cover most of the cost of repairing the boiler. Problems remain with the underground fuel tank. Maintenance and Transportation Supervisor, Tony LaPlante, is working with the state environmental agency to decommission the underground tank safely. Hodge Distributors has offered to lease at minimal cost to the district an above ground tank to replace the underground one.

The Superintendent said that teachers at the high school served an Eggs and Pancakes breakfast to the students on the last day before the Holidays. Although low attendance was anticipated on this day, there was better attendance this day than on most regular school days. Parent conferences will be held in the elementary schools on February 4 and, at the high school, after third quarter grades are out in mid-April.

Ott pointed out that in the process of filing returns for the district, Karen Jennings of the district office and Tony LaPlante had discovered that a refund of approximately $7,000 was due to the district from previous tax returns. He commended Jennings and LaPlante for their diligence.

Sign-in sheets are being used at all schools for staff to record times of arrival and departure. In event of an emergency, it is important to know which staff members are in the building.

There may be problems with the planned Mexican trip for the Spanish Club because of insurance limitations. The board is supportive of this activity and hopes that a solution can be found that will permit the trip to take place.

Transportation Supervisor Tony LaPlante reported that district buses drove over 35 thousand miles in the last quarter of 2004. 81% of this mileage is home-to-school transportation. The rest is for sports and field trips.

Superintendent Ott presented each board member with a certificate of appreciation because January is Board Appreciation Month. The Student Representa-

The board met in Executive Session to consider labor negotiations, property, legal rights, and personnel matters.

The next regular Board meeting is scheduled for Monday, February 14 at 7:00pm in the PHS library. Further information may be obtained by calling the district office at 348-2337.

DeFazio Earns Top Rating

Representative Peter DeFazio announced on January 12 his exemplary rating from the U.S. Business and Industry Council (USBIC) for his legislative record in the one hundred eighth Congress. DeFazio earned a 91 percent rating from the USBIC for his pro-business voting record.

DeFazio led the Oregon delegation last session with a 91 percent voting record, and was ranked twenty fourth out of 435 members of the House of Representatives. USBIC Kevin L. Kearns noted members of Congress who ranked high demonstrated concern for U.S. manufacturing jobs, American jobs, and restoring the nation's industrial base.

USBIC scored all U.S. House members on 67 votes relating to key issues important to U.S. manufacturers. The USBIC is a national organization representing over 1,000 small and medium-sized businesses. Unlike other national business organizations dominated by multinational corporations, the USBIC prides itself on fighting for domestic American manufacturers and American jobs.

International Potluck

By: Paula Cracas

Bon jour. Parle francais? Ah, but no need to speak French. For although the Port Orford Arts Council is hosting a French Potluck, all you need to bring is your sense of humor and your specialite de la maison (your best and most distinctive dish) to share with your friends and neighbors. In France they say, l'appetit vient en mangeant (appetite comes as you eat). So just imagine Edith Piaf singing La Vie En Rose while you sup on quiche and coq au vin (chicken in wine) followed by, perhaps, eclairs. It's a feast that promises to have you shouting, "C'est magnifique!" (It is magnificent!). You'd be muet comme un poisson (dumb as a fish) to miss this POAC international potluck and community gathering.

So vogue la galere (row your boat) on over to the Arts Council, located at 913 Oregon Street/Highway 101, s'il vous plait (if you please), and bruler la chandelle par les deux bouts (burn the candle at both ends) without spending a franc. Mark the date before you forget: January 26, at 5:30pm.

Port Manager's Report By Gary Anderson

Crab season has held up fairly well but on January 13 the price dropped to $1.25 a pound, probably in anticipation of the glut coming in on January 15 with the crab opener up north. Bottom fishing opened up on January 1 and there are a few boats fishing daily for them. The committee to solicit fish buyers has not met yet but I have talked with two potential hagfish (eel) buyers.

We put locking chains across the crane ladders and a concrete block in front of the large cranes hydraulic per Special Districts of Oregon's recommendation. Coos-Curry Electric has replaced four lights and they are retrofitting several fixtures because the old ones did not hold up in the ocean environment. Request for Proposals were sent on January 14 to eight municipal auditing firms.

