Around the Port By Evan Kramer

The changes at the Port of Port Orford continue. Last month voters in the Port District elected three new port commissioners to replace Ed Dowdy, George Welch, and Gifford Barnes who chose not to run for a position on the commission again. Scott Luhr, Robert Mielenz and David Rickel were elected and will replace them after July 1.

The contractor hired by the Department of Environmental Quality has completed excavation work at the Port site at the corner of Fifth and Washington Streets. This is the site that until recently housed the Port storage building which has since been sold and removed. The site had previously been determined to be contaminated with creosote. This was a result of the many years that creosote was used in the storage building. Commissioner Ed Dowdy spent a lot of time and effort working on a solution to the contamination problem. His efforts resulted in a grant from DEQ of nearly $90,000 to clean up the lot. Dowdy also wrote a grant for the Port, which got a new roof for the cannery building.

The DEQ contractor completed digging out the contaminated soil a week ago and now what is left is a four-foot deep swimming pool sized hole in the ground (no deep end). The Port has not received a clean bill of health yet regarding the lot as DEQ is currently testing some of the hot spots to make sure all the contaminated material was removed. If they do find more creosote in the hole in the ground the Port will end up with a deed restriction on the property. The grant money to clean up the property has been used up. The Port Commission and Manager Gary Anderson have been discussing ideas to redevelop the property and the new commission will take up that discussion in July.

Gary Anderson said that Nehalem Dredging Company would begin dredging at the Port starting on Wednesday of this week. They will begin in the area adjacent to the sport boat hoist. The dredged area will be from the edge of dock 30 feet out. The "goal" of this dredging is to achieve a depth of 11 feet at mean low water. Currently there is only one foot of water at the sport hoist at mean low water. The contract for Nehalem Dredge calls for the removal of 2,000 yards of material. They will also dredge the area adjacent to Hallmark Fisheries, which is sanded in. Nehalem Dredge employs a pump system to suction sand off the ocean floor and then transport it via a series of 12 inch pipes to an area across the jetty. They have already been contracted to come back again in August for more dredging.

The Port ice machine is now up and running and the Port has ice available for commercial and sport fishermen. The ice machine was paid for through a $25,000 grant from the Rural Investment Board that manager Anderson wrote and received for the Port. He also got a supplemental budget, which helped get the Port freezers working.

Scholarship Awards

The 2005 Pacific High School graduating class had the best year in the school's history for the amount of scholarships awarded to the students. Even before graduation night the seniors at Pacific had collected $229,562 in college scholarship grants. They were awarded another $295,618 on graduation night which the students didn't know about for a total of $525,188. School Superintendent Marv Ott gave credit for the scholarship showing to Pacific High School counselor Jerry Cox. Ott said the Jerry Cox's knowledge of grants; the process and knowing the right people to talk with was

State Parks Changes Plans

This newspaper has traditionally printed the Humbug Mountain State Park campground schedules as we did last week. However, we received a communication from Debra Sterling, State Park Interpreter on June 5 that "unfortunately plans have changed."

The rest of her communication is as follows:

On Thursday, June 2, 2005 I was informed that there is to be changes to the basic interpretive schedule that was given to me earlier.

1. There will be no evening programs (beyond what was in the paper last week).
2. Programs 5 days a week.
3. There will be no advertising of programs outside the park.

All new directives in place until further notice.

I'm sorry but we will not be sending more schedules, for now. Hopefully later in the season we will be back on a full schedule of programs. Thank you for all your time,

Debra

We placed a call to Frank Eckley, State Parks Area Manager, Cape Blanco Unit, for an explanation on Monday morning. Parks employee Laura Rhodes called us back on Tuesday morning and explained the situation. Heather Currey, who is the Interpretive Ranger, is off on maternity leave but will be returning to work around June 20. The Park interpretive programs will resume in full swing by the July 4 weekend with the local community welcome to attend any and all programs at Humbug Mountain State Park.

Ballots Are Out

Coos-Curry Electric members will soon have the opportunity to vote on significant changes regarding the size and member-representation of the CCEC Board, which were developed and recommended by an advisory committee of CCEC members.

The Coos-Curry Electric Board of Directors appointed a Member Advisory Committee (MAC), with a member representative from each of the Co-op's "zones". Earlier this year, the Board asked the MAC to review the current zone designations and board size. After careful analysis, the MAC unanimously recommended to the Board, that zones be re-created to provide a more even distribution of members in each zone by reducing the number of zones from nine to five new zones or districts. The recommendation makes these new districts more equitable in the number of members in each district, while at the same time retaining representation from the four distinct business areas of the Cooperative.

