Police Chief Search By Evan Kramer

The Port Orford City Council met on Thursday night, May 21 two days after the passing of the Police Levy. Mayor Pro Tem Jim Auburn and councilors David Smith, Caroline Clancy, Scott Luhr, Tim Pogwizd, Bill McArdle, and John Hewitt were all present for the short meeting. There were no citizens concerns so the council jumped into departmental reports.

The council was particularly pleased with Public Works Director Allan Wagner's public works report and the way he is handling the job. The water loss rate for the month of April was 44.5%; a decrease over previous months. The department produced 4.051 million gallons of water at the treatment plant and metered 2.244 million gallons. Councilor Luhr led the council and public in a round of applause for Wagner over his and the department's efforts with Allan making sure to give credit to his crew.

Chamber of Commerce president David Smith reported that the Chamber is working on a new brochure promoting the area and he is working with help from councilor Pogwizd and Jeff MacFarlane.

Port Commission member and council liaison to the Port Scott Luhr reported on Oregon House Bill 3013 – the funding bill for Marine Reserves which at this point is projected to provide $1 million for the reserves if it becomes law. Watershed liaison Bill McArdle reported that progress is again being made on the greenway project and also on fire suppression for the watershed. He suggested bringing Joanne Ruoff to next month's meeting to discuss the greenway project.

Both councilor Luhr and Caroline Clancy reported that the past weekend over a period of five days there had been a massive die off of baby crabs at Dock Beach, a popular dog walking spot. They questioned what caused the die off but so far no one knows what happened. If you understand what happened contact them at city hall.

The council discussed Resolution 2009-12; a Resolution of the council increasing the connection fees for new water installations. The current cost for installing a new water meter is $200. The resolution proposed to increase the fee to $1,300 for a three quarter inch standard water connection; $1,524 for a one inch service; and for those services above one inch $1,700 down payment with the remainder of the costs billed to the contractor when the water connection is completed. Allan Wagner explained there was a shortfall in fees with the current rate. Councilor Luhr wanted to raise the new fees even higher and said the city should make a profit on the connection with the department run more like a business. The main purpose of the Resolution was to make sure the city recovers its costs when installing water connections. The council voted 4-2 on David Smith's motion to adopt the Resolution with Luhr and Clancy voting no saying they wanted higher connection fees and Smith, Hewitt, Pogwizd and McArdle voting yes. The council will revisit this issue and make sure the city is recouping its full costs with the new fees.

The council discussed contributing funds to the Port of Port Orford to fund a lobbyist for the new cannery and administrative buildings at the Port. The lobbyist will participate through the Oregon Way program which is helping lead the way for a new cannery building. This is money from the federal government related to the stimulus program to create jobs. Scott Luhr explained the Port is trying to replace the old cannery building and also build an additional building that would house the Port offices, POORT offices and a new space for Griff's Restaurant. If this all comes about the building currently occupied by Griff's would be raised and a fish cleaning station built in that location. Luhr said the Port was asking for a contribution of $1,000 toward the cost of hiring Cheryl Coon as a lobbyist for the project. The Port, Curry County, and the Chamber of Commerce have all contributed to the hiring of the lobbyist with POORT agreeing to pay for her travel expenses. Luhr will be attending a meeting in Salem on May 28 where he will present the Port's case for the $9.7 million grant for the project. As he put it they are going to Salem to "sell" the project. Another leg in this project would be a Marine Interpretive Center at Battle Rock Park at the Visitor Center which would become a two story building to house the Interpretive Center.

Luhr explained the key element in getting this grant is jobs and job retention at the Port. David Smith asked if the city could donate money to a lobbyist and was told by city attorney Shala McKenzie Kudlac no but they could give the money to the Port. David Smith made a motion for the City to give $1,000 to the Port for the Oregon Way project and it passed 5-0 with Luhr abstaining. The council also directed city administrator Mike Murphy to write a letter of support for the project.

Councilor Hewitt offered a motion to pass the consent calendar which included approved Griff's OLCC application for off premises beer and wine sales and approving the OLCC renewals for the businesses in town selling alcohol and it passed.