In talking with the County Clerk's office about the district expansion to the south, we will need to send out letters to the residents of that area explaining our intentions. The process probably cannot be completed by tax time this year. County Commissioner Lucie La Bonte informs me that the county has traded some land at the Cape Blanco Airport that allows access to the east side of the runway. She is also encouraging us to take over the project. I am still waiting for a call from Brookings Port Manager Russ Crabtree for the date on the trip to Washington D.C.

I had a conversation with county emergency services coordinator Mike Murphy about tsunamis. The Port should participate in some planning and may need to spend a little bit of money for communication devices.

Lake Level Dropping

Oregon Parks and Recreation Department hired a local contractor to open the Garrison Lake outlet on Thursday January 13. The opening was successful and the lake outlet is running as of January 18. The lake has dropped a little less than eight inches from Thursday to Monday and now stands at just above 16 feet.

Letter to the Editor,

Thank you Mr. Liszka for sharing your letter from Tim Wood. In ORS state chapter 821 Off Road Vehicles 2003 ORS # 821.0555 it is stated that Class 1, 2, and 3 ATV's may operate on any highway in the state that is not maintained for passenger car traffic. Basically the beach is a state highway. (1995 C.7755 – ORS 821.010.

Also (1) lands open to the public, (2) road other than two lane gravel roads that are open to the public.

Anyway, this is my interpretation. It can be found on the Internet under Chapter 821 – Off Road Vehicles. Stop that ones that abuse it, not the ones who respect it.

Sole Pursuits Hike

Intricately carved faces in the trees, provocative wooden signs, bridged wetlands, an ancient shell mound and a self-serve refreshment stand headlined the morning when walking enthusiasts hiked along the private Old Coast Meditation Trail in a cool winter mist last month.

Jim Coffee, creator of the trail system, organized and led the hike for Curry General Hospital's walking incentive program, Sole Pursuits.

Monthly Sole Pursuits walks are open to the public. Day hikes, from two to 12 miles, are rated for walkers of all abilities – one shoe is “breathe easy;” two shoes is “some scrambling or climbing,” three shoes is “huff'n and puff'n,” and four shoes is “schedule a massage for later.”

The next monthly hike is set for 10 a.m., Saturday, Jan. 22, when Brookings Mayor Pat Sherman leads a walk through city parks and newer neighborhoods in the first Parks Puddle-Jump. Walkers can meet at the KidTown lot at Azalea Park in Brookings.

The hospital's Sole Pursuits office also provides walking cards with $50 cash prizes for drawing winners; and hosts monthly canine walks, organizes neighborhood walking groups, and offers presentations to groups on the fitness benefits of walking.

Additionally, the group leads spring and fall overnight hikes to Paradise Lodge up the Rogue River. Walkers hike 12 miles along the wild and scenic Rogue Canyon, receive meals and lodging from Paradise Lodge and return to the trailhead via jetboat. Proceeds from Heart & Sole/Walk to Paradise fund-raisers benefit the hospital's cardiac rehabilitation program.

The next Walk to Paradise hike is set for April 23 and 24. To reserve a space, phone the Sole Pursuits office at (541) 247-3187 or 1-800-445-8085, ext. 187.

Arctic Refuge Program

On Tuesday, January 25, at 7:00pm, the Kalmiopsis Audubon Society will host award-winning photographer and write Amy Gulick and Gwich'in tribal elder Sarah James for their presentation, "Arctic National Wildlife Refuge: An American Treasure".

In their presentation, Gulick and James will share vivid images and stories to bring the remote, 19.8 million-acre Alaskan refuge and the native peoples that rely on its wild habitat, alive so others may learn about the place. The debate over protection or oil drilling for the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge has been

Her Internet story, "Arctic National Wildlife Refuge: Wilderness or Wasteland?" won a Lowell Thomas Travel Journalism Award presented by the Society of American Travel Writers Foundation.

Sarah James is a Gwich'in Indian tribal leader from Arctic Village, which borders right on the Arctic Refuge. James has traveled the world speaking on behalf of the Gwich'in way of life, and

This presentation will be a first in a series of speakers that the Kalmiopsis Audubon Society will be hosting in Port Orford this winter.