However, this step to "even out" all the current zones with equal representation would have required increasing the size of the Board to a much larger size. Therefore, the MAC also recommended a corresponding reduction in the number of Directors on the Board from nine to five. With fewer Directors, it is expected that this change will provide additional savings to the Cooperative in director expenses, travel and training.

The CCEC Board had endorsed the findings and recommendations of the Member Advisory Committee and has put these recommendations into the form of a proposed change or amendment to the Co-op's Bylaws. This bylaw change allows the Cooperative to make the change from nine to five zones and board members to five districts and board members over a three-year period. This transition would be accomplished by not replacing or re-electing long time Directors who are not seeking reelection after many years of dedicated service to CCEC.

Members will also be voting on one additional proposed bylaw change intended to facilitate more effective member notification; allow voting by mail with increase flexibility and lower cost, and result in a more independent, accurate, and timely ballot count.

The Great Jail Break-In

It may be as long as 35 years since the rusted, steel door of the Old City Jail has swung open, but all that became a moot point last Sunday at 3:00 pm when a group of City officials "broke into" the Old Jail at the corner of 7th and Deady Streets.

Mayor Jim Auburn, Parks Commission Chairman Jim Billings, and Parks Commissioner Mille North watched Public Works Superintendent Dave Pace "pop" the old rusted padlock with a pair of bolt cutters. It took Pace another five minutes to dig away several inches of soil and grass that had built up over the years in front of the big steel door. Also watching the "break-in," were Karen Auburn and Chamber President Jay Stoler.

The group had come to make an assessment of the Old City Jail for repair and maintenance planning purposes. The Jail has just been added as a line item to the Parks annual budget and the group will be discussing this subject and what the next steps might be in getting this historic property into a safe and presentable condition.

In a nutshell: The ceiling has collapsed onto the floor leaving dangerous piles of hazardous debris that will have to be carefully removed. The ivy covering the hole in the roof has actually grown shut and will be need to be removed and the ceiling replaced. The outside bars on windows have rusted badly and many of them have sharp pointy ends. There is much more. Obviously this "treasure" needs a facelift badly.

If you would like to help, an account has been setup at Chetco Federal Credit Union in Port Orford called the Jail Renovation Account. Donations of any size would be most appreciated and they are tax deductible.

Of course this is all just "tentative" for the time being as the actual possession of the Old City Jail property is still in the process of paperwork, surveying and the other legal necessities that need to happen, including approval by Port Orford City Council, before it's a "done deal."

The group wanted to thank Grey Podorean for his cooperation and permission to "break-in" to the Jail. Podorean was kind enough to rearrange his property boundaries to allow the City to keep this sentimental, historic and unique old structure.

Chamber of Commerce News

The Port Orford and North Curry Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will meet next Monday, June 13, at the Port and Starboard restaurant at 1:00pm. Special guest will be Rob Spooner, owner and Publisher of Oregon Coast Magazine. Rob will be doing a short presentation about the Q customer service program and how we can get the entire Coast of Oregon Q certified. Members and interested citizens are welcome to attend.

Congratulations to Michelle and Dean Duarte and WildSpring Guest Habitat. They signed up to be the first official Oregon Coast Birding Trail sponsor for Port Orford. There was a small meeting of interested birders at WildSpring on Sunday evening that included Dean and Michelle, Ann Vileisis, Molly Cooley and Jay Stoler. There were several different strategies discussed on tapping into the existing and lucrative birding tourist market. Presenting workshops with talks and slides from local and regional experts, leading bird watching expeditions, having a tie-in with the art community and Bird Art and incorporating bird watching along with whale watch week(s). Fortunately the best bird watching is from October to April, a time when our area needs an economic boost from tourism. Bird watching has proven to be winner in the "eco-tourism" market and one custom made for Port Orford. Look for more news about a possible min-festival in February of 2006. The official opening of the Oregon Coast Birding Trail is May 16, 2006. Get more info at <http://OregonBirdingTrails.org>.

The Chamber of Commerce will be selling Fireworks in Battle Rock Park starting on or about the June 25-26 and continuing through July 5. This is an important event for the Chamber and the community and volunteer to help man the Fireworks booth would be greatly appreciated. Interested persons please call 332-8055. Volunteers will receive a free sweatshirt.

Vinny excelled this last year because of the help of Mr. Ott, who listened to me as a parent, and stood by Vinny as a student. Thank you so much! I am truly sad you are leaving us. Good luck to you.

Next, Mr. Chris Sheehan, our new special education teacher. Mr. Ott was so proud to have hired him. He drives from North Bend everyday to do this job. I have never been so pleased. Thank you for making my son's education all it could be. You are great. And most of all...Bonita Stout, Vinny's educational assistant of two years. This lady brought all her experience, being the mother of an autistic son as well. She is irreplaceable. She brought Vinny to a 3.75 all four quarters, improving his reading, writing, spelling, and math. Everything I could ask but didn't need to, she just did it perfectly. I love her.