The council fresh from a convincing victory for the police levy local option tax took the first step in hiring a new police chief. They discussed whether to hire a full time or part time chief with all but Caroline Clancy in favor of a full time police chief. One point that swayed the council is they felt a part time chief would only have time for office work and they want the new police chief out patrolling part time as well and being visible. Mike Murphy was instructed to begin advertising for a full time police chief but be open minded if they do find a person who wants the job but not full time. The council recently passed the City's 2009-10 budget and included funds for a full time police chief.

Mike Murphy reminded one and all about the upcoming household hazardous waste clean up days in Port Orford. They will be held on Friday and Saturday, June 19 and 20, from 11:00am to 2:00pm tentatively set to be held on Idaho Street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth. June 19 date is for businesses only and June 20 is for households and is free to homeowners. You may bring in all manners of hazardous waste from old paint, gasoline and diesel fuel, batteries, fluorescent lights and pesticides. There will also be a mercury thermometer exchange where you bring in your old mercury thermometer and you will be given a brand new digital thermometer. Mark your calendars as these household hazardous waste clean up days occur infrequently.

Election Wrap Up By Evan Kramer

The votes are counted and in North Curry County the results were eagerly anticipated.

Port Orford residents overwhelmingly approved passage of the local option police tax levy by a 61.15% to 38.95% margin with 266 yes votes and 169 no votes. This is almost a complete reversal of the results from the November 2008 police levy election when it was defeated by a 61-39% margin. This means there will be a police department in Port Orford’s future for the next five years though the levy was for $10,000 less than the current one which expires on June 30, 2009.

The Port Orford Rural Fire District board had three contested races including one very unusual one. Ken Fliszar beat Dave Bassett for Position #2 by a vote of 135 to 123 or 51.33% to 46.77%. Brice Wagner beat Dennis Woodard for Position #4 by a margin of 55.26% to 40.13% with Wagner garnering the most votes of any candidate with 168 votes to Woodard’s 122. In Position #3 incumbent board member Ed Tennant was defeated by a write-in campaign by local rancher Joe Marsh. The percentage going to the write-ins was 57.79% or 167 votes while Tennant gathered 40.13% or 122 votes. Marsh’s name wasn’t on the ballot but he is a lifetime resident of the Elk River community and very well known. It is very unusual for a write-in candidate to win a race but it happened in Port Orford. As of Tuesday, May 26 the results for this write-in election winner are still unofficial according to Connie Higgins with the County Elections Department. The Elections Division will convene the write-in board on Wednesday, May 27, and certify the results and make them official soon.

The Port Orford Rural Fire District Board will consist of Edna Auld, Marie Van Aart, Ken Fliszar, Brice Wagner and Joe Marsh after July 1 of this year.

SOLV Project

A big ‘thank you’ to the volunteers that helped the Port Orford Parks Commission Brush and Weed Removal Event at Pinehurst & Old Mill Pond on Saturday, May 16th! The weather was perfect for the 10 volunteers as they enjoyed water and snacks courtesy of Ray’s Food Place. Each volunteer received a free tote bag and a new pair of gloves provided by SOLV for helping out at the event. Everyone worked hard and fortunately there were only sore muscles and few minor scratches. Volunteers were Austin Benavidez, Jim Billings, Caroline Clancy, Ken Gibson, Briana Goodwin, Grover Hatcher, Ken Hughes, Mark Murray, John Sovereign and Julie Sholes.

And here’s to those that worked behind the scenes to make this event a success: Ray’s Food Place for donating water and snacks, Curry Transfer and Recycling for waiving disposal fees, Allan Wagner for providing the City’s dump truck, Mark Murray and Austin Benavidez for ensuring the donated refreshments were available, and Briana Goodwin for providing First Aid expertise.

The Parks will be receiving 10 donated Rhododendrons from Mike Carpenter and possibly some Azaleas from another donor in the future to add in between the established mature trees on the west end of the pond next to the parking lot.

2009 Grand Marshal

It is with delight and pleasure we name Ms. Maralyn Moore our Grand Marshal for 2009.

Maralyn is the widow of John Quick. John is a direct descendant of William Tichenor, founding father of Port Orford and the author of Fool's Hill.

Maralyn bestowed a generous gift to this community when she gave her kind permission for our own Theatre 101 to adapt John's book into a play.

