Around the Area

By Evan Kramer

Curry Public Transit is curtailing Saturday bus service beginning the week of August 1. Until this week Curry Public Transit operated three buses a day southbound to Brookings on Saturday and three buses a day northbound to North Bend on Saturday. These schedules have been terminated but Curry Public Transit will continue to run its posted schedule Monday through Friday. According to Curry County Commissioner Ralph Brown it all came down to money. There isn't enough grant money to pay for six-day service. Brown said that grant funding from ODOT was 25% less than what had been applied for. The majority of money to run Curry Public Transit comes from grants, not the fare box. Currently you can catch a southbound bus to Gold Beach and Brookings from the Ray's Place Market parking lot on 8:00am, 10:40am, 2:15pm and 4:40pm. The three northbound buses for Langlois, Bandon, Coos Bay and North Bend Airport leave from Ray's Market at 8:15am, 11:30am, and 1:50pm.

Greyhound Bus Lines, which eliminated service to and from Port Orford last year, has dropped Crescent City and Eureka from their San Francisco run as the former nationwide bus system continues to shrink. This makes these regional or countywide transportation bus runs all the more important, as we have no passenger train service and limited air service on the coast.

Not totally true...for one day, two weeks ago, Coos Bay had passenger train service. A special train called the Coastal Express left Eugene on Saturday, July 22 for Coos Bay via Florence on the tracks of the Central Oregon Pacific Railroad. The train carried over 500 passengers according to the World newspaper and was the first passenger train in Coos Bay since 1953! The train consisted of older classic equipment including at least one dome car. It would have been a thrill to have seen the train either arrive in, or depart from Coos Bay and photograph it, but the people in charge of this special event didn't publicize it.

Going Going Gone

The historic Humbug Mountain Lodge is being demolished as you read this newspaper. The Oregon Department of Transportation has acquired a flow easement for part of the 90-acre property and is in the process of demolishing that part of the motel, which is in the 15-year flood plain. It appears that the entire motel will be taken down. The flow easement is for salmon and stream enhancement for Brush Creek. According to an Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife spokesman the flow easement was purchased voluntarily from the property owner. In the process ODOT purchased the buildings composing the lodge and is removing them. The motel is adjacent to Brush Creek.

Sea Worthy Events

This weekend Port Orford hosts two events related to our relationship to the ocean. On Saturday August 6 the Port Orford Friends and Wives of Fishers are holding their seventh annual Blessing of the Fleet. It starts at 11:00am at the Fishermen's Memorial at the Port of Port Orford.

The Blessing of the Fleet will include music, poems, stories, a reading of the names, and a blessing by Pastor Doug Jamieson. Following the ceremony the Friends and Wives of Fishers will host a potluck featuring food from the sea.

The next day on Sunday August 7 the Point Orford Heritage Society is hosting the annual Coast Guard Day at Port Or-07-30 Police assisted A Curry County Deputy with a traffic stop at 13th and Idaho Street. A male subject was cited, and the female passenger was found lodging for the night.

Chief's Note: Generally when police are called to motor vehicle accidents they are requested to complete an accident report by the persons involved. If there are no injuries, or no enforcement action will be taken by the police, we generally do not take a report. Each driver though is required by law to report an accident and complete an accident report for the Department of Motor Vehicles within 72 hours. Any report we take does not substitute for the DMV required report. If you are in a minor traffic accident that results in damage to any one vehicle over $1,500.00, Injury no matter how minor, death, damage to any one's property over $1,500.00 or any vehicle involved in an accident that is towed from the scene as a result of damages, you must file a report with DMV. The report forms are available at the Port Orford Police Department, and The City Library. If you have any questions contact DMV or the Port Orford Police Department.

Speed Reader Board: You should be seeing the speed reader board out on the city streets this week. It is slowing traffic down considerably.

Port Orford Library News By Tobe Porter, Director

I want to try to clear up a misunderstanding. We have not yet received the $500,000 federal community block grant. What we have received is word that we are eligible to apply for such a grant. Actually, the way it works is the City of Port Orford will apply for the grant on our behalf. Needless to say, library staff will be very involved with the process because we know the project inside and out—literally. The process could take up to six months. When the grant is awarded, you will hear joyful sounds at a very high decibel level pouring out of the Port Orford Library. The din will be not unlike the noon fire bell. You will know when the grant is received.