Vinny's education took a positive turn when Phil Sword stepped in two years ago. Good changes came our way with the help of Cheryl Kuehn who did wonders with Vinny and showed us the way three years ago. Thanks to both of you two for being there then. So here's to next year!

Letter to the Editor,

Thank you to the Port Orford community and generous businesses from Gold Beach to Coos Bay that helped make the Jubilee Auction a roaring success. We raised over $4100 to go toward purchasing the 4th of July fireworks. The record turn-out for the event was thrilling to see, and bidders seemed to be enjoying themselves throughout the evening. Thank you to the ESA Sorority and The Friends of the Library for offering energizing food to keep the crowd bidding. Pat Ross, the exceptionally skilled auctioneer, enticed the audience to bid on a range of items from gift certificates, plants, and food items to a wooden crane and a singing and dancing rabbit. Thank you to my fellow committee members, Pat Bry, Viola Cuatt, Marion Johnson, Zona Sackett, Kathy Allen, Kathy Sperling, and Barbara Johnson for your instructions, numerous checklists, and never-ending patience in guiding me through my first auction. The auction ran smoothly due in great part to our hardworking volunteers Kay Neal, Velma Foster, Barbara Knapp, Ruby Fanning, Kelsey Gore and Jonathan and Jason Wilhite.

As my family recently relocated to Port Orford, this was my first time at the Jubilee Auction. Not only did I have a wonderful time bidding on items, I was touched to see how the community and

Weeklong Walk

From Baker City to Bandon, and Klamath Falls to Clatskanie, rural Oregonians are joining together in a weeklong Walk for Truth, Justice, and Community this June 12-18 from Salem to Portland. Families, farmers, teachers, students, immigrants, and workers are setting aside a week of their lives to walk in affirmation of their values of justice, democracy, human rights, and human dignity for all people.

from Curry County residents to Governor Kulongoski, Senators Smith and Wyden, and state legislators. The postcards are part of a statewide call for accountability and action to fund vital human needs and to bring the troops home along with the billions of dollars going to the war that are urgently needed for healthcare and education in Oregon.

Walk participants feel that here in Oregon, we are facing a state of emergency that calls for action to fund human needs, not global war, protect everyone's civil rights and civil liberties and demand economic justice. In the name of truth, justice, and community, they will join together across the divisions and fragmentation of our world to unite in resistance and celebrate a positive vision for the world.

The Walk for Truth, Justice, and Community is led by Rural Organizing Project, a statewide network of human dignity groups, CAUSA, the immigrant rights coalition of Oregon, and Oregon Action, a statewide economic justice organization. Participants can take in as much or as little of the Walk and its related activities as they are able. Good food, music, theater, and the sharing of stories will take place in the evenings. This is a free event.

Letter to the Editor,

I wish to thank all my friends who both visited and assisted me before, during and after arthroscopic surgery recently done on both knees. These friends were when I had to have the first knee done December of last year and the other knee done March of this year.

I came from a city in California which I resided in for forty four years and just moved here two years ago this coming November. I have resided in Port Orford and it is here where people have been here for both Vince and myself. I have heard that small towns are friendlier and more supportive than the larger cities and I know this to be the truth. Your friendship has been received with much appreciation and gratitude and I am in awe to each and everyone.

The thanks in my heart will always be there for just stopping by and seeing if I needed anything since Vince had to be at work, to caring for my everyday needs and to those that drove me to my doctor in Coos Bay. Thanks to Delora Fink, Laurie Feldhaus, Perri Rask, Joyce Schneider, Chari Anderson, Gail Conwell and Rose Panozzo.

And, last but truly no the least, my thanks to the many prayers from my church family both at the Christian Center and First Community.

Auborn Receives Award

Dr. Karen Auborn was presented with the "Lorinda de Roulet Award for Excellence in Research" in New York City last week. This prestigious award is bestowed upon a woman scientist who has made a major contribution to the field of biomedical research, is widely recognized and acclaimed by her peers, and has nurtured the careers of junior scientists. Dr. Auborn is head of phytochemical research at the Institute for Medical Research at North Shore-Long Island Jewish Medical Center, with appointments in the Department of Otolaryngology, Microbiology & Immunology, and the NCI Comprehensive Cancer Center at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. Her research focuses on cancer prevention and lupus, and she is currently examining the potential effects of selected phytochemicals, including broccoli, on the environment of a cell to make it less susceptible to cancer or disease. Dr. Auborn's research is in part funded by a grant from Rotary International. Both Dr. Auborn and proud husband Mayor Jim Auborn are members of the Port Orford Rotary Club.