John and Maralyn were married almost twenty years when he died in 2001. Fool's Hill is a wonderful, thought provoking peek into Port Orford's recent past. Maralyn's gracious gesture enables us to bring another dimension to this fascinating look backwards. It's a chance to share this historical legacy with our entire community. Indeed, it is difficult for this writer to put into words the incredible journey and relationships that have occurred in the months of research and preparation for this play. One can only imagine the memories that may surface at the end of each performance for those who have lived here most of their lives. It's a rare opportunity for old and young alike to share in the continuing magic of this place called Port Orford.

Maralyn Moore is an accomplished woman in her own right. A native of Vermont, she earned a B.A. from Colby College in Maine, and an MBA from the University of Denver. She is the owner of a business called CIP Information Service which serves three states.

Maralyn's leisure time is filled with such activities as squash, skiing, and bike riding, swimming and running in triathlons.

Maralyn calls Colorado home. She and John moved there in 1982. Her fondness for Port Orford was cultivated through her visits here with John when he came to perform a reading of Fool's Hill and again when she came to place his marker at Tichenor's Cemetery. Her deep connection has brought her back on two other occasions since John's death.

Now we will have the pleasure of her company once again as we honor her on this 2009 Jubilee.

Letter to the Editor,

Thank You Voters

To all the patrons of the Port Orford Rural Fire Protection District. I thank you for your consideration and votes in this

In sincere appreciation,

Brice Wagner

Time to Propose

The Curry County Commission on Children and Families (CCCCF) is pleased to announce the availability of Request for Proposal (RFP) packets. CCCCCF is looking for local community-based projects that will provide supports for families and children in Curry County. There are several categories or grant streams that will be under consideration. They include: Great Start (Children 0-8 and the children's family), Child Care and Development Funds (child care for 0-13 years and children with special needs up to 18 years), Children Youth & Families (Age 0-18 and their families), and Youth Investment (Age 13-18 non-delinquent youth who are chronically acting out or are victims of neglect), Healthy Start (children prenatal through five and their families), Family Preservation Services (for children and families designed to protect children from harm and help families at risk or in crisis), and Juvenile Crime Prevention (youth ages 10-17 clearly demonstrating at-risk behaviors).

The CCCCCF seeks applications to provide funding for programs that are based on best practices and are supported by the Curry County Coordinated Comprehensive Plan, the Juvenile Crime Prevention Plan and the State Plan for Federal Child Care and Development. This process is a public process wherein existing and new proposals are welcome.

Funded projects are to be conducted from July 2009 through June 2011.

Sealed RFP's must be returned to the CCCCCF office by noon, Wednesday, June 17. Late requests will not be accepted. Deliver or Mail To: Dr. Myrna Barber, Director, Curry County Commission on Children & Families, P.O. Box 746, 29805 Mary Street, Gold Beach, OR 97444.

CCCCF will hold a public meeting Wednesday, June 24 to announce funding recommendations to the Curry County Board of Commissioners for the 2009-2011 fiscal year. The Board will review and confirm funding recommendations on Monday, July 6.

KOA Wins Awards

"We did not win these awards, we earned these awards with hard work and lots of elbow grease" says owner, Max Meeks. The Bandon/Port Orford KOA, located 16 miles south of Bandon, has been notified by the KOA home office in Billings, Montana that they have received not only the President's Award (awarded for inspection totals), but also the coveted Founder's Award. The Founder's Award is based on customer satisfaction, and only two KOA's in Oregon received this award.

In addition to these two awards, they have been notified by Trailer Life (Good Sam Club) that they have received the "Best of the Best" award for placing in the top 300 of more than 12,000 campgrounds in the network.

"We have spent 23 years at this KOA building a facility that has resort amenities like wifi, pool, hot tub, and half acre playground, while keeping the campground atmosphere where families can enjoy s'mores around the campfire" says wife, Claudia Meeks. "We raised our own children on the campground, and they have met kids from all over the world. Our goal has been to add something each year to the park. Last summer the Big Dog concession stand (with char broiled burgers, fish and chips, and chowder) took residence at the park. Having food available at the park was an instant hit with campers and locals - it was a win/win for everybody involved".

Asked about plans for this year the response was "customer service is always our number one goal. Besides that we will be building two camping lodges."