August at the Port Orford Library includes Morning Story Time for kids about age 5 and under every Wednesday at 10:30am and a special evening family story time on Thursday, August 11 at 6:30pm in the City Council Chambers. This month's Liberry Pie story program will feature dozens of new books made possible by a grant from The Libri Foundation and the Friends of Port Orford Library.

These books are beautiful to eyes of all ages, and I guarantee you they will amuse and delight you. With titles like Giggle, Giggle, Quack, and Superdog, the Heart of a Hero, how can you keep a straight face? This generous grant also allowed our Youth Services Coordinator Nancy Broadhead to purchase more award winning books like Newbery winners Al Capone Does My Shirts by Gennifer Choldenko and Surviving the Applewhites by Stephanie S. Tolan. Don't miss this first glimpse of brand new children's books—the perfect backdrop for the antics of the Liberry Pie Story Readers.

Sewer Rates Going Up

City of Port Orford sewer rates have gone up effective July 1 and will show up on your September bill for the months of July and August. Rates had been $51.65 bi-monthly for the base rate and $3.91 per thousand gallons of water. The rates as of July 1 are $57.80 bi-monthly for the base rate and $4.30 per one thousand gallons of water. The way it works is for every thousand gallons of water you purchase you also pay a corresponding sewer rate, in this case $4.30 per thousand gallons of water.

Water rates will remain unchanged. Currently the base water rate is $29.91 bi-monthly and the usage charge is $2.38 per 1,000 gallons. Total water and sewer cost per 1,000 gallons of water purchased from the City of Port Orford now stands at $6.68.

Highway Funds for Oregon

Representative Peter DeFazio, ranking Democrat on the Highways, Transit and Pipelines Subcommittee, announced that he and his colleagues have come to an agreement on legislation including over $2 billion for highway and transit projects in Oregon over the next five years. The legislation, the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA-LU), HR 3, is a five year $286 billion dollar federal highway and transit-funding bill. DeFazio played a key role in crafting and negotiating the final approval of the legislation, and securing optimal funding for Oregon under the bill.

Here are some of the south coast area projects that will be funded:

Coos Bay Rail Bridge$8,000,000
TransPacific Parkway Realignment Project $350,000
Agness Road$2,000,000
Upgrade US 101 and utility relocation, Gold Beach $200,000
Curry County Slide Repair $2,895,200
Rogue River Bikeway/pathway, Curry County $600,000
Pedestrian improvements at the Port of Brookings, Harbor $600,000

North Bend Waterfront District/pedestrian improvements $992,000

The bill is paid for through the Federal Highway Trust Fund, which is sustained with gas tax receipts. It does not add to the federal deficit.

Letter to the Editor,

This will be first of many articles to reacquaint many residents and inform new homeowners about a long-standing program to improve the nighttime environment of our small town. Dark Sky (DS) is a program that began to germinate in Port Orford with an article in the Coos-Curry Electric Cooperative "Ruralite", September of 1996, titled "Inappropriate Outdoor Lights Pollute the Sky". Members of Kalmiopsis Audubon Society and many other residents began researching the subject finding articles in the Oregonian about Deschutes County and Sisters being the first county and city in Oregon to adopt DS as a lighting policy in 1994. The more we looked the more educated we became, finding Arizona and New Mexico to be DS states and there is an international movement to protect the night sky.

Many people around the planet cannot see the Milky Way or even the stars in their own backyard due to the proliferation of poor lighting practices. Port Orford is a small town with little infrastructure and has that great small town feel at night where you can still see the Milky Way and the stars in most of the town at night. We don't have to look far to see the difference if you consider our two small town neighbors, Bandon and Gold Beach, but a trip after dark to check the difference might require sunglasses. In sharp contrast to these tiny two cities the Milky Way can be seen from downtown Tucson, Arizona, a city of some 500,000 people, where the local authorities have implemented good lighting codes.

Private Property Rights

Representative Peter DeFazio joined Representative Henry Bonilla and others at a press conference to introduce bipartisan legislation to protect private property rights on July 27. The legislation is in response to a recent ruling from the Supreme Court, which allows unusually broad authority to local government to seize private property for private economic development.

"It is a rare treat for me to join Congressman Bonilla on such an important piece of legislation," said DeFazio. "This bill will address the alarming and overreaching decision delivered by the Supreme Court. As a former county commissioner, I have always felt that condemnation should be a last resort, used only in extremely limited circumstances and always for a legitimate public use."