Vaccines for Children

School is out for the summer and the last thing on your child's mind is getting a vaccine. However, the Curry County Health Department wants to remind parents and guardians of the importance of keeping immunizations up-to-date. Summer is a great time to get the vaccines that your child needs to be able to start school in the fall. You'll save both money and time for yourself and your school district by having your child's vaccines up-to-date. If you aren't sure if your child is current on their immunizations, please contact the school, or come to the local health department with your child's vaccine record and we'll be happy to help you.

The Port Orford office, located at 1403 N. Oregon Street, holds their open vaccination clinic every Tuesday from 9:00am to 11:00am and 1:00 to 4:00pm, or you may call 541-2332-4041 to schedule an appointment.

Meth Work Group By Wayne Krieger

State Representative, District 1

Recently we have seen editorials and articles on meth in nearly every paper statewide.

In my House Judiciary Committee, I had 35-40 bills that dealt with the meth issue. It was apparent that it would be difficult to hold hearings on 40 bills, develop amendments, pass the legislation in both Houses, and then possibly have some of the bills have to go to a conference committee to work out differences in the House and Senate versions.

With that in mind, I met with Senator Burdick, Chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee. I asked if she would be willing to set all other issues aside and work in a bi-partisan way. She agreed, and we brought in a Minority Republican and Minority Democrat to help. Two Republicans and two Democrats worked for over six weeks along with our Judiciary Committee staff and produced two draft bills, one House and one Senate.

Those two bills, HB 2488 and SB 907, will contain all the elements agreed to.

At least one more meeting with the meth work group will take place this week to accommodate suggestions from law enforcement, district attorneys, trial lawyers, and legislators who have reviewed the drafts.

Some of the elements contained in the legislation include: drug court, in-prison and post-release recovery, enhanced sentencing, protection of children and seniors, limiting access to meth precursors, protecting communities from toxic labs, meth labs and waste, meth lab fines, and meth-affected children.

Final drafting and committee work should begin next week.

I very much appreciate Senator Burdick's willingness to work in partnership on this critical issue. The increase in meth use with its profoundly destructive consequences calls for concentrated attention of communities and government.

As legislators, we need to be every mindful that we are partners; that our objective at the Legislature is in fact to work in a bi-partisan manner, collaborating to pass productive laws for our communities throughout the state.

Our goal is jointly serving all Oregonians.

Weeklong Walk

Rural Oregonians, including local citizens Mark Lankton and Jared Tarr, will join together in a weeklong Walk for Truth, Justice, and Community June 12-18 from Salem to Portland. They will hand deliver piles of postcards from Curry County residents to Governor Kulon-goski, Senators Smith and Wyden, and state legislators. Walk participants feel that here in Oregon, we are facing a state of emergency that calls for action to fund human needs, not global war, protect everyone's civil rights and civil liberties and demand economic justice.

Participants can take in as much or as little of the Walk and its related activities as they are able. Good food, music, theater, and the sharing of stories will take place in the evenings. This is a free event. For more information or to sign post-cards call 332-1032.

Campground Reopened

Cape Blanco State Park camping facilities were reopened for public use on the Memorial Day weekend. The campground had been closed for an upgrade of the electrical system from 20 to 50 amps and changing the water standpipes. It had been expected the contractor wouldn't complete the job until July 1 but finished one month early.

Free Fishing Weekend

Elk River Fish Hatchery will host the 10th annual Free Fishing Weekend event this Saturday and Sunday, June 11-12. Each fishing day will begin at about 8:00 am. Young anglers will be allowed to fish for rainbow trout in a special hatchery pond that is stocked with 800 legal size fish (8-12 inches) and 200 whoppers that will weigh from 4-9 pounds each. The hatchery will provide rods, reels, bait and tackle for the kids to fish with. The bag limit is the first three fish caught. There will be no "catch and release", so please bring a large plastic bag to carry your catch home.

The event is limited to the first 120 children 10 years old and younger that sign up on each day (120 for Saturday and 120 for Sunday). Sign ups will not be carried over from one day to the next. Upon sign-up, participants will be advised of the approximate time when it will be their turn to fish. To provide a more quality fishing experience we will only fish two kids at a time. Each young angler will be welcome to fish on one day only (either Saturday or Sunday, but not both). The event will be held rain or shine, so be ready for the weather. Each child on the sign up sheet will receive a free starter kit (hooks, sinkers, lure and bobber). Additional prizes will be given away, including mail boat trips, guided fishing trips, rods and reels and a fully stocked tackle box. This event is provided free of charge, so we ask for your cheerful acceptance of our efforts. For more information, contact the hatchery prior to June 11 at (541) 332-7025. We hope to see you this coming weekend at Elk River Hatchery!