Purely Voice

“Purely Voice” a seven member a cappella vocal ensemble from Gold Beach headline the first 2009 Mildred Hill Concert at Zion Lutheran Church in Port Orford, Sunday June 21 at 6:00pm. “Kammeroque Trio” of flute, oboe and harpsichord will open the program with a set of baroque masterpieces. $10 tickets available from Downtown Fun Zone, ConcertTickets@ZionLutheranPortOrford.org and at the door, with youth 18 and under free.

“Create In Me a Clean Heart, O God” from the program section of four songs of faith will be followed by four songs on Joy such as “You Are The New Day.” Following intermission, the sections are Comfort as in “I’m going Home,” Love as in “If I Loved You” from Carousel, and Story including “Who’ll Be A Witness.” The entire vocal program includes 18 songs with harmony, rhythm and memorable melody with no keyboard accompaniment.

Four of the group began singing together and added three more singers by acquaintance and informal audition, to achieve their high standard of performance. Mildred Hill Concerts is delighted to bring this group to Port Orford for a full blown concert. If you love vocal music, this concert is for you.

Donna Roselius and Suzanne Monks bring their years of accomplished performance on flute and oboe with harpsichord accompaniment to an opening set of baroque music from the likes of Telemann and Mozart. Donna for many years hosted the informal monthly kammeroque gatherings, with flute, recorder and strings, and other instruments. Now, the trio enters formal performance again to open this enticing concert.

Mildred Hill Concerts offers four performances each year to fill the niche for somewhat classical repertoire not filled by Arts Council events or Theatre 101. These concerts are backed by a generous bequest from the Hill family in Mildred’s memory.

Alden Wayne Boice

Alden Wayne Boice, 81 was born in Bandon March 25, 1928 to Allen H. Boice and Carrie Guerin Boice, and died in Brookings May 22, 2009. Alden was the last of their twelve children. He joined five brothers and six sisters when he and his mother were brought home to Langlois.

Alden attended school in Langlois and when he was just 17 he quit high school to join the U. S. Marines in World War II. After spending two years in the Marine Corps, he returned to Langlois and received his diploma from Langlois High School. He worked in the logging industry for N.S.P. and also Griffey & Laird. With his brother Jerry Boice and Mort Strain they formed their own B.B.S. logging company.

He married Frances Cornoyer of Bandon on November 5, 1948. She preceded him in death in 1997. Their daughter, Trudy died in 1968.

He was always interested in boats and racing, and built his first wooden boat in the Boice barn in Langlois. He raced small boats and then hydroplanes winning many races including the Marathon from Gold Beach to Agness setting a record at the time.

His interest in boat building culminated in his building aluminum boats which he designed to be capable of running over the riffles of Rogue River at very high speeds, and in extremely shallow water. He worked with the Berkeley Jet Co. and perfected the Boice Built Boats using the Berkeley Jets. He built the "Klamath Queen" with a capacity for 72 passengers, which his brother Court piloted on the Klamath. Alden's favorite boat was the "Trudy D".

He designed the boats his brother Jerry used in Jerry's Jet Boat business on Rogue River. In 1972, Alden and Bill McNair bought Jerry's Jet Boat passenger business. In 1984 Alden sold out his interest to McNair and had a few years not knowing what to do. Then in 1988 he took a job with the U. S. Forest Service. They were building trails along the Rogue and they needed bridges built to span the creeks. Alden designed and built twelve bridges and worked with high school and college kids who learned a great deal from him.

When he finally quit the Forest Service, he and Frances would go south to the desert and spend winters there. One of his greatest thrills was to see the 'Blue Angels' perform and even to meet them personally.

Alden was always proud of his work and took pride in doing things right. His work ethic was beyond reproach, as was his honesty, self reliance and integrity. He was a true patriot and was proud of his family and his country.

He started working at Cedar Bend Golf Course and spent 18 years there as their greens keeper. On Dec. 5, 1998 he married Kathy Harrington and together they worked at the golf course.