The legislation, Strengthening the Ownership of Private Property Act (STOPP) prohibits the use of federal economic development funds to state and local governments that use the power of eminent domain for private economic development.

In November 2003, DeFazio offered an amendment to HR 2443, the Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation Act of 2003, to prevent the siting of a Coast Guard Museum on property taken by eminent domain. The amendment would have blocked the siting of the museum in New London, Connecticut, and protected private homes from being seized by the local government. The amendment failed 199-221.

Coast Guard Day

The Port Orford Heritage Society will observe Coast Guard Day on Sunday, August 7 at the Port Orford Lifeboat Station Museum. A brief ceremony is scheduled for 1:00pm, but the museum will be open from 10:00am to 3:30pm.

On August 4, 1790, President George Washington signed into law a bill creating the Revenue Cutter Service. In 1915, the Revenue Cutter Service merged with the U.S. Life-Saving Service to form the U.S. Coast Guard. The Lighthouse Service became part of the Coast Guard in 1939.

This year the Heritage Society is pleased to welcome special guest speaker, retired U.S. Coast Guardsman Warren Hulburt. Warren and his wife Carmel are benefactors of the museum, having donated all our models and dioramas, as well as financial support. Port Orford artist Elaine Roemen will display her maritime art, and Jim Coffee, noted Gold Beach photographer, will display his photographs. The community is invited to this event celebrating another piece of local history! For more information, visit www.portorfordlifeboatstation.org.

Castle Building

The Port Orford and Langlois Libraries offered a castle building class last week. The three-day event included assembling, landscaping and decorating the ten by eleven foot cardboard castle. A moat was added on the second day, which included moat monsters and was especially popular among the younger set. This program was part of the Summer Reading Program and appealed to all ages. There was a drawing on the third day for free books to continue the spirit of the project, and a generous amount of homemade cookies for everyone.

A special thanks to all of those who helped with the planning and those who participated in the event.

Letter to the Editor

It was indeed a great BBQ chicken feed put on by the Port Orford Rotary Club to raise money to build the new Port Orford Library. The food was delicious, the music delightful, the customers satisfied, and the workers had fun working together.

On behalf of the Library and Library Foundation Boards I thank the Port Orford Rotary Club for their generosity and everyone for their very hard work. To the Saturday set-up crew, thanks for answering the call. Of course the event could not have happened without the vision of Rotary President Jo Rieber, the organizational skills of Marilyn Oberbeck and the sublime culinary skills of David Smith. Thank you. To the Music Lady Extraordinaire Sherry Pelton, thank you so much for the tunes-to-eat-chicken-by. They were delicious.

Special thanks to the Chicken Guys: Bob Hall, Mike Hewitt, Brent Hodge, Jon Porter and Dick Wold. And as always, it is the behind the scenes crew who pulls an event all together. So thank you Nancy Angelesco, Pauliann Balch-Rancourt, Carrie Carr, Carren Copeland, Chet Dacayana, Nolene Dacayana, Sherrill Ellis, Ruby Fanning, John Hewitt, Ray Johnson, Sally Johnston, John Leuthe, Sonya Mason, and Carrie Rogers.

Last, but certainly not least, our thanks to all the people who stopped by to eat a little (?) chicken, visit with friends, and help build the new library.

Sincerely,

Tobe Porter, Director
Port Orford Library

Marine Safety Training

Under the auspices of Alaska Marine Safety Education Association (AMSEA) the Coast Guard will present a two-day, hands-on safety and survival workshop for commercial fishermen in Port Orford on Monday, August 22 and Tuesday, August 23. The workshop is free.

This U.S. Coast Guard-approved, Marine Survival Equipment, Procedures and Onboard Drills training meets USCG requirements for commercial fishing vessels operating outside the boundary line.

Participants will practice with emergency equipment that should be onboard any commercial fishing boat or other sizeable vessel - PFDs, life rafts, immersion suits, EPIRBs, fire extinguishers. They will learn and practice emergency procedures like man overboard retrieval, abandoning ship, fire fighting and flooding control.

Mariners who have already taken the course are encouraged to attend again to refresh their skills. A study by NIOSH determined that after five years, the effectiveness of training in reducing fatalities declines significantly.

For additional information or to register, contact Brian Marotta at (541) 888-1416.