He is survived by his wife Kathy; daughter Aldene McCaw of Lebanon; sons, Greg Boice and wife Maryann and Bill Boice and his wife Bobbie of Gold Beach; step-daughter Lisa Cox and her husband Tom Cox and two sons; grandsons, Rich Boice, Chris Boice, Jed Boice and Zack Boice; granddaughters, Nicole, Sheena, Sarah, and Savannah, and numerous great grand children.. Also surviving are sisters, Dora Austry of Gold Beach and Mary Capps of Bandon; and brother, Allen H. Boice now living in Brookings. Four brothers preceded him in death: Howard, Fred, Court, and Jerry and also four sisters: Edna Baker, Ada Campbell, Hilda Auer and Alma Deets.

Services will be held at 11:00am Wednesday, May 27 at Docia Sweet Hall on the Curry County Fairgrounds in Gold Beach. Pastor Doug Jamieson will officiate. Interment will follow at Rogue River Cemetery in Gold Beach. The family suggests memorial contributions be made to the Veterans Flags on 101 in care of Myrtle Grove Funeral Service-Bay Area, 2645 Woodland Dr., Coos Bay, Or 97420.

Services are under the direction of Myrtle Grove Funeral Service-Bay Area, 800-396-3158.

Letter to the Editor,

I would just like to thank you for your support in passing City of Port Orford Measure 08-63, to continue the funding of our Port Orford Police Department for our wonderful community. Like you, I was dismayed at the results of the November election. I am sincerely grateful for your commitment in funding Public Safety to our community and your confidence in your elected councilmen and councilwoman.

Respectfully,

David B. Smith
Councilor-Port Orford

Living History Skits

The Friends of Cape Blanco, Port Orford, announce a series of Living History skits for summer 2009. On State Parks Day, Saturday, June 6, the skit “Jane and Annie at Home” will be presented three times during open hours at Hughes Historic House, 10:00 am to 3:30 p.m. This presentation features Jane Hughes in her 70s in conversation with her daughter-in-law Annie Hughes in her 30s. Approximate times for the skit are 11:00 a.m. and 1:30 and 3:00 p.m.

During June, July, and August living history will be offered at Hughes House the second and fourth Wednesday of the month. The above skit will be presented on the second Wednesday; “Tea With Father Keveny” will be given each fourth Wednesday. This skit has Jane Hughes talking with Father Charles Keveny, a traveling priest of the Roman Catholic Church.

Hawthorne Development

The Hawthorne Family development adjacent to Battle Park is now construction. A contractor has been hired and major renovations have begun on the former Coast Candle Building which will become the Hawthorne Galley. The Shell Shack building is also set for major change and will be enlarged and remodeled into a restaurant. As for the Wheelhouse Restaurant here's a note Chris Hawthorne sent us about its future.

The Wheelhouse Bldg. is going to be demolished in June. If there are any components of the inside and outside of the building that anyone is interested in, contact Chris Hawthorne at 332-7635. Some items that are available include toilets, sinks, small hot water heaters, shelving, florescent light fixtures, windows and other items. Removal of all items by appointment only.

Letter to the Editor,

Gary Carter's well-done article on local gardeners was unintentionally misleading as he reported on the Kincaid vegetable garden. Since I was the one he interviewed, the article came off as if I was the one and only one making any effort toward our garden. Since Dave does the hard work of tilling, the back breaking seed-by-seed planting, and then keeps it all hoed, I barely deserve a mention. I water, pick, can and cook, but it is definitely a joint effort. Credit where credit is due...

Lee Kincaid

Letter to the Editor,

Thank you for voting to continue, at a lower rate, the police levy for the City of Port Orford. We can now reconstitute our police department and provide the kind of police protection that our citizens desire. Traffic enforcement on Highway 101, business and neighborhood patrols, emergency response coverage, coordination with fire and ambulance, our highly regarded reserve program, and other public safety services will continue and can even improve.

Sing Your Heart Out!

There are some folks at the Senior Center who would like to get a sing-a-long group going like they had years ago and they are looking for interested men and women to join them. You don't even have to have a great singing voice; they just want to have fun. The group meets on Tuesdays at 1:00pm at the Senior Center but you don't have to be senior or a member of the Center. Come and exercise your singing muscles! They are also looking for a couple of piano players to accompany their sing-a-longs so if that is your talent, please get in touch with Marcella Gupton at 332-0215 for more information.