Alice Hammermeister, coordinator of Curry General Hospital's Breast Health Network, will talk about new programs that will help Curry County patients get out-of-town medical treatment, regardless of ability to pay, when local members of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees meet for their regular luncheon session, 11:30 a.m., Thursday, Aug. 11, Lee's Dragon Gate Restaurant, Brookings.

Hammermeister oversees a countywide program that promotes new information and research in the area of breast health, ensuring that all Curry women easily can get mammograms. She will discuss upcoming projects that will streamline transportation to medical and surgical facilities in Medford, Coos Bay and elsewhere; and provide counseling and support for newly diagnosed breast cancer patients.

Hammermeister's presentation will be "fun, interactive and will include door prizes," she says. For more information, phone 541/425-0074 or 1-800-445-8085, ext 187. Browse the Breast Health Network page on the hospital website at www.curry.healthnetwork.com.

Two Weeks 'Til Art!

Two weeks and counting before The Wilderland School's Silent Art Auction begins. Works by Donna Rosalius, Linda Tarr, Byron and Carol Marks, Becky Malmut, Ginelle Weber and others are adding to the ever-growing list of art available for bid.

The Art Auction is the final fundraising event of the year for the Wilderland School, the new Montessori-based school in town serving ages three through six. "We are striving to raise enough money to purchase Montessori learning materials," said Tracy John, Wilderland School founder. "Montessori didactics are essential for a child's educational independence. These specially designed materials spark a child's interest in new areas of learning such as mathematics, writing, geography, art and other subjects. The learning materials are self-correcting, beautiful to look at and truly engaging to the child."

"Come on over to the Auction Preview Week and final Soiree to bid on the wonderful artwork and learn more about Montessori Methods," Tracy said.

To preview the artwork up for bid, visit the Wild Wind Café in Port Orford, Aug. 17-23. To gain a better understanding of the Montessori learning method, come to the Auction Soiree which caps off the week-long bidding period, where the public is invited for food, music, a surf-board drawing and the final bidding fun. Information and interactive learning stations will be available at the Soiree to offer a hands-on experience.

For more information on the auction, call Dana Amarisa, 332-0842, or Tracy John, 332-0820. Or visit our website: www.thewilderlandschool.com

Rotary News

Bill Russell, President of Shoreline Education for Awareness, spoke to members of the Rotary Club of Port Orford about his organization on July 28. SEA uses experts to train volunteer docents who teach tourists about the wildlife they see from our coastline. During the summer, SEA docents can be found on weekends at the Simpson's Reef overlook outside of Charleston, and at Coquille Point in Bandon. They have spotting scopes for viewing birds and marine mammals.

In the winter and spring, Shoreline Education for Awareness provides lectures and field trips for members to enhance their knowledge of coastal life. Scientists from the Oregon Institute of Marine Biology and from other professional organizations are the teachers at these events. Guided walks into intertidal areas are also held.

Another aspect of SEA activity is to assist with grade school outdoor education. Currently, a program is available

Highway 101 Slide Repair

U. S. Highway 101 in Curry County is extremely susceptible to closures due to landslides. The $2,895,000 slide repair highway project will address the highest priority section of Highway 101 that is most prone to failure along the south coast. Closure of Highway 101 due to landslides has disastrous impacts upon the economies of Curry County and severs the only highway link from the country to other regional centers. This portion of Highway 101 is a vital link between the cities of Brookings, Gold Beach and Port Orford. By reducing slides, the proposed project will improve safety and reduce delays to trucks, tourists and local travelers.

Letter to the Editor,

On behalf of the Dead Car Garden Society, I'd like to announce a Car Crushing Contest! The person who contributes the most junker vehicles to the car crusher while it is in Port Orford will win a grand prize.

For the prize, the Society's president Rusty Ford, Sr. has offered a $250 gift certificate to the True Value Hardware of Port Orford. This is a perfect opportunity to harvest our dead car gardens. I know that I have a bumper crop of junkers, and I wonder if anyone can top my take.

Call Steve at Rebel Salvage to arrange the pick up, or bring them in yourself to the Port Orford Loop City Lot. Call me to register your grand total at 332-7800. The Prize will be awarded the day after the crusher leaves town. Good luck, and may the best dead car gardener win!

p.s. My everlasting gratitude to the miracle-worker Beth Pietrzak for making a cleaner Curry County possible.
